Let us show you how good baled hay can be

The best way to judge hay quality is to examine it in the barn this time of year. Here are some things you will notice about rolled bales:

1 The hay is bright and green — just like it was baled.
2 Leaves are sealed inside the bale — almost no leaf loss during handling.
3 Bales that have been rained on are still good — they shed the showers.
4 Rolled bales handle without waste — won't buckle, break or fall apart.
5 Rolled bales are easy to feed — rolled out, cut open or fed whole.

Let us show you why hay in rolled bales is winning blue ribbons for quality at leading shows. Your livestock needs the best.

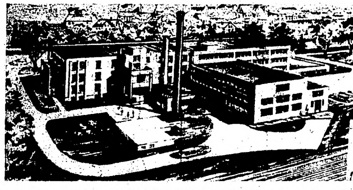
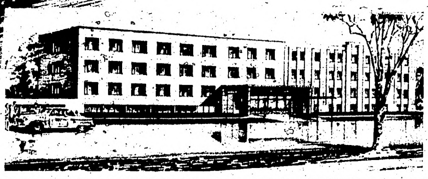
Your Help Is Needed for This Home-Stretch Drive If We Are to Have These Modern Hospital Facilities

REAR AND FRONT VIEWS OF ENLARGED NORTHWESTERN HOSPITAL AS NOW PLANNED



At left is the architect's sketch of the rear view of the proposed enlarged hospital, and below is the structure as it will appear from the front. The enlarged building will have a capacity of 110 beds and twenty bassinets, compared to the present 54 beds and 14 bassinets. Additional operating and therapy rooms and space required for additional equipment are also provided.



The estimated cost figure of $942,703 includes $54,000 for the remodeling of the old portion of the hospital. Also included in this total are $137,744 to provide built-in and other new equipment. The enlarged Northwestern hospital will give our community well equipped and completely modern facilities, adequate for our present needs. The Mercy hospital will be made available for other purposes. A centralized operation will be more economical and more efficient.

This is what we must do NOW to complete our program

ALL DETAILS MUST BE COMPLETE BY JULY 1st

In order to protect our federal grant of $419,716.35 we must be able by July 1st of this year to present to the government a satisfactory bid that is acceptable. We must give assurance that we have the dollars necessary to pay our share of the cost. That is why we must act now if we are to take advantage of the government grant.

HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION MUST APPROVE PROJECT

At the annual meeting of the Hospital Association to be held May 11th the 603 members will be given a complete report on the proposed improvement and will be asked to give to the Board of Trustees authority to proceed with the project. All interested citizens will be invited to attend the annual meeting.

IN TERMS OF DOLLARS

TOTAL COST	$942,703.00
FEDERAL GRANT	$419,716.35
LOCAL COST	$522,986.65
For which we have available
CASH AND LIQUID ASSETS	$77,002.10
CITY FUND	$200,000.00
PLEDGES	$148,055.00
TOTAL	$425,057.10

SPECIAL CITY ELECTION WILL BE NEEDED

Thief River Falls citizens have already authorized an appropriation of $200,000 to the hospital to be paid from Municipal Dispensary profits. It has been found however that these certificates of indebtedness would have a low negotiable value. In order that this contribution may be available without a substantial discount loss it will be necessary to issue bonds, backed by the full faith and credit of the city. A special election for this purpose will be asked, providing the program is approved at the annual meeting of the members.

BIDS TO BE CALLED FOR — OPENED JUNE 25

With the approval of the members of the Association at the annual meeting, and subject to the approval of the voters of the city on the proposed bond issue, the Trustees will call for bids, the letting to be held June 25. This will allow a few days for a study of the bids prior to the July 1 deadline.

We Must Raise an Additional $97,929.55 In Cash or Pledges

Indian Axe

Here and there stumps of Western red cedar still stand above Pacific Northwest waterways, keeping marks made by the primitive axes of Indian canoe makers and house builders. Yet younger surviving stumps bear the signs of the white man's broadax, which held its own in the 1850s, when shore timber was being felled around Puget Sound and along the Columbia to provide lumber, piling and poles for California's gold-seeking Argonauts.

Quite A Shock

Since long before the homesick island boy of "I Wanna Go Back to My Little Grass Shack" wailed that he longed for his fish and poi, the combination has been a favorite Hawaiian dish. But the headline "Puueo Poi and Kimura Fish Win" gave readers of a Hawaii island paper a slight start recently. The explanation: Softball teams sponsored by a poi shop and a fish market were the winners in league play opening games at Hilo.

Rayon Sheer

Rayon sheer is one of the really dressy fabrics for the season, especially when it's teamed with rayon taffeta trimming. Choose it in black and it will go well into early Fall days, as your best "going out" dress.

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 2, city

There was a party at the Smiley Hall last Friday evening. It was a Newcomers party for the four new families that have purchased farms in Smiley recently. The families honored were the Earl Lizakowski's, the Albert Mostrom's, the Harlan Knutsons and the Daniel Keefes. They were all introduced by the Community Club president, Ted Beiswenger, who also presented them with beautiful table lamps from the club. Music for the informal dancing was supplied by Ben Szymanski and his accordion and Bob Peterson with the drums. This affair was capably arranged by the Mmes. J. C. Lendobeja, Arnold Hammer, and J. W. Delicacy When Scarce

Although terrapin properly cooked is a delectable dish, its popularity at the turn of the century was probably due in part to scarcity. The harder it was to obtain, the greater the triumph scored by the hostess who could place it on the table.

WE HAVE SET MONDAY, MAY 11 AS OPENING DAY FOR DELIVERY OF MILK

Following are some of the answers to questions you now have in regard to the selling of milk:

1. During the spring and summer months milk will have to be delivered every day of the week, including Sunday. Receiving hours will be from 7 A. M. to 10 A. M. Cream will be received according to our schedule now in effect.
2. We have new milk cans which will be rented for 10 cents per month per can, each patron being responsible for all cans ordered until returned in good condition.
3. Transportation can be furnished at 30 cents per hundred pounds.
4. Milk should be properly cooled so as not to sour before delivery.
5. Those wanting milk trucked see Tom Fuller or Einar Berstad at the creamery.

PRODUCING BETTER MILK IS NOT HARD

Clean cows before milking. (Clipped flanks and udders make this job easier.)
Rinse pails and cans of dust accumulations. (Chlorine solution is a big aid.)
Milk in a clean barn. (Feed dusty, smelly feeds after milking.)
Milk with clean hands. (Wet-hand milking spells trouble.)
Strain through cotton strainer pads. (Use these once: then throw away.)
Keep in room free from dust and odors. (Rinse utensils at once.)
Always cool new before adding to old. (Keep can lids on tight).
Keep out of moldy and musty cellars and caves. (Holding in cool running water is ideal.)
Wash all utensils with care. Use brushes and washing powder. Sterilize with scalding water or chlorine solution. (Do not use soap or wash rags.)

ALL MILK IS CLEAN WHEN BOSSY HANDS IT OVER—Let's All try to keep it that way!

CHALLENGE TO THE INDUSTRY
-the new GMC 400-27 that outpowers and outclasses its field
GMC's new 18,000 GVW hauler not only dwarfs trucks of 16,000 and 17,000 GVW, but overshadows—and underprices—those rated at 19,000.
In fact, the GMC 400-27 is designed to outhaul any truck up to 19,500 GVW.
Its new engine of progressive design is stripped of excess weight, yet built stronger to absorb the stress of really high compression. It gives you brisker response, more power and mileage from regular gas.
It includes, as standard equipment, many features that are optional at extra cost on other trucks.
As a tractor—or as a truck—it can increase your hauling ability, give you impressively better equipment—and save you both purchase and operating money to boot.
130 GROSS HORSEPOWER—on moneysaving single carburetion. Valve-in-head engine, 270 cubic inch displacement, 7.5 to 1 compression ratio.
2-SPEED ELECTRIC SHIFT REAR AXLE — 15,000 pounds capacity, is coupled with a 4-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission, putting 8 forward speeds at the driver's command. (Single-speed axle available at a saving; 5-speed transmission optional at extra cost.)
30,000 GCW—137" or 149" wheelbase in tractors; 161", 179" or 197" wheelbase in trucks (9- and 12-foot platform or stake bodies optional).

Crow Hater Kills 50,000 With Bombs

GREENVILLE, Texas — With one mighty blast, Joe Browder, who says he hates crows more than anything, killed 50,000 of them recently in the Brazos River bottoms. The blast was created with dynamite fashioned into bombs.

Mr. Browder, who lives in Greenville, fashioned 300 bombs from 150 pounds of dynamite and shards from a metal foundry. He set off the bombs and the crows died or fell wounded on the ground. Then he and his confederates charged into them with clubs and killed the wounded.

The people of the community of Asa, Texas, who help in the extermination were outnumbered at least 1,000 to 1 by crows.

February is the beginning of the mating season for crows. Mr. Browder, Game Warden Hubert Brooks, H. V. Stein of Dallas, Texas, and Bill Lawrence of Lake Texoma took advantage of that fact. They tied the bombs in the trees in the river bottoms during the day.

When the crows congregated in the trees that night, Mr. Browder set off the bombs simultaneously with eight storage batteries.

It was his 23 crow-bombing mission.

Just from looking at the number of crows on the ground on the seven acres, we figure there must have been at least 50,000 killed, Game Warden Brooks estimated.

To keep your silver always sparkling, rinse an old, soft bath towel in a solution of silver polish slightly diluted with water. Dry, shake out excess powder, then use the towel exclusively for drying your silver each time it is washed. The damp cutlery wets the towel sufficiently to make the powder do a good job of cleaning and polishing.

Instructs Architect to Start on Working Plans for Court House

The Pennington county board at its May session Tuesday took action on several matters designed to bring the proposed new court house closer to reality.

The board instructed M. O. Foss & Co. of Moorhead to proceed with the preparation of working plans for the structure. It also was agreed to set the date of Tuesday, June 2, for the sale of $250,000 bonds of the total of $295,000 authorized by voters of the county earlier in the year.

At the same time, the board voted to resum negotiations with the city council on the matter of exchanging the present court house site for a site in Block 38, now occupied by the west side park.

Present at the meeting were road delegations from Star, River Falls and Deer Park townships and the Goodridge school district. The requests were referred to county engineer Joseph Seidel.

J. A. (Si) Poppler Succumbs to Heart Attack at Bemidji

Dies of Over-exertion Monday While Fighting Fire at Summer Cottage

J. A. (Si) Poppler, for a third of a century prominent in business circles in Grand Forks until his retirement in 1948, died from a heart attack while fighting a fire at his Lake Bemidji summer home Monday. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Poppler established the Poppler Piano and Furniture Co. in Thief River Falls in 1940, and continued as proprietor until his death.

Funeral services for Mr. Poppler will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Episcopal church in Crookston, with Rev. Kenneth Johnson of Crookston and Rev. Homer Harrington of Grand Forks officiating. Cremation is scheduled in Minneapolis Friday.

Mr. Poppler had been alone at the cottage in Bemidji for two weks, preparing it for summer occupancy.

The fire apparently started within the cottage around 10:30 a. m., for when three Bemidji firemen reached the scene shortly thereafter, they found Mr. Poppler dead just outside the house, still clutching a garden hose with which he had sought to pour water on the blaze.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lorraine Kohler of Crookston, and a son by a former marriage, Phillip E. Poppler, who is practicing law in Long Beach, Calif.

Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Don Lester and Mrs. Bart Comstock, both of Detroit, Mich., and three grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of the son from California.

After selling the Poppler Piano & Furniture Co. in Grand Forks five yars ago, Mr. Poppler moved to Crookston, but spent his summers at his lake cottage, where he could enjoy his hobbies, including fishing and hunting.

When the Bemidji fire chief, C. O. (Pete) Johnson, and two Bemidji firemen arrived at the Poppler cottage Monday, the fire had burned through an inside partition and caused other damage to the structure.

Mr. Poppler apparently had suffered no burns, for his body was well beyond the range of the fire, but over-exertion in seeking to quench the blaze caused either a heart attack or som other stroke that resulted in instant death.

Forest rangers joined the three Bemidji firemen in putting out the fire, which was confined to a section of the interior and did its greatest damage to the partition. It was not immediately apparent what caused the blaze.

Born on a farm near Perham, Minn., March 11, 1887, he was christened Josiah Almer Poppler, but throughout this region and to his friends elsewhere he was known as "Si."

Trunk Route Load Limits Are Eased

Limit of Six Tons Per Axle Set in Most Cases

Easing of posted load restrictions on many trunk highways in this district from four and five tons per axle to six tons per axle, effective Tuesday, May 5, was announced Friday by Lee R. Boyd of Crookston, district highway maintenance engineer.

The higher limits apply to the following trunk routes out of Thief River Falls: No. 1, from east Pennington county line to Warren; No. 59 from Erskine to Thief River Falls; No. 32 from Thief River Falls to Greenbush and from Fertile to the junction with No 2.

The board will meet shortly to elect officers for the coming year. The date for the 1953 fund drive was set for the first week in October, instead of the latter part of the month as was formerly the case.

An invitation has been extended to the Rotarians and their wives and to the husbands or a friend of the members to be guests at this meeting. Council Sets Friday, May 15, as Date of Hospital Bond Election

Voters to Reveal Views on Matter of Issuing $200,000 Hospital Bonds

Meeting in special session Friday evening, the city council set Friday, May 15, as the date of a special election at which Thief River Falls voters will be asked to register their attitude toward the proposed issuance of up to $200,000 in bonds to assist in qualifying for a $419,716 federal grant toward construction of an addition to Northwestern Hospital.

At a similar election a year or more ago, voters of the city had authorized the issuance of up to $200,000 in certificates based on the earnings of the municipal liquor dispensary. It was found impossible, however, to market the certificates on a satisfactory basis.

The council thereupon, at the request of the hospital board decided to seek approval of a bond issue in order to make the funds available before July 1, which has been fixed as the deadline for qualifying for the federal grant. The bonds would be retired from earnings of the liquor dispensary fund over a period of years.

The council had been empowered to issue bonds for hospital purposes under provisions of a special law, Chapter [illegible], passed by the state legislature at its recent session.

The question to be voted on May 15 is phrased in these words: "Shall the city of Thief River Falls issue its negotiable coupon bonds in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $200,000 for the purpose of constructing, equipping and maintenance of a community hospital, provided that the principal thereof shall be payable from profits in the liquor dispensary fund, and in the event of any deficiency in the moneys available for such payment, such deficiency shall be paid from the proceeds of a tax levied for that purpose?"

The urgency of the matter is outlined in several articles by hospital representatives elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

FAMILY PHOTOGRAPH

By Bessie Heck

I SUPPOSE the reason Mom let the six of us eat early that evening was so we'd feel good inside and give the photographer less trouble. She didn't eat with us, said she'd wait and eat with Dad afterwards.

We kids had come to accept this getting scrubbed and polished as sort of a Thursday evening ritual. For every Thursday evening, ever since Mom hit the telephone jackpot and won the coupon for a free family group photograph, she'd seen to it that we got dressed up for that purpose. Thursdays were the only evenings the studio was open. She made sure the bathroom was clear early so Dad wouldn't have any excuse for not getting ready as soon as he got in—if indeed he'd ever get in in time.

Mom looked swell in her black suit and white blouse with the lace collar. She smiled on us and tried to keep us in a good humor, and she looked at the mantel clock real often. Alice, the youngest, ran her fingers through her blond curls and pulled her blue ribbon out.

"Oh, Alice," Mom begged. "Please stay pretty." She went over and recombed Alice's hair.

"How much longer do we have to do this?" Alice demanded, pouting.

"This is the last time, darling," Mom said. "We just have to get that picture this time. The coupon expires today."

"Wouldn't you know Daddy would have to go out of town today?" Joyce griped.

"Now, Joyce," Mom said pleasantly, "your father has to make a living for us, you know. He'll make it," Mom continued. "He left town two hours early this morning just to make sure he'd get back in time."

"You know the lady at the studio said if we didn't get there by six-fifteen we didn't need to come," David said.

"Yes, I know," Mom agreed, looking at the clock. Five-thirty came, five-forty, five-forty-five, but not Dad. Every five minutes by that clock seemed like an hour to me. We lived so far out that we'd need nearly fifteen minutes to drive down town.

Mom got so fidgity that she twisted her lace handkerchief. I couldn't ever remember seeing her do a thing like that.

I picked up the desk calendar and began idly counting. For thirteen Thursday evenings straight we'd had to bathe and dress and sit here and twiddle our thumbs. My tongue felt sort of funny and I guess I stuck it out to get some air because Alice yelled, "Mother, make George stop making faces!" Mom had to quiet us down after that. Then she recombed my cowlick and set my Boy Scout pin at a angle.

Mom looked at the clock again. "Oh dear," she sighed, clinching her fists. "He promised me faithfully he'd be here in plenty of time. Something must have happened."

At five-fifty-five she put her hat on the piano and told Alice she could change to her blue jeans and go ride her bike. I never saw a seven year old girl get around quite as fast as Alice did. She was gone like greased lightning. I reckon the rest of us were like Mom: too disappointed to stir.

At exactly five-fifty-nine—I happened to be looking at the clock—Dad bounded in.

"Hurry!" he shouted. "We've barely got time to make it."

We all jumped and simply could not believe our eyes. Dad had washed up at the plant, gone by the department store and dressed himself up in new clothes from head to foot.

"You can depend on me to do a thing right if I do it at all, Jane," he said to Mom. "How do I look?" He clicked his heels and spun around. "I decided I'd do you up proud with our first family group picture." He paused and seemed to really see Mom for the first time. She hadn't said a word. "What's the matter?" he asked. "Why don't we get going?"

I could have told him why: Alice was missing!

Eagles to Receive Salute on Setting up Mothers Day

Women of Thief River Falls auxiliary No. 2368, Fraternal Order of Eagles, have been waging an intensive phone campaign to assure a large listening audience for a nation-wide radio tribute to the Eagles by Ted Malone of the American Broadcasting Company. Malone's broadcast will be heard on station KTRF at 12:30 p. m. Sunday, May 10, according to auxiliary secretary Gladys OdeGaard.

The broadcast will pay tribute to the Eagles for their part in bringing about the national observance of Mother's Day. Mrs. Odegaard stated that the first recorded plea for such a day was made by a former Grand Worthy President of the Eagles, Professor Frank Hering. He made the request at an Eagle Memorial Service in Indianapolis, Indiana on February 7, 1904. Ten years later, the Congress officially designated the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Vorachek spent the weekend in Minneapolis. They visited with their daughter, Kathryn, and also attended open house at the St. Paul campus, known as Kitchi Geshig, at the University of Minnesota.

Hospital Needs Outlined by Judge Paul A. Lundgren

Calls Attention in Radio Talk to Need for Quick Action to Get Fund Grant

In a radio talk Sunday over KTRF, Judge Paul A. Lungren, chairman of the building committee for Northwestern Hospital, explained the necessity for action now in order to make the federal grant of $419,716.35 available to this community for the building of the new Northwestern Hospital Addition. Judge Lundgren stated that a new policy under the Hill-Burton hospital construction act requires that applicants for funds must advertise for bids in the year the money is made available.

The money for the Northwestern Hospital will be available on July 1st of this year. Unless this community is prepared to let the construction contract by July 1, there is every likelihood that the $419,716.35 grant would be withdrawn from this area since there are other Minnesota communities who are in line for use of these funds.

Judge Lundgren pointed out that an additional $97,000 must be raised in order that this community can furnish its 55% allotment of local funds which must be used in matching the 45% contribution of the government under the Hill-Burton Act. He also emphasized the necessity of the community to vote in favor of the issue to be set before voters which will enable the city to issue $200,000 worth of bonds to serve as additional security for the municipal liquor store earnings certificates. This amount, plus construction pledges already made and paid, plus $97,000 in additional donated cash or pledges, will adequately meet the community's part in the building of the new hospital addition.

Judge Lundgren brought out the point very plainly that this is probably the last chance the community has to profit by the contribution of $419,716.35 on the part of the federal government. The community stands to lose this amount, and the construction of the hospital besides, if it does not make its share of funds available by July 1st, 1953. Such a loss would be a tragic failure on the part of the community in its responsibility to provide good hospital care in this area, Judge Lundgren said.

Oklee Man Named President of NRRV Editors at Bagley

Thirty Members Present; L. A. Rossman of Grand Rapids Is Main Speaker

Thirty newspaper men from this section of the state assembled in Bagley Saturday for the annual spring meeting of the Red River Valley unit of the Minnesota Editorial association.

In the election of officers, Omer Sundrud, editor of the Oklee Herald, was named to succeed Victor Johnson of Lake Bronson as president, and Wm. Adams of Roseau was elected secretary, succeeding Clarence Mattson of Thief River Falls.

Victor Johnson presided over the program which followed a noon dinner served in the Legion club rooms. Rep. W. E. Day, president of the Bagley Farmer-Independent Co., welcomed the group, following which W. E. Dahlquist reported briefly on the work of the recent legislative session.

The principal speaker was L. A. Rossman, publisher of the Grand Rapids Herald-Review, who discussed state and national affairs. He urged that rural newspapers pay more attention to news of national concern in view of the fact that two-thirds of taxes now being collected go into the federal treasury.

It was voted to invite mayors of the various communities to be guests at the fall meeting of the editorial group, the place and date of which will be announced later by the officers.

Elementary Grades in Arts Festival Friday

The Northrop school auditorium will be the scene of an elementary schools arts festival Friday afternoon, May 8, from 1 to 5 o'clock, and Friday evening from 7 to 9:30.

Miss Godelyn Troumbly, art instructor, and Frank Summerside, music instructor, are in charge of arrangements for the festival, which, by means of a program, demonstrations and exhibits, offers parents an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the work being done in the fine arts in the grade schools.

During the afternoon, groups representing the various grades from the kindergarten thru the sixth will demonstrate the various stages of instruction thru which they pass.

In demonstrations under the heading "Art in Action," young artists in the kindergarten will show their proficiency at making a puppet, and continuing on into the higher grades where creative experimentation and individual work in media variations will be shown.

The afternoon program will close with an exhibit browse with the pupils as hosts.

A musical program will be presented in the evening, the numbers including a Knox string ensemble, songs by an all-fifth grade choral group, a Washington string ensemble and songs by a choral group representing all of the sixth grade classes.

An inspection of exhibits will conclude the program.

County to Get $209,722 Road Funds in 1953

Commr. M. J. Hoffmann Reveals Allotments of $117,000 to Pennington

Minnesota counties will have a record-breaking total of approximately $37,222,800 for county and local road purposes during the coming year, of which Pennington will get $209,722, the state highway department announced this week. Marshall county will get $403,575 and Red Lake county $174,863.

This improved outlook, which marks a boost of more than $4,000,000 over last year's county road funds, was made public this week by two concurrent announcements:

The state board of allotments for highway funds, consisting of State Auditor Stafford King, chairman; State Treasurer Val Bjornson and State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann, announced the distribution among the 87 counties of $14,010,000 representing the counties' 1/3 share of available and anticipated state gas tax revenue. This is a $1,000,000 boost over last year's previous record sum.

State Highway Commissioner Hoffmann announced the allocation of an additional $477,000 in federal aid secondary funds to the counties, bringing the total of Minnesota's share of federal aid funds turned over to the counties for 1953 County-FAS matching projects to a new high mark of $4,477,000. This, matched with local funds, will finance nearly $9,000,000 of county road improvements.

In addition to the $18,487,000 which the counties will be eligible to receive from these "outside aid" sources, the state's county auditors report that the counties themselves are levying road and bridge levies which should produce revenue of approximately $18,735,000 as compared to $16,135,000 levied last year. Thus the new funds available for county road work (and, subject to county board action, assistance in township road projects) was increased from $33,145,000 in 1952 to $37,222,000.

Allotments of state funds to Pennington county include $12,100 for state aid roads, $95,594 for county aid roads; and special allotments of federal aid secondary funds of $7,500 for grading of State Aid Road No. 2 south from Thief River Falls to SAR 1; and $2,500 for graveling ten miles on SAR 1 east and west of River Valley.

Also allotted to this county is $29,500 of federal aid secondary funds, making a total of $137,194 in outside aids available to the county. Additional money in the amount of $72,528 will be supplied by the county tax levy for road and bridge purposes, making a total of $209,722 available for road purposes in Pennington county.

Employees' Rights

A new kind of precedent may have been set when 150 employees of a talc company in Gouverneur, N.Y., got a contract granting them not only a wage increase and two additional paid holidays a year, but also exclusive hunting and fishing rights on the company's 2,000-acre game preserve in the Adirondacks.

4-H Club Members Invited to Write Safety Slogans

Young People Enrolled in Safety Project Are Eligible to Compete

A safety slogan contest which will make 4-H members and parents more conscious of the need to prevent accidents will again be conducted among Pennington county 4-H clubs this year, announces County Agent Raymond Mitteness.

Accident hazards on farms have increased in Minnesota with the greater use of power machinery and home accidents are more frequent than they should be. About 40 per cent of all fatal accidents in Minnesota occur in the home and about 40 per cent of all occupational fatal accidents occur on farms.

The contest is open to all 4-H members 14 to 21 years of age who are enrolled in the safety activity. Each member may submit from one to three slogans. All slogans must be in the county extension office before June 15.

The slogans should not contain more than 10 words and should apply to some phase of farm and home, fire or water safety, but preferably to a general phase of safety work. Slogans must be original with the writer and must carry a "punch" which will create interest in safety work and result in action. For example, last year's prize wining slogan in safety work in the state was "Practice safety, use good sense, prevent those accidents." The slogan "Apply the brain, not the bandage" won second place.

The county winner will receive an achievement certificate and will be entered in state competition. A trip to the National Safety Congress in Chicago in October will be awarded to the state safety slogan winner. The runner-up in the state will receive a trip to the 1953 Minnesota State Fair, third place winner a savings bond.

Elks Host to Nearly 1,000 Young People at Youth Day Festival

Thief River Falls Elks, and many teen-agers too, acclaimed as a genuine success the first annual May Day tribute by the Elks lodge to the youth of the community.

The Elks club rooms, turned over to the young people Friday evening for a dance and short program, were packed nearly to capacity by approximately 400 teen-agers, who consumed 800 hot dogs and 400 bottles of milk supplied by the lodge, as well as countless bottles of soft drinks. Members of the B.P.O. Does were in charge of the kitchen.

At the same time, nearly 500 children enjoyed free roller skating at the arena as guests of the lodge.

In a ceremony in the Elks club rooms, broadcast over KTRF at 9 o'clock Friday, Mayor Harry E. Simons turned over a key as a symbol of the mayor's office to Oliver Swanson, Lincoln high school student, who was authorized to rule the city on Youth Day.

Municipal Judge H. O. Chommie turned over his gavel to Roger Dorn, while Police Chief Ken Judy and Fire Chief Roy Langevin handed badges to their counterparts, respectively Larry Gilbertson and Mike Hajostek.

R. S. Eldevik, exalted ruler of the Elks, officially proclaimed that Miss Darlene Lee was to reign as Queen of the May, and he presented her with an attractive corsage.

The program opened with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" by the assemblage, led by Walter Ekeren and accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ekeren. Walt Jung, chairman of arrangements for Youth Day, spoke briefly in explanation of the purpose of the event. Arthur A. Johnson gave a short address on the theme of Americanism, following which the program closed with the singing of "America." Dancing then was resumed, continuing until 11:30 p. m.

As an added feature of the Youth Day observance, a group of 24 students in the speech classes of Miss Patricia Hoffman in Lincoln high school took over the announcing duties at Radio Station KTRF Saturday between the hours of 7:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m., with most of the students working in half-hour shifts. Arrangements were made by Don Olson, station manager.

Was out to Edgar Naplin's farm in Polk Centre township last Wednesday and planted the wheat variety trial plots. We put in seven varieties of spring wheat and two kinds of durum. This year we also put on some fertilizer strips to see the effect of different kinds of fertilizer at different rates of application. We used 6-21-12, 8-32-0, and 0-47-0. They were broadcast at the rates of 75, 150, 300 and 500 pounds per acre. It will be interesting to watch the response of these applications as the wheat grows during the summer. Later in the summer a tour will be held, taking in this plot and also the oats and flax variety plot which will be located on the Ed Geving farm just south of Goodridge.

More Trees Needed

I read an item yesterday where one of our neighboring counties had just completed planting 16,000 trees in farmstead shelter belts. Seems to me that we could use a lot more trees in Pennington county than have been planted the last few years. Trees are available through the state nurseries at a very little cost and next year a tree planter will be available in Pennington County. Ground for next year's planting should be summer fallowed this summer to conserve moisture and to kill all weeds and grasses that would compete with these young trees.

Starting Vegetables

It will soon be time to be setting out cabbage, cauliflower, head lettuce, and onion transplants in order to get these plants off to a good start use a starter solution. This can be made by dissolving ⅓ cup of any complete fertilizer such as 10-10-10 or 8-16-16 in a gallon of water. Use ½ cup of this solution for each plant at planting time. This type of fertilizer could also be used in addition to well rotted barnyard manure to fertilize the rest of the garden.

Shortage Of Hay

It seems to be quite a shortage of hay in the county this spring. Now is the time to plan next winter's feed supply. Since common grasses and legumes grown here do not produce a crop until the second year they will not help for next winter. However, a good crop of oats cut at the dough stage will make fairly satisfactory hay. Millet can be used and you might consider planting a few acres of corn for silage. This, of course will supplement or replace part of the hay required. Corn is a heavy feeder and therefore should be put on the richest land or fertilized pretty liberally. A complete fertilizer such at 6-24-12 would be very good for corn. This, of course, should be applied in bands along the corn rows. This could be used at about 150 pounds per acre. To produce a good quality silage use a corn variety that is going to develop good ears. This will make it a much better quality. To make the best feed the corn should be cut in the dough stage while the stocks and leaves are still green. Fertilizer not only will help produce higher yields but will also speed up the maturity of this corn. Temporary silos can be used to store this silage in. Many kinds are satisfactory if they are used correctly. They are easy to make and the cost is low.

Guarded Secrets

Everest's secrets were long guarded by two of earth's most mysterious lands, Tibet and Nepal. Ascetic Buddhist lamas who rule Tibet refused permission to climb their Chomo Lungma until 1920. The enlightened Nepal government granted permission in 1951 for Westerners to have their first look at the south face from the ground.

Mastitis Control Proves Effective

Disease of Dairy Cows Responds to Treatment

Tests at the University of Minnesota have proven the effectiveness of milk removal as a method of treating milk cases of mastitis in dairy cows, according to information received from the University researchers by County Agent Raymond Mitteness.

Milk cases can often be cleared up by a treatment which starts with removing all milk from infected quarters as soon as the disease is detected. This should be followed an hour later by removal again of all or part of the milk. Repeat this process at two to three-hour intervals. If, after six to eight hours, the disease is not cleared up, call a veterinarian immediately.

This treatment will do much toward eliminating the disease as patent medicines or remedies, according to Dr. I. A. Schipper, dairy research fellow at the University.

He reports that work at the University has shown that in 19 out of 20 cases a cow treated in this manner will be back in production within a week, providing the procedure is started early enough.

Before removing the milk, stimulate the cow for let-down by washing her udder in warm water and massaging it.

When in doubt, call a veterinarian.

Additional information on mastitis is contained in a new University of Minnesota publication written by Dr. Schipper. It's Extension Folder 175, "Don't Gamble with Mastitis." Copies may be obtained from the county agent or the Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

The Veteran asks:

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: My daughter and I are receiving VA Compensation payments because of the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. My daughter is past 18 years of age, but she is attending a school approved by VA. Will the compensation payments go on during her summer vacation? She intends to continue school in the fall.

A: Yes the payments may continue throughout the summer, so long as your daughter resumes her studies after the vacation period has ended.

Q: My wife and I are both World War II veterans. Is it possible for us to combine our GI loan benefits to buy a house?

A: Yes. However the total amount that VA will guarantee is 60 percent of the loan. Also, the maximum guaranty may not exceed $15,000—which represents the combined maximum guarantees you and your wife would be entitled to individually.

Q: I am a paralyzed veteran eligible for a $10,000 VA grant for the construction of a "wheelchair home." Do I have to buy plans and specifications for the house?

A: No. These may be furnished without cost to veterans eligible for the VA grant but they must meet the approval of VA.

Q: I am a disabled World War II veteran training under Public Law 16. I suffered an injury in training that has aggravated the disability for which I draw VA compensation. Is it possible to have my compensation rate increased, because of it?

A: Yes, but VA of course would have to adjudicate your new claim for increased compensation.

South St. Paul Livestock Market Report—2:00 P. M. Monday Slaughter Cattle and Calves

The cattle run here showed a mild expansion over a week ago and 12 leading centers had 6,500 more than last Monday. Local offerings consisted principally of slaughter steers and heifers with steers predominating by a good-sized margin. Quality as a rule ran from Good to low-Choice, but there was a presentable showing of average-Choice and Prime. Not more than 20-25 percent of the marketings consisted of cows, stocker and feeder classes accounting for between 5 and 10 percent. The market on all slaughter classes had brisk action right from the start. Prices were fully steady with last week's close, instances on yearling steers showing a little strength and the same was true on Cutter and Utility cows. Vealers held steady and stockers and feeders sold on a fully steady basis.

Steers and Heifers: Topping the market at $23.25 was a load of mostly Prime 1,325 lb. steers. Loadlots Choice to Prime 1,147 and around 1,200 lb. weights cashed at $23.00, while several loads average to high Choice light and mediumweight steers cleared at $22.00-22.50. Bulk Good and Choice steers and yearlings moved at $19.00-21.50. There were Choice 905 lb. heifers at $21.00, bulk Good heifers selling at $18.50-20.00. Several loads high-Good and Choice heifers, as well as mixed yearlings brought $20.50. A spread of $16.50-18.00 took most Commercial steers and heifers, Utility grade going at $14.50-16.00. Buyers for a while acted rather indifferent toward steers scaling above 1,150 lbs., but luckily for the selling side there were not many weighty cattle here, so such kinds moved readily later in the day.

Cows: The recent rains making pasture available in this area was believed partly responsible for the further contraction in cow marketings. Reports from country areas are to the effect that cows can be seen grazing in almost all localities. There were lightweight young cows of Commercial grade here today at $16.50, bulk Utility and Commercial offerings going at $14.00-16.00. Canners and Cutters sold generally at $11.00-13.50.

Bulls: Occasionally some weighty bulls of Utility grade touched $17.00, most Cutter and Utility offerings selling at $14.50-16.00. Canner bulls made $12.00-14.00. Commercial and Good grades holding at $14.00-14.50.

Vealers and Calves: Prime vealers sold readily at $27.00, Good and Choice grades going at $21.00-26.00. Most Utility and Commercial offerings ranged from $14.00-20.00. Culls going at $10.00-13.00.

CONGRESSIONAL

Q—If both Hawaii and Alaska become states, who will decide the arrangement of the new stars on our flag?

A—Congress can claim original jurisdiction or originality in setting the location of the stars. In June, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a resolution saying "the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white, and that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." But Congress has never passed a law saying specifically where they should be. Two bills have been introduced for realignment of the stars into a pattern of 49.

Q—I know the House has passed a statehood bill for Hawaii, but is any action being initiated to bring Alaska into the union, too?

A—Four days of hearings on bills to give Alaska statehood have been scheduled to start April 14 before the Territories Subcommittee of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. In addition, the Committee plans to hold hearings in principal Alaskan cities in August.

Q—What kind of progress is President Eisenhower making with his legislative proposals?

A—By the end of the first quarter of 1953, the President had won Congressional approval of two of 19 specific legislative proposals. The 83rd Congress had taken no action at all, not even held hearings, on 11 Presidential recommendations for legislation.

Q—Are any representatives of church groups registered as lobbyists?

A—Officials of nearly every major denomination have Washington offices where they can keep close watch on legislative developments. Most of these groups have officials who have at some time registered under the Federal Regulation of Lobbying law.

Q—I understand President Eisenhower has submitted another reorganization plan to Congress. What does this one provide for?

A—April 2 the President sent Congress a plan to reorganize the Office of Defense Mobilization. It would merge the functions of the ODM and the National Security Resources Board and would give ODM permanent status. ODM would direct strategic materials stockpiling, a job now handled by the Departments of Defense and Interior. The ODM plan was the President's third. The first, already approved by Congress, was for a Department of Health, Education and Welfare; the second called for reorganization of the Department of Agriculture.

N. W. Hospital Has Arranged to Get Equipment Prices

Movable Equipment Will Cost Estimated $62,000, Administrator States

As a further step in bringing the new Northwestern Hospital addition to reality members of the building committee of the board of trustees Saturday engaged the services of the Aloe Company of Minnesota, and of Physicians and Hospitals Supply Corporation, both of Minneapolis, to prepare complete price lists of all except installed equipment for the new addition.

It is estimated, said Harold Peterson, administrator, that $62,000 must be set aside, out of the total proposed $932,000 expenditure, for these types of equipment and supplies. The lists will include all movable types of equipment such as furniture and laboratory instruments as well as certain expendable supplies. They will afford an opportunity for the board of trustees to receive bids on all such equipment.

The deadline date for the completion of the lists is May 18th, 1953. In the interests of full economy, usable items now in the hospital will reduce the list.

The completed lists must be in the hands of the Minnesota department of health prior to June 1st as part of completion of arrangements for Hill Burton hospital construction funds. The federal government will pay 45% of the cost of equipment and supplies.

For a long room containing blond wood furniture, the decorator directed that three walls should be painted white and that the fourth wall—the one farthest from the windows—should be coated in a soft red. Highway Traffic Toll Down in April

31 Are Killed in State, 11 Less than April, 1952

Minnesota safety leaders today hailed the first major reduction in traffic death for 1953, with the preliminary reports from the state highway department for April showing 31 fatalities, as compared with 42 in April of last year. This was the first month of this year with deaths under the comparable month of 1952. The total for the first four months stands at 137, while during the comparable period of last year there were 111 deaths.

More than half of the month's toll—16—were deaths resulting from motor vehicles leaving the road, overturning, colliding with trains at railroad grade crossings or striking bridges or fixed objects on the roadways. In the majority of these accidents, the chief cause was speed too great for conditions, resulting in inability to keep the vehicle under control. Two fatalities resulted from train-automobile collisions.

The two victims lived in the immediate vicinity of the accident scenes and should have been aware of the danger which existed at the grade crossings.

Seven lives were lost in collisions between motor vehicles, with one accident bringing death to an elderly couple who had slowed their car because their visibility was obstructed by smoke from a road-side fire. Their car was struck from behind by another motor vehicle.

Velveteen

Okay, Bossie

Every motorist is familiar with the automatic stop on the filling-station pump when the tank is full. This system has been reversed for Bossy, the cow. Alfred G. To Safeguard Ladder

To maintain the flexibility and the strength of a ladder and to prevent its splintering, rub boiled linseed oil into it once a week for several weeks. Each year, thereafter, repeat with one or two coats. If the surface of the ladder is rough, first rub it down with sandpaper. If it's smooth and in good condition, you can apply the oil with a cloth.

In the annual election of officers, Walter Olson, Fargo chief of police, was named president, succeeding Neil Deemer of Crookston.

Dr. Mitchell of Duluth, first vice president of the Minnesota State Elks association, conducted the meeting, at which committees reported on scholarships, social welfare, community welfare and Americanism.

Also present was Dr. N. J. Bagnalien of Bemidji, district deputy grand exalted ruler, who conferred with the officers on lodge affairs.

Cities represented at the conference included Duluth, Hibbing, Virginia, Bemidji, International Falls and Crookston.

Acts As a Seal

Pottery containing flowers usually needs water daily. To prevent "sweating" on the outside which leaves a white ring on woodwork underneath, give the pottery a coat or two of shellac when dry. The shellac acts as a seal—just as it does with wood.

Baby Blue Eyes

In the white race nearly all newborn babies have blue eyes because the pigment that causes other colors does not develop until some weeks after birth. However, negro babies, and other belonging to the dark races, have brown eyes, since the pigment is well developed when they are born.

Social Parasites

Cuckoos of the United States are conventional—they make their own nests in normal avian fashion. But some Old World cuckoo species are social parasites to the ultimate degree. The young cuckoos, uninvited guests that they are, force the rightful occupants of the home they share up onto their own backs and then oust them to perish on the ground.

Thieves Score 6 to 3 Win over Alvarado in Season Opener May 3

The Thieves, on a strong-armed and stout-hearted pitching performance by lefty Phil LeGault, made their debut in the Red River Valley baseball league by scoring a 6 to 3 win over the Alvarado Farmers in a game played on the Fair Grounds diamond on Sunday afternoon. The locals will make a jauht to Nielsville on Sunday for a game against Stan Brekke's club. Nielsville, in their opening game last Sunday defeated the Viking Oilers, 5 to 2.

Sunday's game here, except for the opening inning when pitchers LeGault and right-handed Orvis Bergman of Alvarado experienced difficulty with their control, was a hurling duel, with the locals' southpaw giving up but one earned run and collecting fourteen strikeouts, while Bergman was touched for three earned runs and had seven strikeouts.

The Farmers' Bob Iverson drew a walk to open Sunday's game, and then made a pilfer of second base; Don Bergman was also given a free ticket to first base, and on a wild pitch, the two runners, Iverson and Bergman, advanced to third and second. Gladdin Kollin bounced to Joey Poole who, after holding Iverson at third, tossed to firstbaseman Larry Perkins for the out, and when Iverson made a dash to the plate, Perkins' throw to Hoppe was in time for the Thieves' young catcher to make the tag for a double play. Webb Larson sent a ground ball to Gene Leslie, and when the locals' third sacker made a wide throw, Larson was safe and Don Bergman came across the plate with the game's first run. Gordy Harstad retired the side by grounding out, pitch to first.

In the Thieves' half of the first inning after Gerry Stephens had struck out, Wayne Gothe scratched a hit past second base. Gothe stole second base; Leslie lofted to the shortstop; Perkins sent a ground single into right field, scoring Gothe, and on the throw to the plate, Larry gained second base. Phil LeGault slapped a single into the right field, plating Perkins. Hoppe sent a towering fly ball to right field, and when Ardel Moen muffed the ball the Thieves had runner on first and third. Orv Bergman walked Sid Vraa, Joey Poole, Larry Gilbertson, and Stephens, forcing in three runs, before Gothe, on a bounce to third base, retired the side on a force play at second base.

The game moved along at a 5 to 1 score until the top of the 6th inning when with two men away, Web Larson, a southpaw swinger making connection with a curve-ball that hung inside, lined a homerun over the right-field fence. Harstad struck out, but gained first base when the ball got away from catcher Hoppe. A balk advanced Harstad to second, and an error on Torkelson's ground ball gave Harstad the chance to sprint home with Alvarado's third run.

Alvarado made a threat to break up the game in the 9th inning when, after Torkelson and pinch-hitter Bob Bergman had struck out, Lowell Larson drew a walk, and when Gothe and Stephens collided when making a try to garner Orv Bergman's looping fly into left field, the Farmers had runners on second and third. Iverson worked LeGault for a walk, loading the bases. The Thieves' southpaw snuffed out the rally by whiffing Don Bergman for the third out.

L. O' L. Women's Bowling Team Wins Title Again

The Land O'Lakes women's bowling team was crowned champion of the local league for the second year in a row at its annual banquet last Wednesday evening in the Eagles auditorium. Prowlers Open Campaign

The Prowlers, the defending district baseball champions, will tip the lid off their 1953 schedule on Thursday afternoon when coach Ralph Skjod takes his squad to Alvarado for a game. The locals, with a fine fielding team, ample hitting power, and able pitching, should win their opener. The Prowler coach has named LeRoy Aasland, the club's southpaw hurler, as the pitcher for Thursday's game.

While the Prowlers are favored to win the opener, and also take the game scheduled to be played at Oslo next Wednesday, Alvarado, with a fine baseball tradition, may prove troublesome. It's only a couple of years ago that Charley Pickens, the Alvarado coach, directed the Marshall county team to a berth in the state tournament, and this year's club may have some holdovers from that aggregation.

With such boys as Jack Hoppe, Sid Vraa, Joey Poole, Larry Gilbertson, and Duane Rafteseth, being members of the Thieves baseball team and playing in the Red River Valley league, there is the possibility that a measure of over-confidence may develop when they engage in high school ball. If Jack, Sid, Joey, Larry and Dude play their normal games, and if they don't try to be too impressive against their high school opponents, they'll get along all right.

The Prowlers play their first home game on May 15th, meeting the Oslo nine on the Fair Grounds at 4:15 p. m.

Bowlers Year-end Windup

Am Wysoski, president of the local bowling association, announced that the organization's annual meeting and banquet will be held on Tuesday evening, May 12th, at the Legion Club. A beef dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., following which the election of officers for the 1953-54 season will be held. The awarding of league championship trophies, individual bowling average emblems, and other merit badge awards will also be a feature of the banquet.

Am invites the city's bowlers to come early and stay late.

It Was Plummer's Day

Coach Quentin Jones' track Prowlers, who are having difficulty in picking up points, did not participate in the Beaver Relays on Friday, but this territory did get some reflected glory out of the meet when coach Howie Casmey's Plummer squad, scoring 63½ points, easily won the Class C honors. The extent of Plummer's supremacy can be determined by the fact that Nevis, the runner-up, had a total of 28 points.

Plummer's decisive win was sparked by Glen Hanson, who scored firsts in the hurdle events, setting a mark of 23.2 in the low hurdles; and Neil Craft, who racked up a first in the discus throw and a record-making 10.8 in the 100 yard dash. Other first place wins for Plummer were made in the sprint medley, the half-mile relay, and the mile relay.

The possibilities are that Plummer will be one of the "powers" in the district track meet at Grand Forks on May 15th, and it could well happen that Casmey's squad will succeed the Prowlers as district track champions.

Lake Trout

With Frank Steineke phoning in a report from Baudette that the ice moved out of Crow lake on Sunday, a number of the local anglers are busily completing the arrangements to pull out of town, and they will perhaps stake out claims to the best fishing water in Crow, was the Tommy Fuller group that left town on Tuesday morning.

Thursday will find the Tunberg-Mattson-Knight-Zitzow live-bait and heavy-sinker expedition leaving town, and they are expected to pitch camp in the vicinity of Indian rock at the east end of Crow. While the boys are oozing confidence about the size and numbers of trout they expect to catch, they have, according to inside information, protected their confidence by laying in ample supplies of bacon and canned meat. If the worst comes to the worst, they can always eat their bait.

Miscellany

Dick Lawrence, the former Bemidji high school all-state basketball star, and later a stand-out athlete at Minnesota and Bemidji State Teachers College, has signed a contract to be head basketball coach at Bagley high school. Dick, who is well and favorably known up here, had submitted an application to the local school officials. Our loss is Bagley's gain.—Keith Jorde, who learned the fundamentals of his golf game on the local course, is playing as the number two man on the University of Minnesota golf team. In his senior year in high school, Keith, playing out of Faribault, won the state high school golf title. We can hope that Keith can arrange his program so that he can be up here for the Invitational tournament the latter part of June.—Lyle Westrum, of the baseball playing Westrums of Clearbrook, is a member of the Birmingham Barons of the double A Southern Association. The Birmingham club is a member of the New York Yankee organization, and Lyle, who is the youngest brother of Wes Westrum the New York Giants' catcher, is rated as a top-notch prospect. Lyle is the number two catcher for the Barons, with Mayo Smith, the Birmingham manager, holding down the number one job. Lyle, after playing a year of semi-pro ball with the Fergus Falls team, oved up to the Joplin club of the Western League, being a teammate of Mickey Mantle on the latter club. The past two years, Lyle was in the army, and he just received his discharge a month or so ago.

Allan Williamson on UND Advisory Student Council

Complaints of students in the University of North Dakota School of Commerce are now channeled through an organization designed to take up these matters and straighten them out.

The dean's student advisory council has been established in the school to work with Dean Thomas J. Clifford. The council is composed of five students—all seniors — and meets regularly with the dean to discuss student and administrative problems.

Student members include Allan Williamson, Thief River Falls.

Greek Student at N. D. 'U' Speaks at Rotary Meeting

The Rotary club at its luncheon meeting Monday noon in the Elks club rooms heard an interesting discussion of conditions in Greece by Katie Ladopoulus, exchange student from that country under a Fullbright scholarship, who is currently studying sociology at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. Before coming to this country, she had been employed for three years by the Marshall Plan agency in her native land.

Nielsville, 5, at Viking, 2.

May 10th schedule:
Thief River Falls at Nielsville
Crookston at Alvarado
Warren-Argyle at Viking
Shelly at Red Lake Falls

Postponements erased two of the four games on last week's league-opening schedule of the Red River Valley baseball league. In the two games that were played, the Thieves, behind the three-hit pitching of Phil LeGault, defeated the Alvarado Farmers, 6 to 3; Nielsville, getting a well-pitched game from righthander Ray Abentroth, defeated Viking, 5 to 2. The Viking vs. Nielsville game had been originally scheduled for Nielsville, but when the week's rains made the latter field unplayable, Nielsville requested that the game be transferred to Viking.

A four-game slate is booked for Sunday, with the Thief River Falls vs. Nielsville game at Nielsville and the Crookston Pirates game at Alvarado being the two most attractive. Other games will find the Warren-Argyle Twins playing at Viking, and Shelly meeting Larry Turgeon's Lakers at Red Lake Falls.

Bower Birds

The bower-birds of Australia and New Guinea, allied to the birds of paradise, are named from bowers or arbors built by the males. First clearing an area for the purpose, the male builds a bower, usually with twigs. In front of the bower is his stage, where he arranges a variety of bright-colored objects—leaves, berries, and even paper and glass—to accent the limited splendor of his plumage. The female then builds her nest a few feet away, but the bower is maintained and refurbished daily until the young are old enough to visit it.

Prowler Baseball Club Opens Season at Alvarado May 7

Coach Skjod's Boys Will Play Opening Home Game Against Oslo May 15th

Coach Ralph Skjod's baseball Prowlrs, the 31st district champions, will open their 1953 campaign on Thursday afternoon, May 7, when, in a game slated to begin at 2:30 p. m., they meet coach Charley Pickens' nine at Alvarado. On May 13th the locals will travel to Oslo for a district game, and then, on Friday, May 15th, the Prowlers open their home schedule by playing a return game with Oslo on the Fair Grounds diamond.

In tomorrow afternoon's opener at Alvarado, coach Skjod intends to start lefty LeRoy Aasland on the mound for the locals. Jack Hoppe, who has impressed the Prowler coach by the hustle that he has exhibited behind the plate, will be the receiver for Aasland's slants. It is probable that the Prowler infield will find Cal Vraa at first, Joey Poole at second, Sid Vraa at shortstop, and Larry Gilbertson. Except for Mike Hajostek, who will patrol centerfield, the outfield positions are the subjects of lively competition by several promising candidates.

The Oslo game at Oslo on May 13th, will find rangy Duane Rafteseth, the Prowlers' veteran righthander, due for the hurling duties, although Duane will perhaps be held in reserve and available for relief pitching on Thursday afternoon.

The schedule:

May 7th, at Alvarado, 2:30 p. m.
May 13th, at Oslo, 4:15 p. m.
May 15th, Oslo, here, 4:15 p. m.
May 18th, at Fertile, 2:30 p. m.
May 22nd, Alvarado, here, 4:15 p. m.
May 26th, at Crookston, 7:30 p. m.
May 29th, open.
June 1st, Crookston, here, 4:15 p. m.
June 3rd, open.
June 5th, open.

The public is invited to hear him, said Robert Abbott, pastor.

Fergus Falls Man to Head Supreme Court Justices

Roger Dell to Take over Post July 15, Succeeding Charles Loring, Resigned

Roger L. Dell, newest member of the Minnesota supreme court bench, will become chief justice July 15.

He will succeed Charles Loring, 79, veteran of nearly 23 years on the state's highest court. Loring asked Friday that he be retired on that date.

Dell's place as associate justice will be taken by Martin A. Nelson, Austin, judge of the 10th district court since 1944.

As the Republican nominee for governor in 1934 and 1936, he ran unsuccessfully against Floyd B. Olson and Elmer A. Benson.

Gov. C. Elmer Anderson announced the triple play last Friday. He will call for a district bar plebiscite for advice in filling the Nelson vacancy in the 10th judicial district, which comprises Mower, Freeborn and Fillmore counties.

The moves mean that four of the seven supreme court justices will be up for election late in 1954. They are Dell, Nelson and Associate Justices Oscar Knutson and Thomas Gallagher.

"Justice Loring's record is a sterling one," Anderson said. "His contribution to justice in Minnesota is one which I am sure history will record as one of the most outstanding."

State Conservation Laws Are Revised in Legislative Session

In addition to the general appropriation bill for the operation of the department of conservation for the years July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1955, considerable new legislation and amendments to existing laws were passed.

Interim committees were established to investigate and make reports to the next legislature. Flood control will be studied by three senators, three representatives and three citizens. Forestry problems will be taken up by five senators and five representatives. Investigation of ore taxation will be continued for another two years by the 16-member comittee. The entire department of conservation will be investigated by a legislative committtee.

General or administrative acts passed include the naming of the Norway pine as the state tree and power to the commissoner to acquire parking and camping areas.

A change in method of financing state park operations war made by the law which provides for funds to be secured through the sale of annual windshield sticker permits. The law permits a loan of up to $450,000 from the game and fish fund, which will be returned by the division of parks from the income realized by the sale of the permits.

General laws relating to game and fish administration include a law which provides that the owner of swamp or marsh land may apply for tax reduction for a period of not less than 15 years if such land can be used for wildlife development and public hunting grounds; permit to destroy undesireable plants or organisms in public waters; to import, raise or sell frogs for food; destroy raccoons doing damage; authorizes county boards to raise bounty on pocket gopher and crows; permit to take protected species for scientific purposes; game refuges may be posted along waters edge; an alien husband or wife of a citizen may secure resident license to hunt or fish; minimum area of public access must be 150 acres; and permission to trap coons under water.

Changes in the hunting regulations include: guns must be encased when in vehicle, except when unloaded and in the car trunk with the door closed; all deer hunters must have a license to take deer; and residents may make not more than three shipments of waterfowl (legal limit of federal regulations) in one year.

Fishing regulations are: 2 lines may be used for fishing panfish, rough fish and whitefish; when the season for spearing game fish is closed, a similar closing for angling must be enforced; commissioner may open some waters to all-year pan fishing.

A law provides that all spearing is prohibited between February 16 and April 30, except for rough fish and it is unlawful to have spear or net in possession near public waters during this closed period; non-residents may ship up to ten pounds of dressed game fish, packed by a licensed packer (license costs $25.00).

All shelter and dark houses must post name, address and license number of the owner, and it will be a misdemeanor to leave houses on ice after specified date; and nonresidents are permitted to ship dressed bullheads.

Secy. Benson Lauds Advertising Plan of Dairy Industry

Program of American Dairy Association is Endorsed by Industry

Dairy industry and agriculture leaders across the nation repeatedly have praised the American Dairy Association program of advertising, merchandising, research, and public information and have urged the co-operation of all dairy farmers to support the 1953 set-aside.

Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture, said: "The best of all dairy farm programs is a sales program aimed at expanding the market for dairy foods. One of the best of these is the American Dairy Association sales program which you support by the set-aside at your dairy plant. It merits support."

Merrill N. Warnick, president of the American Dairy Association and Lyman D. McKee, vice president, stated: "You can join the battle for customers by insisting that your dairy plant make the set-aside from your milk or cream check for national advertising of dairy foods."

Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said: "In the present situation there is no doubt whatever of the necessity for a really effective advertising, research, publicity and merchandising program to improve the marketing and expand the use of dairy products."

W. P. Davis, acting president of the National Milk Producers' Federation: "Imitations are currently the greatest problem of the dairy industry. Advertising is our best bet for maintaining and increasing our markets. Support the set-aside."

Expenses Make Risky Business of Farming

Increased mechanization of agriculture and growing dependence by farmers on items produced by industry during the past quarter of a century have put farmers well out on the limb of economic risk.

That conclusion has been drawn from a study of 150 southeastern Minnesota dairy farmers by G. A. Pond and Truman R. Nodland, agricultural economists at the University of Minnesota.

Figures compiled by the economists show that cash expenditures on these farms increased 237 per cent from 1928 to 1951.

Pond and Nodland warn that farmers may be financially more vulnerable during a period of general price decline than before they became so highly mechanized. They base this warning on the fact that during such a period drops in prices of items of industrial origin usually lag behind those of farm products.

In 1951, cash expenditures by the 150 southeastern Minnesota farmers for mechanical power were 353 per cent of what they were in 1928, and for machinery and equipment they were 329 per cent. Expenditures for buildings and fences rose 359 per cent.

Other percentage increases in farm expenditures during the 1928-51 period were: livestock, 136 per cent; feed, 200 per cent; miscellaneous crop and livestock expenses, 229 per cent; hired labor, 115 per cent; taxes, 155 per cent.

Commenting on the increase in expenditures for mechanical power, machinery and equipment, Pond and Nodland point out that during the 1928-51 period new types of power machinery such as combines, corn pickers, windrow balers, forage harvesters and power sprayers and dusters entered the picture. Most of these are relatively expensive machines.

The large increases in outlay for buildings and fences is largely the result of a series of years of above-average earnings. New construction and even much upkeep was deferred in years of limited earnings such as the thirties. The accumulated need for new construction and repairs was met when more ample earnings made it possible.

Increased expenditures for feed reflect greater use of commercial feeds, especially high protein concentrates, as well as increased livestock numbers.

Large increases in miscellaneous crop and livestock expense are due largely to greater use of commercial fertilizers, hybrid seed corn, weed and insect sprays and dusts, artificial breeding services, and vaccines, serums and other animal disease control measures.

Pres. Eisenhower Will Speak June 11 at Garrison Dam

Also to Address U. S. Jaycee Convention in Minneapolis on June 10

President Eisenhower added another speech Wednesday to his upper Midwest itinerary in June.

He will talk at Garrison dam in North Dakota at 10:30 a.m. June 11 at a public ceremony observing the recent closure of the dam across the Missouri river.

Tuesday, it was revealed that he will speak in Minneapolis at the national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at 2:30 p. m. June 10 and at Rapid City, S. D., June 11 at 1:30 p. m. at a national convention of Young Republicans.

After his talk at Minneapolis, the President is expected to go to Minot, N. Dak. to spend the night before making his appearance at Garrison dam, near Bismarck.

He will travel by plane to Minneapolis, and after his Dakota appearances is expected to remain in the Upper Midwest until he heads back east for speaking engagements in New Hampshire and New York June 14.

Twenty-five per cent of all drivers involved in fatal auto accidents in the U. S. last year were under 25 years old.

IT IS AN AREA PROBLEM

On Saturday the department of Agriculture announced the sale of 50 million pounds of surplus butter to the army at 15c a pound, with the understanding that this sale would not reduce the army's normal butter purchases but would take the place of normal purchases of oleo. The sale means a 26 million dollar loss based on the government's cost or, if you put it the other way and look upon the surplus as valueless, the sale represents a recovery of 7½ millions.

But no matter how you look at it in terms of dollars and cents, the transaction does offer convincing proof that the butter market is in a bad way. Without government price supports butter would have a market value far below production costs. Without supports our dairy industry in northwestern Minnesota, which leans upon the butter market as its main outlet, would be in a sorry way.

The price of butter is down not because of overproduction in terms of increased production. The price is down because of decreased demand. Butter is losing ground rapidly in the battle with substitutes.

There is nothing to indicate that this trend to substitutes is going to change. The future for butter is not bright and it necessarily follows that the future for that part of the dairy industry that continues to depend exclusively upon the butter market is not bright.

This does not mean that there is not a healthy future for the dairy industry. It does mean that that part of the dairy industry that is geared exclusively to butter production will have to adjust itself to a more diversified market if it is to survive. It means that the dairy industry of northwestern Minnesota is confronted with the need for a thorough reorganization of its production and marketing processes.

It is significant that next week the Thief River Falls creamery will start manufacturing cheese. Last week the dairymen who sell milk to the Bridgeman plant here for bottling purposes were told that the company must be prepared to market grade A milk in another year or get out of the milk business. That too is significant. They are indications of a trend locally.

We need more than a local trend, however, to provide a diversified market for the dairy industry of northwestern Minnesota. It is an area problem that will be solved effectively and efficiently only by organization on an area basis.

From our observation the adjustment to modern methods in this area will not be difficult at the production level. It appears to us that the producers are ahead of the leaders of the industry in recognizing the need for change. At the production level these changes will have the encouragement of higher prices and each individual producer will be able to make his own decision.

It will be more difficult to reorganize the marketing, however, for this requires changes that in some instances will be painful. It is never easy for the few to sacrifice in the interest of the many. It will require strong leadership to effect an area solution for an area problem, and a diversified market for the producers of the area can be maintained only by area organization.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

You are cordially invited to attend the annual meeting of the Northwestern Hospital Association Monday evening at the Auditorium. So says it in an appeal for attendance elsewhere in this issue. Whether you are a member of the association or just another good citizen interested in the over-all problem of providing adequate hospital facilities for the community, you will be welcome.

And when you attend the meeting bring your questions with you if you have any. That too is urged in the invitation. A fair question will get a fair answer. And there are many questions that can properly be asked when public funds are being used to provide a public facility.

Monday night's meeting is the first of several hurdles in the home-stretch of a race against time. At this meeting hospital trustees will seek approval of association members for the expansion program that must be ready to go before the government's next fiscal year starts July 1 to assure federal government participation. With that approval the question of the city's contribution will be submitted to the voters at a special election later in the week.

Monday night's meeting is important. It should be well attended.

April was cold this year but so what? Why be in such a rush for the northward flight of the mosquitoes and the dangle worms?

With temperatures slumping into the 30s, there was little dancing on the green on May Day hereabouts.

Mothers Day next Sunday reminds us that perhaps it is because we are growing older that the average mother looks a lot younger today than she did a generation ago.

Simile—As frequent as school bond elections in Minnesota these days.

Optimistic thought — Those stiff gales that have hit this area recently have been good for kite flying at least.

Remember a year ago when local youngsters took advantage of 90-degree temperatures to go swimming in April.

Thursday, folks, is your last chance to get under the wire and join the Cleanup Week parade.

The Warren Sheaf tells us a good deal of concern was caused on a college campus by a typographical error which made a news item read, "Coach Jones again is active on the gridiron after having been laid up several days with a bad coed."

Too often, says a close observer, a college education goes to the head instead of the mind.

An estimate has been defined as half the cost of any job.

Personal property took a slump in value May 1. The assessors started making their rounds.

A letter appearing in the Sunday Tribune suggested changes in the names of North Dakota newspapers. Carrying the idea into Minnesota, we offer the Motley Array, Warren Peace and Coleraine Forecast.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

It's All in the Family

It's nice to know that your children are close to you. Parents feel proud that their sons and daughters "come around" to talk over their problems. Some parents are worried if they have no place in the confidences the young folks have to share.

Proper child rearing has a goal, the child's gradual independence. If parents are too critical of children, the latter will fear their reactions to even the simplest attempts toward independent action. On the other hand, when adults keep trying to do things for children, instead of with them—and in a way that silences initiative, they will purposely hide their problems in order to tackle them on their own. Of course, young people will make mistakes, but even learning that failure isn't too horrible is a good experience.

When children avoid confidential give-and-take it may be due to the rejection of a force imposed on them by their parents. "Tell me all about it!" is not the way to earn your way into the secrets of the young. A sense of fairness and a willingness to let them grow up are all important in fostering confidence.

Many problems of a child will involve the moral questions of right and wrong. Parents, in trying to teach their children right from wrong may forget that the youngsters must be helped to want to do what he ought to do. Since the level of responsibility varies with the stage of development at different age levels, parents should guard against excessive strictness or its opposite, over-protection, in their handling of conduct. Problems of behavior are best solved when cooperation exists between the experienced adult and the less experienced youngster.

Worrying over children turns parents' energy into frustration. Begin at the other end! They won't worry you, if you have their confidence.

Report to the People

By Governor C. Elmer Anderson

The Man Who Overpaid

A taxpayer down in the lower brackets, where taxes are $5 or $10, sent in the annual payment on his state income tax recently — and along with it $700 more. No explanation or anything. Just the regular tax and that $700 overpayment.

The examiner blinked as he looked at the check and then wrote the taxpayer and asked what he intended in sending in the $700.

Back came the reply:

"The $700 is to help with the soldier's bonus and other taxes. When I was a boy I was a ward of the State School and I have never ceased to be grateful to the State. I have in the past and will in the future remember the State and its institutions."

• • •

I got tremendous satisfaction out of this unusual incident. Obviously a man of small means, our correspondent had made what to him must have been a tremendous gift. And he had done it by simply sending the money to the state, without disclosing his intentions, so that it might slip unnoticed into the stream of helpful dollars.

• • •

Many of the homeless and handicapped youngsters to whom the state reaches out a helping hand in time of need become successful men and women, who establish homes and follow normal pursuits. Not a few start successful businesses. One lad who seemed to be an almost hopeless cripple became a prosperous real estate dealer and at length, when he died, gave $31,000 to Gillette State Hospital and two private institutions to help other handicapped persons. If there were no other rewards, the opportunity to work with agencies helping boys and girls like these would be recompense enough for all the difficulties and disappointments one encounters in being Governor.

• • •

Conscience

Unusual payments of another character sometimes come to the State Income Tax Department. A correspondent occasionally will write: "My conscience bothers me. I am making good money now, so I am sending $100 to make up for that time when things were going so bad." Another says: "I didn't report all I should. Here is $50." Letters of this kind usually are unsigned. "Conscience payments," the Department lists them.

Is this a good time to build? People have been asking that question every year since we started in business. Here is one way to look at it. Your home is basic. Your happiness is tied up within its warmth. Normally, you pay for your home on a budget plan. Part of the money is interest . . . part is your ownership or equity. As time flies by your equity increases and eventually it is yours. Now look over your rent receipts and draw your own comparison. Most of us cannot afford NOT to own our own homes. The most important thing is to build well. We have plans and draftsmen to help in every detail and we will submit careful estimates . . . even help with the financing problem.

What Goes On?

Pranksters were on the loose here on Saturday night and the stunts they had been up to could have resulted in both serious damage and tragedy. The gas drum on the outside of Les Walton's tavern had been tipped over and the gas pipe broken and a considerable amount of gas had leaked out before it was discovered and corrected. A lighted match nearby or any ignition of fire and sparks could have exploded the drum and set the building aflame, possibly burning also the building next to it. Beer bottles had been smashed and pieces of glass unnecessarily strewn about at various places in town. Andrew Kostrzewski didn't feel very happy about finding his pick up tipped over, neither was Erick Olson pleased when he got home to find his gate open and his horses gone. Whoever these hoodlums were they should realize that it is a serious offense to tamper with any person's property. Anyone with such excess energy to spare should make use of it in a more more worthwhile manner.

A softball game was played here on the ball diamond on Sunday afternoon with local players on both sides. The A team was chosen by Gerald Carlson and they were Carl Johnson, Alton and Loyd Henrickson, David Lindstrom, Vance Lefrooth and Richard Gustafson. The B team leader was Eugene Anderson and he chose Morris Lindstrom, Clarence Carlson, Eugene Anderson, Harlon Ervin and Erick Henrickson and Dale Carlson. A good game was played and the A team won by a double score 14 to 7.

All Citizens of Small Beltrami Co. Village Given New York Trip

The whole village of Funkley in the North Woods of Minnesota, headed by its 78-year-old mayor and including an 11-month-old infant, is enjoying a 6-day "dream trip" to New York City, starting May 5, where they will be honored and entertained at public meetings, receptions dinners and on television and radio.

In recognition of their unselfish efforts to help other people through their cancer dressing program and other humanitarian activities, the people of Funkley, a typical cross-section of "Small Town America," have been selected to launch a nation-wide, week-long campaign beginning May 11 to collect old sheets from the public to be made into cancer dressings by the American Cancer Society for cancer patients.

Climaxing their stay in New York, will be a ceremony on May 11th when they will receive a citation from the American Cancer Society honoring them as a symbol of the devotion of the 4,371 cancer dressings units throughout the country to the fight to control cancer.

This was made known today by Allan Stone, Executive Director of the Minnesota Division of the American Cancer Society.

"The people of Funkley are all in modest circumstances and their trip to New York has been made possible by Pacific Mills, a leading textile company, which has offered to defray the entire expenses of the Funkley villagers' "dream trip." Stone stated, emphasizing that no American Cancer Society funds are being used in connection with the trip.

Funkley is the smallest incorporated village in the state of Minnesota and 33 men, women and children will make the trip to New York. Twenty-five people live within the village limits, but the party making the trip will include eight women living in the vicinity who participate in the life of Funkley and are active members of the Funkley cancer dressing program. One hundred per cent of the women of the village participate in the cancer dressing program.

Mrs. William Rossen, Commander of the Beltrami County Chapter of the American Cancer Society and a nurse in the Bemidji Hospital, and Miss Ivy Budd, Beltrami county health nurse, both of Bemidji, will accompany the villagers.

Two of the oldest inhabitants of Funkley, one 75 and the other 84, whose health will not permit traveling, will take care of the village while the party is in New York. The state highway patrol will assist them in safeguarding the village.

The village of Funkley, which has languished in obscurity throughout the half century since it was founded in 1903 and is now being projected into national prominence, is in the heart of the Paul Bunyan country, about 30 miles northeast of Bemidji.

Turtle Crawls 1 Mile in 47 Years

In 1906, three boys at Gully carved that date and their initials on the shell of a turtle.

Last week, Warren Johnson, about 14, shot the turtle and found the initials WSG, HMK and COP.

The first stood for W. Scott Garcelon, the second for Hartvig M. Kjenamo. Garcelon, who is Warren's uncle, and Kjenamo don't recall who COP was.

The turtle was shot about a mile from where the three boys caught it 47 years ago.

Marshall County Is $1,100 Short of Red Cross Quota

Marshall county is still $1,153.88 short of reaching its $5,065 goal in the 1953 American Red Cross fund appeal with contributions totaling $3,911.12 from 46 of the 59 precincts in the county reporting, R. H. Quanrud of Warren, appeal chairman, announced last week.

While many of the townships and villages in the county reached or surpassed their local quotas, too many have fallen behind or have not yet submitted reports, and as a result the county is far short of its goal, said Mr. Quanrud.

Public safety and highways run neck and neck for top spot in government expenditure by departments, with sanitation not too bad a third in Minnesota.

THIS MOUNTAIN OF RAILROAD TIES David Presley is checking will soon be set in place on a 47-mile stretch between Babbitt and a point near Beaver Bay. When completed, the line will carry trainloads of taconite rock from the mine to the processing plant being built on the shore of Lake Superior. By 1955 the first shipments of concentrated iron ore will be on their way to the blast furnaces from this $160 million project. Minnesota's iron mining industry is doing everything it can to provide a continuing ore supply for America. Taconites and low-grade ores can mean prosperity for the ranges, benefits for all Minnesota—but only if they can compete with ores from other areas.

UNKNOWN FINDER RETURNS PURSE AFTER THREE YEARS

Wright, Minnesota — Mrs. E. W. Groth lost her purse three years ago while shopping in Duluth. It contained between $65 and $75. On Good Friday the purse was returned with an unsigned note in feminine handwriting inside and $100. The note said, "When I found your purse I was desperately in need of money and I felt if I used your money to pay some of my bills I would soon be able to save enough to pay you back. But such was not the case. However, here it is at last. It is near the amount if I remember it correctly. Please forgive me for not returning it sooner. Thank you sincerely." Mrs. Groth said she would use the $100 to buy an artificial leg to replace her husband's right leg. The limb was amputated near the hip three years ago because of cancer. The 58-year-old Groth, a cattle dealer, has since used crutches.

Let us show you how good baled hay can be

The best way to judge hay quality is to examine it in the barn this time of year. Here are some things you will notice about rolled bales:

1 The hay is bright and green — just like it was baled.
2 Leaves are sealed inside the bale — almost no leaf loss during handling.
3 Bales that have been rained on are still good — they shed the showers.
4 Rolled bales handle without waste — won't buckle, break or fall apart.
5 Rolled bales are easy to feed — rolled out, cut open or fed whole.

Let us show you why hay in rolled bales is winning blue ribbons for quality at leading shows. Your livestock needs the best.

Statistics on N. W. Hospital Show Need for Added Facilities

Northwestern Hospital statistics for the fiscal year From May 1, 1952 through April 30, 1953 show again the great need for additional and better organized hospital facilities, according to Harold W Peterson, administrator of Northwestern Hospital.

During this period a total of 3,236 adult and pediatric patients were admitted to the two Northwestern Hospital plants. A total of 453 babies were born at the hospital in this one year period. Adults and pediatric patients accounted for 22,021 days of care given; newborn were given 3,011 days of care.

The total number of patient beds available at Plants A and B is 87, plus 14 bassinets. In building a hospital, consideration must always be given to the largest number of patients it may be necessary to accommodate on any one day. On 24 days of the 1952-1953 period, there were over 80 patients in the hospital. On seven of these 24 days from 87 to 92 patients were taken care of. In tabular form, the patient load picture looks like this:

No. of Days	No. of Patients
7	87-92
17	80-86
111	70-79
171	60-69
59	50-59

Mr. Peterson states that the statistics do not fully show the overcrowded condition of the hospital for several reasons. A perfectly flexible hospital in which full use of facilities could be made would have to consist entirely of single rooms. It is impossible to mix up certain patients. It is necessary to separate patients according to sex, according to whether they are children or adults, according to whether they are surgical or medical, according to communicable diseases, and according to severity of illness. All maternity patients and newborn must be kept separate.

In judging whether a hospital is overcrowded or not, all of these factors must be taken into consideration. According to the way in which it is built, a hospital may easily be overcrowded with only a 60 per cent occupancy. A hospital in which there are two large ten-bed wards for medical patients, as in the case of old Mercy Hospital, is always overcrowded. Facilities for segregating severely ill patients, or patients who do not want ward care, is very limited. The limited bed space afforded for care of children below age of 14 is so apparent that large numbers of such children must be placed in adult rooms.

Since the second floor of Plant B must be reserved for maternity patients and newborn, any vacant rooms there cannot be used for other patients except in rare instances. For these reasons it sometimes happens the total patient load may be down to 60 and still it is possible to have difficult problems in the matter of admitting patients. Overcrowding is a much different problem in a hospital than in a hotel—and much more difficult.

In a hospital of well-organized construction, it is estimated that a 75 per cent degree of occupancy would be a good average as a dividing line for over-crowdedness. According to this average, Northwestern Hospital with its 87 beds could ordinarily care for 65 patients. It is of interest to note, that despite the incomplete and unsatisfactory physical arrangement of the Northwestern Hospital Plants, there were 214 days in the 1952-1953 period when there were 65 or more patients in the hospital, or over the 75 per cent occupancy.

These facts point up again the need for the additional well-organized hospital facilities to be provided this community under the Hill-Burton Act. Mr. Peterson predicts a strong likelihood that when the 114 beds are provided under this building program there will be a rapid increase in use of the hospital by patients in this area. This increase will be partly due to the fact of far better organization of hospital facilities, as well as increase in number of hospital beds.

Agent Will Be Located at Employment Office

A representative of the Grand Forks office of the Social Security Administration will be at the employment office in Thief River Falls, on Tuesday, May 12, at 10:00 a. m.

Students who intend to work part time or full time in jobs covered under social security will need social security account number cards. Whether the student expects to work only temporarily part time or full time makes no difference. Every employer in business and industry needs the account number for his report.

Don't get a social security account number card unless you intend to work where you will need it, the agency states.

Those who wish more information, may call at, or write to, the Grand Forks office of the Social Security Administration. The office is located in Room 308 in the post office building.

Minnesota Public Assistance Costs Increase in March

Minnesota's public assistance costs for March 1953 showed a rise in nearly all categories because of greater medical costs. Most case loads decreased.

F. W. Nichols, director of the state division of social welfare reported Wednesday that net public assistance costs were $1,461,322, a rise of $74,186 above the previous month and $26,432 over February.

"This resulted primarily from higher medical allowances for old age assistance (OAA) recipients," Nichols said. The March total of 96,325 persons aided, he said, was 280 below February and 4,505 under the total of a year ago.

OAA costs increased $56,400 during March despite a new all-time low, 53,014, in caseload.

Medical allowances were higher for both aid to the blind and aid to dependent children, Nichols said.

The assembly will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the University's General Alumni Association, now named the Minnesota Alumni association. The association will sponsor the two-day event, to which are invited all graduates and former students of the University.

With May 21, the first reunion day, designated as Golden Anniversary day, the Class of 1903, which celebrates its own golden anniversary this year, will receive major honors from the University and the other alumni. Of the living members of the class, more than 50 are expected to be present for the tribute.

Five other classes which will celebrate special anniversaries the second day of the reunion are those of 1908 (forty-fifth), 1913 (fortieth), 1918 (thirty-fifth), 1913 (fortieth), 1918 (thirty-fifth), 1928 (silver), 1938 (fifteenth).

The Class of 1903 will be honored with special seats to review the Cap and Gown parade of the seniors and faculty and the class will have reserved seats for the annual Cap and Gown Convocation in Northrop auditorium which will immediately follow the parade.

Pres. Eisenhower Endorses CARE Foreign Aid Plan

President Eisenhower marks CARE's seventh anniversary by commending the foreign-aid agency to Americans as a means of backing up the government's international efforts.

In "A Report to the People," CARE's anniversary booklet, the President states "CARE strengthens the fight for peace, for the impoverishment of any single people means danger to the well-being of all others."

"The Twentieth Century has laid upon our country the responsibility of the free world's leadership," he continues. "This responsibility cannot be borne by government alone. It summons the voluntary assistance and initiative of all citizens—working through such institutions as CARE—to match good will with good works."

The booklet traces CARE's growth from May, 1946, when it began delivering food packages to Europe, to its present programs for selfhelp as well as relief for the people of 40 countries in Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. CARE gifts subscribed to date by individuals and organizations total $150,000,000, and range from food and textiles to plows, tools, new books, health and medical supplies and community center equipment.

SMILEY...

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 7, City

The joint observance of 4-H Sunday by the Smiley and Kratka 4-H clubs held Sunday evening in the Telemarken church in Kratka was very nice. The sermon given by Rev. Norval Wigtil was inspiring and held the interest of the young folks as well as the adults. The Smiley 4-H club was welcomed in behalf of the Kratka 4-H club by their president, Clarice Austin, who turned over the program to Dianne Lendobeja, president of the Smiley Club, and she announced the following numbers after a brief thanks for the club for the privilege of being guests: a reading by Gloria Johnson; a song by a group of older girls; an exercise "My 4-H Club" by a group of younger members; a prayer by Marilyn McCrum. The Kratka club then gave the following program. A psalm reading by Arlene Anenson; Linda Mandt spoke on the origin of 4-H Sunday; "A Tribute To Mothers" was given by Richard Parnow; a solo was sung by James Wilson. Refreshments were served by the mothers of the Kratka Club members at the close of the program. The Smiley 4-H members and leaders extend a cordial thank you for the lovely evening.

Ole Helgeland was 85 years old Sunday. A family observance of the occasion was enjoyed by himself and his guests at his home, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Helgeland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Helgeland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Helgeland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Helgeland and family, Willie and Selmer Helgeland. Ole is one of the last remaining pioneers in Smiley and it is for us Smileyites to wish him many more happy returns.

The Helperettes will meet at the home of Mrs. John Ranum instead of Mrs. Gust Hallberg this Wednesday afternoon.

The Smiley 4-H club meets this Thursday evening May 7, instead of Friday due to the public grade school song concert in Thief River Falls. The program committee comprises of Phyllis Beiswenger, Karen Diehl, Corrine Torkelson and Dolores Lizakowski. Recreation will be arranged by Dianne Lendobeja, Dennis Nelson and Wallace Phillips. Extra credits will be given any member wishing to give a demonstration or a project talk at this meeting. Lunch will be served by the Edwin Helgeland and Bruno Beiswenger families.

Those who helped Mrs. J. W. Lendobeja enjoy her birthday Wednesday evening were her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kays, her brother Philip and his family of Thief River Falls.

About ten Smiley teen agers attended the party Saturday evening in the St. Hilaire school gymnasium. The hostess was Shirley Wik from that locality. The young folks had a wonderful time.

You are invited to take an important part in the great New Packard Program

Here is an unusual opportunity to see for yourself the fine new cars that make the New Packard Program the news story of this automotive year. 25 beautiful new cars will be awarded, including a glamorous Packard Caribbean. We hope you will join us. Please read on—

Last December the people of this country gave a typical, enthusiastic, American welcome to the announcement that Packard was returning to the fine-car field. Once again America had a new choice in fine cars!

At the same time, the Packard CLIPPER was announced as the only medium-priced car in America built in the fine-car tradition. The big type of car that Americans like, priced just a few hundred dollars more than the low-priced lines.

These announcements were the first step in the revitalized Packard Program! Now you are invited to participate in step number two with 12 new Packards and 12 new Packard CLIPPERS to be awarded those who follow the simple rules for participating in Packard Invitation Month.

May 9th to June 9th is the time. Just visit your dealer then. See the new Packard or CLIPPER and, on an official participation form (which your dealer will provide), write 25 words or less about the feature that impresses you most. Tell us what we should say about that feature in future advertising.

Send in as many suggestions as you wish. Just be sure each one is written on an official participation form and is in the mail before midnight on June 9th, 1953. See your Packard dealer soon.

Blind Americans

Today there are more than 2[illegible]0,000 blind Americans. They make up a metropolis of darkness larger than the population of Providence, Miami, Dayton or Omaha. Another 1,000,000 men and women are blind in one eye; and thousands of Americans have vision that is only barely useful.

Cool Material

Eyelet batiste is a crisp, cool fabric, embroidered with all those tiny holes which make it feel so air conditioned. The styles, for the most part, are classic, and you can choose them for dresses which travel well with the same ease which they stay at home.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The 1954 elections are 18 months away, but state politicos are already speculating about candidates and general prospects.

When the legislative session adjourns, there is usually an upsurge in political interest, and this year is no exception. In the last two weeks political groups have announced a variety of ambitious plans, including a scheduled visit to Minnesota of President Eisenhower and a prospect of a visit from Adlai Stevenson.

Most interest at the moment centers around Senator Hubert H. Humphrey's bid for re-election to his second term. This is certain to be the state's leading political event of the next two years, and will most likely attract considerable national attention.

Judd Urged to Run

Republicans concede that they face a tough fight in their effort to unseat Humphrey. He has announced his plans to seek re-election and has already embarked upon a systematic campaign, including regular trips back home at which he fills many speaking engagements. While it is too early to predict Humphrey's strength, it is generally conceded that he has strong popularity in the state and that it will take an unusually effective opponent to defeat him.

The Republican prospect most frequently mentioned is Fifth District Congressman Walter H. Judd, now serving his sixth term in Congress. Last week the Minnesota Federation of College Republican clubs, meeting in Duluth, voted to draft Judd for the Senate race.

So far Judd has given no clue to his thinking on the matter. He faces a difficult decision here, because to make the race against Humphrey he would have to sacrifice his 12 years of seniority in the House for what may prove to be a risky venture.

Others Being Considered

In their search for an opponent to Humphrey, the Republicans are considering an impressive list of possible prospects. Governor C. Elmer Anderson runs a close second to Judd for frequency of mention in this respect, but he, too, has given no indication concerning his plans for '54.

Other senatorial prospects include State Treasurer Val Bjornson, Dr. Laurence Gould, president of Carleton college at Northfield; State Senator Elmer L. Andersen of St. Paul; State Republican Chairman P. Kenneth Peterson, and Professor J. O. Christianson, of the University of Minnesota school of agriculture.

If Judd were to make the senatorial race, Peterson would be slated to run for the Fifth District Congressional post. One can expect renewed talk, too, about State Senator Andersen's filing against incumbent Democratic Farmer Labor Congressman Eugene McCarthy in the Fourth District.

DFL Seeks Candidates

Just as the GOP is attempting to find at an early date the strongest possible senatorial candidate, the DFL is looking for a governorship prospect that would make the strongest bid against Anderson. As of now the DFL pickings are not particularly strong.

Orville Freeman, the DFL nominee for governor last year, has announced that he will not be a candidate again, as has his primary opponent, Hennepin County Sheriff Ed Ryan, who said he will run again for the sheriff's post next year.

The DFL faces a major task in finding not only a candidate for Governor but for other state positions as well. There has been much stirring in the party's organizational structure the last several months, but so far this activity has not produced any prospects that are catching widespread enthusiasm.

Ike Here on June 10

President Eisenhower is scheduled to speak at the national Junior Chamber of Commerce annual convention in Minneapolis June 10. Minnesota Young Democrats are bidding vigorously for the national convention of Young Democratic Clubs of America next November, with the hope of billining Adlai Stevenson as the pricipal speaker.

Quiet Mill City Race

City of Minneapolis elections sometimes produce sensational fireworks, but so far this year the election campaigns have been quiet. The primary is next Monday, and for the first time the city will name a reduced, 13-man city council. The city has staggering problems of finance, transit, licensing control, and urban redevelopment, but they are not figuring especially prominently in the contests.

Financing Campaigns

Something new in the way of political financing, an age-old problem for parties and candidates, is an undertaking of Byron G. Allen, national committeeman of the Democratic Party. Allen has long been disturbed by the fact that political campaigns have had to rely for financing on the contributions of a few large contributors. He wants to spread the base of financing by the creation of a permanent foundation for political education, to be supported by contributions of all sizes from party backers. Allen and a group of friends have established a fund, which is tiny now but which they hope will grow over the years making it unnecessary for the party to face financial panic in every election.

AND FIFTY YEARS LAT(H)ER SHAVES SAME CUSTOMER

Northfield, Minnesota — Last week Ted Carel and Jake Hager observed the fiftieth anniversary of their barber-customer relationship. "I'd only been working here two weeks when Jake came in for his first shave and haircut," Ted recalls. After several years of barbering in Northfield, Ted took 30 years off for a career in railroading. He retired last year, and is now back in Northfield at the age of 68, barbering full time for A. J. Mayer "except when I go fishing." While Mr. Hager, now 80, recalls that first shave by a beginning barber as not one of his most pleasant experiences, he graciously adds, "He didn't get any blood."

MILROY WOMAN FINDS DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH

Milroy, Minnesota—With the persistence of the proverbial Scotchman looking for a new golf ball hit into the rough with his first stroke, Mrs. Herman Blankenhagen has been looking for a diamond she lost from a prized ring on her lawn last summer. She knew almost the exact spot on the lawn where it fell and had searched the area repeatedly, even using a magnifying glass to help her. To no avail. Last Saturday she was searching half-heartedly in that spot and picked up the diamond! She thinks now it might be possible to qualify for the job of "looking for a needle in a haystack" but don't make the mistake of offering it to her!

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY SAME WIFE, SAME CAKE

Battle Lake, Minnesota—A cake baked 20 years ago graced the table when Mr. and Mrs. Art Hagas observed their silver wedding anniversary. Stored in nothing more than a cardboard box and only slightly yellow with age, the cake's frosting and decorations are in otherwise as perfect condition as they were when the cake was baked for the celebration of their fifth wedding anniversary by the Park Region Bakery in Battle Lake, in 1933. Undoubtedly the cake itself is a little stale, but no one will be finding that out because the cake is to be put away again to be brought out on the Hagas' golden anniversary!

No reports since.—At 3½ months Sue Nell Winters was the youngest fracture patient ever treated in Crookston hospital—an older sister slipped on a rug and the little lady's left leg went into a cast.— Three young people crawled uninjured from a car dragged 200 feet and thrown into a ditch by a speeding train near Chanhassen.

1953 BUSINESS REVIEW AND FORECAST 1953

Outlook Is Good for Business in 1st Part of 1953, Says Babson

By Roger W. Babson

1. Business will start the year 1953 in high gear. The pace will slacken, however, as the year unfolds, with total business volume for 1953 smaller than for 1952. The powerful supports of the Great Boom—construction and automobiles — will lose strength as the year advances.

2. Barring World War III, 1953 will find business operating under less government control than any year since outbreak of the Korean War. But don't expect removal of price controls to help profit margins.

Intense competition Predicted

3. Salient economic feature is the fact that our productive capacity has now been expanded to the point where, barring World War III, output can take care of both arms and civilian needs.

4. The handwriting is on the wall against inefficient operators. Their days are numbered. The successful businessman next year will be the one who can control his costs and stay out front in his market.

5. I strongly urge my business friends to get out and sell, and sell hard next year; but hire the best cost accountants you can for the back office. "Order takers" will find fewer jobs as 1953 moves along.

War And Peace

6. My forecasts for 1953 are made on the assumption that World War III will not strike during the year. However, I want to make it clear that "all bets are off" the day Stalin dies or retires.

7. The H-bomb gives us another lease on time. Our first lease, from Hiroshima in 1945 to the Rusian A-bomb explosion in 1949, was frittered away in idle bickering. This time we will have another "breather." It may be our last chance.

8. 1953 will be most important in the struggle for World Peace. We will need more than an H-bomb to win the peace. We shall need a great rise of spiritual strength, which is not now evident.

No New Business Boom

9. The long business boom following World War II was beginning to run out of steam when the Korean War gave it a new lease on life. However, the stimulus of defense spending is already fading. Barring further international troubles, defense activity in 1953 will be a floor under, and not a new stimulus to business activity.

10. Capital expansion will move into a readjustment phase sometime in 1953. This has been an outstanding economic force behind our long period of good times. Nevertheless, I do not now anticipate any sharp break in business. If a slide starts it should be gradual, not steep.

11. Big credit expansion has been a powerful "shot in the arm" for business during the past two years. I predict that in 1953 loan repayments will become more important than new credit advances. This could handicap over all business unless advertising expenditures are increased.

12. Under an Eisenhower Administration I do not look for expansion of our money supplies as a result of increased deficit financing. Thus, another stimulating force will be absent next year despite the better confidence following the Eisenhower landslide.

More Conservatism in Government

13. Although General Eisenhower ran far ahead of his ticket, there has been a considerable gain in the conservative complexion of Congress. The margin in favor of conservatism is not measured by the slight excess of Republicans over Democrats. It results from the fact that several Democrats can be counted in the conservative column. The emphasis will be on purifying Bureaus and Commissions.

14. All government departments will be at the service of the Republicans after January 20. Never before in the history of the United States has a conservative government had such a powerful bureaucracy at its finger tips. In 1953 we shall see the use of these bureaus to aid rather than handicap business.

Hang Onto Your Job

15. Unemployment will be no problem for the workers of the nation during the early months of 1953. The demand for and the supply of labor promise to hold in good balance. Later, however, unemployment will increase, reaching its highest point toward the end of the year.

While employment runs high during the first part of the year, strikes will continue to plague management. Union, however, will be cautious so that they will not bring down on their heads the legislative wrath of a conservative Congress.

17. During the early months of 1953 amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act will be moderate. Great labor turmoil would surely result in severe restrictions on labor being read into the Act. All in all, I forecast a decline in strike totals for 1953.

18. Looking to the year 1953, I am urging my friends and their children to work more faithfully at their jobs. They should not be fooled by present high demand for labor. Early 1953 should be used to "dig in" and work harder. Drifters will be the first to be let go.

Price Forecasts

19. Barring World War III and severe droughts, the supply of most raw materials, farm products, and manufactured goods promises to be adequate during 1953. Even the so-called invisible inventories in the hands of consumers are high as a result of heavy buying since the outbreak of the Korean War. I anticipate few shortages next year.

20. Do not forget that there is always a big IF in the supply situation with regard to farm products. Severe drought could cause havoc. One is already long overdue. Scan closely weather reports from the nation's "bread basket."

21. The demand for goods will be stronger in the first half of the year than it will be during the last half. Disposable income will hold close to current high levels during the first half of 1953.

22. Total pay rolls will hold well, with prospects favoring a slight drop during the late months of 1953.

23. Farm gross income will strengthen along seasonal lines during the first four or five months of 1953. If we then avoid drought, I look for a lower farm income during the second half of the year.

24. The trend of wholesale commodity prices will remain in a basic long-term downswing. Look for temporary price recoveries in many groups during the early part of 1953, but do not let them fool you.

25. Unless more international troubles or drought strike hard, living costs should average some lower in 1953 than in 1952. Here again, the tapering-off will occur late, not early in the year.

Retail Trade

26. Over-all trade in 1953 will be close to 1952 levels as far as physical volume is concerned, with a moderate decline in dollar totals. The most attractive merchandising investments should be: (1) Supermarket groceries; (2) Variety chains; (3) Mail order stores; and (4) Department stores, excepting a few in the largest and most congested cities.

27. Demand for capital goods will hold strong during most of 1953. A definite slowing, however, will take place at some time. 1953 sales of consumer durables should about equal 1952's total sales, which were restricted by the steel strike.

28. Movement of soft goods during 1953 should be about the same as during 1952. Some freshening of demand in the early months may be offset later by a renewed lull.

Real Estate

29. Barring World War III, rent controls will be a thing of the past in most areas by the end of 1953.

30. Home building will be less in 1953. Prices may weaken during the latter part of the year. Building costs should edge lower. Only small new houses will be in demand.

31. In my opinion, the cost of mortgage money will tend somewhat higher during 1953.

32. Construction of municipal and public works should rise moderately in 1953 as compared with 1952. This may be stepped up sharply late in the year if business falters. There may be a surplus of tax-free bonds.

33. A moderate slide-off in the sale of commercial farm properties can be expected. No bad break, however, seems likely in 1953. Fear of World War III, moreover, should help farm prices.

34. Population trend is away from the big cities. Fear of possible bombing and automobile overcrowding will continue as a drag on city realty values. Continued migration from the urban centers will help suburban properties.

35. For those who plan buying new homes in 1953, I strongly urge the purchase of acreage in suitable suburban areas. Surely, the H-bomb experiments should quicken the trend toward subsistence farms.

36. As public housing programs are far behind schedule, the new Congress will not promote such in 1953 unless the need for pump-priming becomes much greater.

Tax Easing Will Be Slight

37. Tax relief will come mostly from expiration of present laws rather than from a new enlightened tax program. Barring further international problems, the present corporate excess-profits tax will be permited to expire at the end of June, 1953.

38. If the need for new taxes continues high, after expiration of the excess-profits tax, the new Congress may consider additional excise or manufacturers' sales taxes. They may also serve to discourage consumer spending, if the war danger becomes acute.

State and local taxes may be increased moderately here and there during the year 1953. However, I do not look for total advances in such to be so great in 1953 as they were in 1952.

40. There will be no increase in capital-gains taxes during 1953; but read paragraph 46 below. Income taxes may be reduced.

Foreign Trade Outlook

41. Exports will fall again in 1953. The drop in imports will be much less than in exports. The new Administration will be urged to promote foreign trade instead of foreign aid. Only by buying our neighbors' goods can we get them off the relief rolls. To save ourselves, I predict, we will buy more abroad, although this will be hard on some United States manufacturers.

42. I look for no change in the official United States buying price for gold. We won't "monkey with" the mint price of gold until the nation gets really "hard up."

Conclusion: Profits Prospects, Stocks and Bonds

43. For the year as whole, I look for business profits to be slightly lower than in 1952. Earnings will be better during the early months, with a decline or cutting later in the year. Profit margins will be cut by stiffer competition from both domestic and foreign sources.

44. Recently upped wages, plus some additional 1953 boosts, will also put heavier cost pressure on profits.

45. Some companies that have been hard hit by excess-profits taxes may show improved earnings when the excess-profits tax expires June 30.

46. There will be a cushion under falling profits provided by the current very high tax rates. If profits slide, Uncle Sam will share the heavier loss. This very fact, however, will make it difficult for Congress to reduce the rate of taxation.

47. Stocks are high historically. We are approaching the end of a long period of prosperity, much of which is based upon artificial measures. Therefore, sometime during 1953 I forecast lower stock prices than exist today.

48. Yet, do not forget that the stock market was at about the same price point when President Hoover won by a landslide in 1928. With business prospects good for early 1953, confidence might again cause a temporary boom. If an "Eisenhower bull market" develops, I strongly urge readers to take profits and build up reserves. Within 12 months after Hoover entered the White House the Industrial Averages fell 100 points.

49. New Administration will not favor "soft money" policy. Therefore, some further rise in interest rates seems probable. For this reason, I favor high-grade, short-term bonds, rather than long-term.

50. Finally: Wise investors are taking no action unless prepared to follow a carefully planned and supervised investment program. The keystone of this program will, in 1953 as in 1952, prove to be a policy of diversification and selectivity. Among those groups which offer safety and good yield are certain fire insurance stocks, bank stocks, bank stocks, variety chain store stocks, food processing companies, and telephone companies. Even these may fail us unless our nation has a real spiritual awakening. This must include both you and me.

Identity for Hens

Chicken ranchers have been handicapped by the lack of adequate means of identifying their feathered stock. Branding a bunch of feathers would be unstable. Dog tags around the neck wouldn't work. Horace W. Dryden of Modesto, California, seems to have solved the problem with a name card on the wing. The thick web of the wing is pierced much as a lady formerly pierced the lobe of her ear for earrings, and the name card is supported by a clasp pin under the wing.

Unpaint Before Painting

If furniture has been painted so often that the old coating is thick and lumpy, it's wise to remove the old paint before applying the new. This treatment calls for paint and varnish remover, steel wool and a scraping tool of some sort. The remover is applied to a section of the piece, allowed to soak in and soften the old coating, then scraped off and cleaned with steel wool or fine sandpaper. When the remnants of the remover have been finally cleaned off—usually with a solvent—a priming coat of enamel undercoater can be applied and the final coats brushed onto this receptive base.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Plans Are Set for 4th Northwest Dairy Day in TRF Tuesday, June 9

Minn. Historical Society Historical Building St. Paul 1, Minn.

Stuart McLeod, president [illegible] Northwest Dairy Improvement association, announced to[illegible] that the 4th annual Northwest Dairy Day will held Tuesday, June 9, at Thief River Falls. June is known as Dairy month and Northwest Dairy Day will be the highlight of Dairy month for this area.

Northwest Dairy Day was started four years ago when a group of creamery operators, county agents and businessmen decided to sponsor a better dairy calf improvement day, as the dairy industry was losing its foothold and too many 4H and FFA boys and girls were going into beef cattle. To produce better dairy cattle and create a new interest in cattle was the main purpose of the show. Today it has grown to such proportions that Northwest Dairy Day is the largest show of its kind in the country with over 200 dairy calves being exhibited last year.

Each year finds a definite improvement in the quality of animals shown and in the manner in which they are shown. County agents and their assistants are entitled to much of the credit for the manner in which they have made this show what it is today.

The top prize each year is awarded to the best grade animal in the show and the winner receives a purebred calf of his breed choice as his prize, while the best purebred animal in the show this year will receive an all-expense trip to the Waterloo Dairy Cattle Congress.

In addition, each contestant is given a prize, with those competing for the first time receiving a fine leather show halter, the second year contestants are awarded a white twill jacket with Northwest Dairy Day imprinted on the back. Those appearing for the third year will receive a complete grooming kit, while the contestants who are participating for the fourth time will receive a fine dairy scale.

Northwest Dairy Day as a special highlight selects a Dairy princess from among the many contestants who are chosen in county contests. The young lady chosen as Dairy Princess rules over Dairy Day and in addition represents Northwest Dairy Day at the Minnesota State Fair in September.

Any 4H or FFA boy or girl who may be interested in entering as a Dairy Day contestant should contact their local county agent in any one of the following counties: Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Clearwater, Norman, Mahnomen and Beltrami for entry blanks and rules.

Dairy Princess Candidates to Be Chosen Saturday

Pennington Co. Entries in Dairy Day Contest to Be Picked from 4-H Girls

Three girls to represent Pennington county in the Dairy Day Princess contest will be chosen on Saturday afternoon, May 16, at 2 p. m. in the Civic and Commerce room in the city Auditorium.

All 4-H club girls, 15 and over, are invited to participate in the event. A panel of three judges will select the girls on the basis of personality, poise, posture, beauty, and 4-H background.

On June 9th a new Dairy Day Princess will be chosen in Thief River Falls to reign for the coming year. She will be crowned by Marlene Jensen of Ada who has represented the Northwest this past season.

In addition to receiving many valuable gifts and a trip to the Minnesota state fair, the Dairy Day princess appears at many functions throughout the state. This past year Marlene has crowned many new queens, presented awards, and has reigned over many events and civic celebrations.

Four Members of Board of Trustees Retained in Meeting Monday Evening

More than 100 persons attended the session.

President L. B. Hartz, who presided, stated that volume of business handled by the institution had increased approximately ten per cent over the preceding year.

Mr. Hartz reported that 100 communities had supplied patients to the local hospital during the year, demonstrating that it is truly an area hospital.

Mercury Drops to 22 This Morning

City Gets 2.42 Inches of Rain over Week-end

After reaching high readings of 86 last Thursday and 83 Friday, the mercury dropped steadily to sub-freezing temperatures of 24 Tuesday morning and 22 early today.

A total precipitation of 2.42 inches was recorded by KTRF in a steady rainfall that continued from late Saturday thru Monday, ending with a trace of snow Monday night.

The rain was welcome for seeded crops, County Agent Ray Mitteness estimating that nearly 75 per cent of the crop is seeded in the western part of Pennington county, with considerably less in the eastern area.

Mitteness expressed the belief that, due to the wet condition of the soil, most of the seeded crops would escape damage from the hard frost; altho he said fruit trees probably were damaged.

$200,000 Hospital Bond Issue Placed Before Voters Friday

$419,716 Federal Grant for New Addition Hangs in Balance, Says Board

Voters of Thief River Falls are being asked this week to go to the polls in the city Auditorium Friday, May 15, to express their views in a special election on the question of whether or not the city should issue up to $200,000 in negotiable bonds to take the place of the $200,000 in liquor dispensary earnings certificates which had been previously authorized for Northwestern Hospital by the voters, but which had proved to be unmarketable.

Officers of the hospital association called attention to the fact that the city bond issue must be approved if the community is to avoid losing the federal grant of Hill-Burton funds in the amount of $419,716 allocated last December to the Northwestern Hospital expansion project.

To qualify for the federal grant, it was explained, it will be necessary to have the sponsor's share of the required funds available before July 1, the beginning of a new fiscal year for the government.

In a formal statement elsewhere in this issue of The Times, the hospital association appeals for a favorable vote on the issue by local citizens, thus making it possible to provide the community with thoroly modern, adequate and complete hospital facilities.

To date, there has been no indication of any concerted opposition to the proposal, and hospital supporters are hoping for a representative turnout at the polls, which will be open in the Auditorium from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m.

The question to be voted on May 15 is phrased in these words: "Shall the city of Thief River Falls issue its negotiable coupon bonds in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $200,000 for the purpose of constructing, equipping and maintenance of a community hospital, provided that the principal thereof shall be payable from profits in the liquor dispensary fund, and in the event of any deficiency in the moneys available for such payment, such deficiency shall be paid from the proceeds of a tax levied for that purpose?"

More Than 50 Women Are Feted at Pioneer Sweethearts Party

Sponsored by the Civic and Commerce association for the second year as a pre-Mothers Day tribute to older women of this area, the Pioneer Sweethearts luncheon held Friday noon in the Legion club rooms proved to be a most enjoyable occasion for the more than 50 women in attendance. Kern Olson presided ably as toastmaster.

The Rev. E. C. Mead, the principal speaker, commended the civic group for recognizing the pioneer mothers, who, he said, had made the Red River Valley what it is today. He praised the women for their high ideals and their contribution to civilization, and said they possessed the admirable qualities of character, courage and faith in God. He also recited appropriate poems by Walt Whitman and Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

As each of the mothers arrived at the luncheon, they were presented with corsages and individual pictures were taken by Neal Fox.

Following the invocation by Mr. Mead, Mrs. Kenneth Lindbergh played piano music during the luncheon hour. Mrs. Max Jensen and Mrs. Jassie Miramontes supplied a group of Norwegian songs with accordion accompaniment by Mrs. Miramontes, and they were called upon to give several encores.

Miss JoAnne Wedul, chairman of the C. & C. social relations committee which shared in arrangements for the luncheon, extended a welcome to the guests.

In behalf of the hosts, Mr. Mead presented awards to four mothers. Mrs. Rasmus Hauge of St. Hilaire, 96, who was seated at Toastmaster Olson's left, was specially honored for being the oldest mother present.

Others recognized were Mrs. Olaf Hildahl of Roseau, who came the longest distance; and Mrs. Felix Grandbois of this city, who had the largest number of grandchildren, a total of 30.

While Mrs. Mathilda Iverson of this city, who has six great-grandchildren, was given the award for having the greatest number, a further check following the program revealed that

Holstein Calf Picked by W. S. Moscrip to Be Awarded on Dairy Day

On Tuesday, June 9, the Northwest Dairy Improvement association will present their third purebred calf to Russell Erickson of Badger, who showed the grand champion grade heifer at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls a year ago. Each year this presentation ceremony has been one of the high lights of the afternoon show.

The calf that was selected by W. S. Moscrip for presentation this year is a half-sister to the calf presented last year. Mr. Moscrip describes her as a very flashily marked animal and one that gives appearance at this time of developing into the kind of dairy cattle that everyone should strive to breed and maintain on their farms.

Her name is Bayport Admiral Hedie, bred by the Minnesota state prison farms at Stillwater. She was born September 1, 1952, and this will make her a few days over nine months old the day she is presented. This animal is bred from the best Holstein foundation stock available. Her sire is Bayport Regal Admiral and his sire is the outstanding Pabst Regal (classified excellent) and a "Gold Medal Proven Sire." He sired the All-American "Get" in 1949 and 1951 and has daughters producing up to 1241.4 pounds of fat.

Her dam is Bayport Triumph Twinkle that was a twin, and on an incomplete record as a 2-year-old produced 310 pounds of fat and 8,820 pounds of 3.5 per cent milk—this record made under regular farm conditions on two time a day milking.

Bayport Admiral Hedie has in her pedigree such animals as Wisconsin Admiral Burke Lad that has sired 41 excellent daughters and 94 A. R. daughters.

The Dairy Improvement Association feels that the animal they selected and purchased this year is certainly worth anyone's time to come to Dairy Day and see presented to the 4-H grand champion grade showman who won the animal with his grade heifer at the 1952 Dairy Day show. The association in bringing such foundation animals as this into the Northwest area is to be highly commended, because production such as this heifer has in her pedigree will make for a better and more profitable dairy agriculture in the Northwest area of Minnesota.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin, styled with bodice of French lace over satin, yoke of nylon net, lace tapered sleeves and full length train.

Her fingertip veil tiered with lace fell from a crown of seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible upon which was placed an orchid with stephanotis tied with white satin streamers and love knots. Her jewerly was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Best man was Clifford Johnson, brother of the groom, and the groomsmen were Vernon Graige of Minneapolis, cousin of the groom and Donovan Johnson, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Arnold Peterson and Rubert Wolfgram.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue dress with white accessories and the groom's mother also wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. Each had a corsage of pink roses and white carnations.

A reception was given by the bride's parents in the church parlors following the ceremony. The decorating scheme was carried out with yellow and orchid streamers, garden flowers and lighted tapers. Gracing the bridal table was a four tiered wedding cake topped with bride and groom figurines.

Mrs. Bert Johnson, aunt of the groom, cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Olaf Myhrer, aunt of the bride, poured. Mrs. Melvin Neu, had charge of the guest book, Mrs. Herb Sprague and Lois Taggart attended the gift table. Waitresses were Gail Kverno and Phyllis Lager at the bridal table and Marlene Larson and Joan Pederson.

During the reception Mrs. Arthur Peterson aunt of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love" and Naomi Jensen sang "Bless This House."

For their wedding trip to Moorhead and Fargo the bride chose a lavendar checked suit with white accessories and had as her corsage the orchid from her bouquet.

For the past year the bride has been employed with the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. The couple will make their home at Long Beach, Calif. where the groom is stationed with the U. S. Navy.

Festival of Arts Enjoyed by Many

Grade Pupils Reveal Music and Art Ability

The handsome new auditorium of the Northrop school was the scene of an Arts Festival Friday afternoon and evening, in which pupils of the three city grade schools demonstrated their proficiency in the fields of music and art.

The festival was staged under the joint direction of Frank Summerside, director of vocal music; Miss Judith Halvorson, string instructor; and Miss Godelyne Troumbly, art supervisor.

During the afternoon, demonstrations of the various stages of music instruction thru the grades were given, as also was the case with instruction in art, many excellent samples of the pupils' work being on display.

The evening musical program included folk songs rendered by a selected fifth grade chorus and also by a chorus of selected sixth graders. Selections also were supplied by the Knox violin trio, consisting of Mary Lee Bishop, Rochelle Dahlen and Karen Aaseby; and by the Washington violin quartet made up of John Thompson, Gary Hanson, Don Wennberg and Sandy Wilson.

A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the program.

Norwegian Dolls Shown May 19 by Hild Naess Hildahl

Circle No. 6 of Trinity Church to Sponsor Her Appearance at Church

Mrs. Hild Naess Hildahl, known thruout the Middle West for her Norwegian doll characters made of yarn, will present her greatly enlarged exhibit at the Trinity Lutheran church parlors on Tuesday evening, May 19th at 8:00 p. m. Sponsored by Circle 6 of the Trinity Ladies Aid, tickets for the full evening of entertainment are available from members, or may be purchased at the door as long as space permits. The price of the ticket will also include a light lunch following the program.

Mrs. Hildahl has presented her program several times in Thief River Falls, but since her last appearance here she has returned to Norway on a visit and has added many beautiful figures to her collection. During the past year she has appeared on an extensive public school lyceum tour in North Dakota and Montana. Her exhibit has been presented at several colleges and universities and has been the subject of magazine articles.

The intricately designed and remarkably detailed and lifelike figures depict characters in most of the best-known Norwegian fairy-tales, which Mrs. Hildahl relates in a lively and entertaining monologue. A resident of Roseau, much of her time is occupied by this hobby, in which her husband, Olaf Hildahl, has been helpful in contriving the "props" which accompany the exhibit.

Hospital Assn. Holds Harmonious Annual Meeting

medical staff, briefly discussed some of the new facilities that will be provided in the projected hospital addition.

Judge Paul A. Lundgren, chairman of the building committee, outlined the lengthy negotiations that led to the approval last December of a $419,000 grant of federal Hill-Burton funds to aid in financing the addition.

He added, however, that the grant will be lost to the community unless the voters in the special election in Thief River Falls Friday, May 15, authorize the council to issue up to $200,000 in bonds to replace the previously authorized $200,000 in certificates based on liquor dispensary earnings, which it has been found impossible to turn into cash. The money, he said, must be available before July 1, or the federal grant will be withdrawn.

Harold W. Peterson, administrator of the hospital, discussed the current acute shortage of nurses, and said that the local institution needs twice as many registered nurses as are presently available.

Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen, president of the recently organized Northwestern Hospital woman's auxiliary, reported that to date more than 100 members have signed up voluntarily, and she urged that women from thruout this section lend their support to the organization.

A. F. Berge, chairman of the nominating committee for the election of four trustees, recommended that the incumbents be retained in view of their familiarity with the problems now facing the board. Reelected without dissent were Bill LaFave, Norman Peterson, F. A. Rinkel and Maynard Mehrkens.

It was voted to amend the by-laws to change the date of the annual meeting of the association from the second Monday in May to the fourth Monday, in order to allow additional time to complete the reports for the year ending April 30.

C. W. Pope, director of the area vocational school, urged his hearers to encourage girls to enter the practical nurse course offered by the local school.

Jaycees Install Staff of Officers

Judge Lundgren Urges Support of Bond Issue

Walt Kavanaugh was inducted into the presidency and other recently elected officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were installed at a dinner meeting last Thursday evening in the Rex Cafe.

Guest speaker was Judge Paul A. Lundgren, vice president of the Northwestern Hospital association, who urged his hearers to help secure favorable action by city voters at the $200,000 hospital bond election Friday, May 15.

Arrangements were made at the meeting for a Jaycee membership contest, which will continue until the first meeting in June, with prizes to be awarded to the three top-ranking contestants.

It was indicated that a sizeable delegation of local Jaycees will attend their state convention in Detroit Lakes May 22 to 24.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor, Times:

On Monday evening I was one of the small group of people who accepted the invitation of the Trustees of the Northwestern Hospital Association to attend their meeting. I was amazed that there were so few of us who bothered to take time to attend a meeting that was of such vital importance to the community.

There were many items of interest but there were two factors that I found to be of particular interest.

One was that the only difference between the public and members of the association is that those who are members are simply people who have applied for membership and paid their dues. It's as simple as that. Most certainly all of us can become members.

The other of the two most interesting factors was this: I found that this association, like so many, was run by a clique—a clique of public spirited citizens who could be like so many of us, just members of the public and not bother about the needs of the community — a Clique whose members are willing to devote a great deal of time from their private lives just so that our community will have and continue to operate adequate hospital facilities; a clique that has really gone to great lengths in seeking to continue to provide these facilities through the construction of an addition to our present hospital.

They've had a pretty rough and almost thankless job that most of us would shun but they have almost accomplished the almost overwhelming task that was theirs when they first set out to contribute their efforts so that the needs of the public would be met.

But now they need help. They are asking us for that help. It isn't much in relation to what they have done and will continue to do for us. Not much—just that we take enough time to go and vote on Friday. Can we, the members, the public, spare just that much time so that the very great amount of time and the very great amount of effort that has been expended by the Hospital Board shall not have been wasted? Let's take time to vote.

From a member of the public,
OSCAR HOGLIN

Man Killed in Fire at Morristown Newspaper Plant

An aged man burned to death and Morristown's weekly newspaper was put out of business by fire that destroyed a two-story building on the main street last Wednesday.

Dead was George Goar, in his 70s, who occupied living quarters on the second floor.

The entire roof was ablaze when volunteer firemen arrived on the scene. Flaming timbers and roofing crashed to the ground floor, occupied by the Morristown Press.

Firemen succeeded in saving the postoffice, located next door.

Scott Laird, publisher of the Press, estimated his loss at $7,500, partially covered by insurance. Laird is a former Thief River Falls resident, and was at one time employed by The Times.

3 Speakers at C & C Session Last Thursday

Legislature Session, Hospital Bond Election, National Guard Topics

Principal speakers at the luncheon meeting of the Civic and Commerce association last Thursday noon in the Rex Cafe were W. E. Dahlquist, Norman Peterson and Lt. John Oven, commanding officer of Company F of the National Guard.

Dahlquist questioned the merit of the legislature adjourning without resorting to the clock-covering procedure. He said that due to the lack of time, some worthwhile bills failed of passage, while others of doubtful value slipped thru in the last-minute rush. He said, however, that better progress was made during the session due to the work of interim committees.

Norman Peterson, secretary of the board of Northwestern Hospital, read a statement setting forth facts in connection with the hospital building project which led up to the special city election May 15 at which voters will be asked to approve a $200,000 bond issue to aid in financing the proposed addition. He said that if the bond issue fails to win approval, it will be necessary to drop the project.

Lt. Oven appealed for support of local organizations in building up membership in the local National Guard unit, pointing out that the unit needs 31 more men to complete its quota. He stated that members are well paid for the time they put in, and he added that youths age 17 to 18½ who enlist are exempt from provisions of the draft.

Al Purdy, chairman of the parking committee, reported that 80 responses had been received to a questionnaire recently mailed out to the members of the C. & C. He said that those responding had gone on record as being opposed to the installation of parking meters in the downtown area by a margin of seven to one.

Purdy also reported the survey had revealed almost unanimous support for a proposal that the city acquire the old Central school grounds and other available vacant property for parking lots. A decisive majority also indicated they would urge their employes not to take up available parking space.

J. M. Roche, C. & C. secretary, reported that a concerted campaign is now in progress to urge Canadian travelers to visit Thief River Falls this summer.

Two Residents of City Naturalized

Judge Paul A. Lundgren Conducts Rites Friday

An impressive naturalization ceremony, with Judge Paul A. Lundgren presiding, took place Friday, May 8, in the court chambers.

In the presence of friends and relatives, the applicants, Mrs. Wayne Leverson, a native of Belgium, and Floyd Dalzell, native of Canada, were recommended for citizenship by immigration officer, Clifford W. Milburn, Fargo, who declared that the applicants had been tested in the qualifications of citizenship.

Judge Lundgren gave a talk to the prospective citizens on not only the privileges but also the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. When they affirmed their desire to become citizens, Judge Lundgren instructed Clerk of Court Henry Storhaug to administer the oath of allegiance.

With appropriate words, Mrs. Norman Peterson, president of the American Legion auxiliary, presented the new citizens with U. S. flags.

Mrs. W. G. Claffy, Americanism chairman of the auxiliary, arranged for a history class from Lincoln high school to witness the rites and also served refreshments at an attractively decorated table.

Men Bowlers Hold Banquet Tuesday

Doug Tegtmeier Elected Head of Bowling Assn.

The annual City Bowling association award banquet was held on Tuesday night at the American Legion clubrooms and, as usual, was attended by a capacity crowd. A beef dinner, prepared and served by the members of the Legion Auxiliary, was served, following which the meeting was called to order by chairman Lloyd Aines.

The election of officers resulted in the naming of the following men to positions on the board for the 1953-54 season: president, Doug Tegtmeier; secretary-treasurer, Ambrose Wysoski; and directors, Phil LeGault and Art Langseth.

Doug Tegtmeier presented trophies to the high-average bowlers on the individual teams, and to the captains of the teams finishing first, second, and third in their respective leagues. Bart Wangenstein, as donor of the Wangenstein trophy, made the award to the Soo Mainliners, the winners of the city handicap team bowling tournament.

Robert Lund and Dahlquist Speak at Rotary Session

Speakers at the Rotary club luncheon Monday noon in the Elks club rooms were W. E. Dahlquist, state senator from the 65th district, and Robert J. Lund, treasurer of the Northwestern Hospital building fund. Dahlquist discussed some of the highlights of the recent legislative session, while Lund urged a favorable vote on the $200,000 hospital bond issue to be submitted to residents of Thief River Falls at a special election Friday, May 15.

Planting Fruit Trees

It's getting towards the end of the season for planting fruit trees. Dr. Snyder, extension horticulturist of University Farm, stopped by with some trees yesterday for planting in the experimental orchards. As usual when discussing horticulture the topic gets around to different varieties suitable for this area. There are still only a very limited number of fruits that can be successfully grown in this part of the state. This would include Chestnut, Dolgo, and Rescue crab apples; South Dakota and Underwood plums; Compass and Opata cherry-plums; and possibly the Meteor and Northstar cherries.

Other varieties of apples have been successful only in scattered cases. Dr. Snyder was very high on his recommendations for the Chestnut crab apple. It is not only a very large crab but will also keep well.

The Horticulture Department of the University is doing a lot of work on testing fruit varieties throughout Minnesota. They have established orchards on several farms in practically every county. They furnish the varieties for testing and the farmers are responsible for the upkeep of the orchards. Here in Pennington county we have three of these. They are in the Adam Lendobeja, Lloyd Johnson, and Wm. Kruse farms in Smiley, Rocksbury and Polk Centre townships. Dr. Snyder left nine kinds of apple trees to be planted in these orchards this year. Apples, cherry-plums, and plums are the main kinds of fruits that have been tried.

Weed Control

It is maybe a little early to be thinking about weed control yet but the season for taking care of this problem will soon be here. This spring has been a poor one for killing weeds by cultivation. It stayed so cold that in many cases no weeds had sprouted until the seeding was completed. The wild oats were just beginning to start good the latter part of last week. There are three chemicals you will want to consider TCA, MCP, and 2-4 D. TCA is good for grassy plants such as foxtail or pidgeon grass in flax. You might want to use MCP on the flax varieties such as Minerva or B-5128 but generally 2-4 D is what you'll use. There are so many kinds of spray material and different recommendations that I won't try to cover these here. However, I would like to recommend a bulletin, number 187. It covers everything on weed control from susceptible varieties to sprayer calibration.

Here's a tip for the coming warm weather: Keeping gasoline storage tanks in the shade will reduce evaporation and may mean savings of several dollars a year.

Choirs from Five Churches Join in Concert Sunday

Mrs. Lois Ekeren Directs Group of 125 Voices in Event in Trinity Church

An unusual event was provided for local music lovers Sunday evening when 125 voices made up of the personnel of six choirs representing five Thief River Falls churches combined their talents effectively under the direction of Mrs. Lois Ekeren in a concert in Trinity Lutheran church.

A steady rain Sunday evening cut down the size of the audience far below that merited by the quality of the performance.

Soloists included Mrs. Walter M. Pedersen, Walter Ekeren and Frank Summerside, while organ and piano accompaniment was supplied by Mrs. Arthur Hamilton.

Directors of the cooperating choirs include Miss Elaine Bessler, St. John's church; Miss Harriet Overboe, First Lutheran; Mrs. W. M. Pedersen, Zion; Miss Judith Halverson, Community church; Mrs. Ekeren, Trinity adult choir; and Frank Summerside, Trinity chapel choir.

The matter of arranging for a similar program next spring was left in the hands of a committee consisting of the choir directors.

South St. Paul Livestock Market Report—Monday

Slaughter Cattle and Calves

Marketings of cattle were liberal, the local estimate calling for 5,800 head, while 12 leading centers had a total of slightly more than 98,000. A week ago 12 principal markets had 91,000 and the same day a year ago the count was 68,700. The majority of offerings here consisted of slaughter steers and heifers, fully 65 percent comprising those classes. Cows accounted for about 25% the remainder largely stocker and feeder classes. Steer beef in New York was uneven, Prime grade being weaker, with Good to Choice grades steady to $1.00 higher. In Chicago Prime ranged steady to 50c lower, with all other beef steady. Demand here for yearling steers and heifers was again brisk and prices held fully steady with last week's close. In fact, some of the Utility and Commercial grades of yearlings showed a degree of strength. All other slaughter classes were generally steady with last Friday. Vealers showed no change. Demand was good for yearling stock steers and heifers at steady prices. Most of the fleshy two way cattle went on slaughter account.

STEERS AND HEIFERS: Several loads average to high Choice slaughter steers ranging in weight from 1,150 lbs. to 1,225 lbs. sold at $22.50, the day's top. There was a two-load shipment of overage Choice 1,051 lb. weights at $22.25, while around one-half dozen loads of yearlings & lightweight slaughter steers brought $22.00. Bulk Good and low-Choice steers and yearlings moved at $19.00-21.50. There were Choice 900 lb. heifers at $21.50, most Good and Choice grades going at $18.50-21.00. Included within this range were two sizable shipments of Good 669 and 838 lb. weights at $19.00. Commercial steers and heifers cleared at $16.50-18.00 with Utility grade at $14.00-16.00. Canners and Cutters brought $11.00-13.00, although very few had to sell below $12.00.

COWS: Most Utility and Commercial cows brought $13.00-15.00 but there were young lightweight cows with very straight lines at $16.00. Canners and Cutters moved at $11.00-12.50, shelly Canners of doubtful health selling as low as $8.00.

BULLS: While most of the Commercial and Good bulls had to go at $14.00, there were a few lightweight offerings at $14.50. Cutter and Utility grades sold for $14.00-16.00, some bigweights reaching $16.50. Canners cleared at $12.00-13.50.

VEALERS AND CALVES: A price spread of $21.00-27.00 took most Good to Prime vealers. Utility and Commercial grades cashed at $14.00-20.00, while Culls brought $10.00-13.00.

Rain Halts Forest Fires at Border

Drenched by a heavy Sunday rainfall, Northern Minnesota forest lands were on the safe side Monday but large stretches of charred timber stood as mute evidence of last week's destruction. Fires burned out of control along the international border between Lake of the Woods and Fort Frances, Ont., Saturday. Still another blaze swept timber in an area south of International Falls.

Thieves Score 5 to 4 Win over Nielsville; Game Here on Sunday

Joey Poole's fourth hit, a ground single past second base with two men out in the 8th inning, scored Jack Hoppe from second base with the tie-breaking run to give the Thieves a 5 to 4 win over Nielsville in a Red River Valley league game played at Nielsville Sunday afternoon. The victory was the Thieves' second of the year and gave manager Phil LeGault's club the league lead.

On Sunday afternoon, May 17th, on the fair grounds diamond, the locals will play the Warren-Argyle Twins in a Red River Valley loop contest.

The Thieves opened the scoring in Sunday's game in the 2nd inning when Swede Lund, leading off, connected with Archie Mjelde's first pitch to sky-rocket a homerun into Bob Brekke's potato field in deep right field. In the 3rd frame, with one gone, Wayne Gothe leaned into a high and inside pitch and powered a homerun over the left field fence, giving the locals a 2 to 0 lead.

The Thieves' lead was short-lived, for Nielsville, after tagging righthander Gene Leslie for hits in the 1st inning and failing to score, racked up four runs on four hits and a hit batsman in the 3rd inning. Leslie nicked lead-off batter Mjelde with a pitched ball; Dennis Ambuehl singled into left field; Ray Abentroth singled down the rightfield foul line, scoring Mjelde and sending Ambuehl around to third.

Pat Vettel struck out, but Gene Cotton singled through the box, scoring Ambuehl. Will McDonald doubled to the fence in right-center, scoring Abentroth and Cotton. McDonald was nipped at third trying to stretch the hit into a triple. Stan Paulsrud ended the inning by lofting to LeGault in right field.

The Thieves evened the score in the 7th inning on a double by Poole, an error on Sid Vraa's ground ball to shortstop, a single by Gothe, and a wide throw to first base by Dave Rognlie on a double-play try. Incidentally, young Joey Poole had a field day against the Nielsville pitching, getting a pair of singles off starter Mjelde, and tagging big Stan Brekke for a double and a single, to record a four for four.

Leslie, except for the 1st and 3rd inning, held the Nielsville pretty well in check, scattering four hits over the last six innings. Nielsville, in the last half of the 9th, made a threat to tie the score when Rognlie opened with a single. Les Jevning forced Rognlie at second, on a play from Poole to Vraa. Mjelde lined a single to left field, with Jevning stopping at second. Brekke, who had taken over the Nielsville pitching duties in the 5th inning, lined to LeGault, who had moved over to left field. Abentroth ended the game by sending a slow roller to the mound, and was out Leslie to first baseman Shorty Perkins.

Schedule for May 17th

Alvarado at Red Lake Falls

For the second successive Sunday, weather conditions interrupted the Red River Valley baseball league schedule. Rain washed away three of the four games slated for last Sunday, with only the Thief River Falls vs. Nielsville game being played to a conclusion. In that game, which was played at Nielsville, manager Phil LeGault's Thieves, with Swede Lund and Wayne Gothe hammering out homeruns, edged out Nielsville, 5 to 4.

This week's schedule will be high-lighted by the Warren-Argyle Twins game at Thief River Falls, for it will find the locals attempting to run their winning streak to three games. Nielsville at Crookston, and Alvarado at Red Lake Falls are a pair of important games, too, for the Crookston game will find the league-favorite Pirates opening their schedule. Alvarado will endeavor to tag a defeat on the league-champion Lakers at Red Lake Falls in the Lakers' league-opener.

Prowler Baseball Team Wins Opener at Alvarado 14-0

High School Team Meets Oslo on Fair Grounds Diamond Friday at 4:30

Coach Ralph Skjod's baseball Prowlers served notice on the 31st district that they will make a strong bid to retain their district championship when they opened their 1953 season by scoring a 14 to 0 win over Alvarado at Alvarado on Thurday afternoon.

This week, weather permitting, the Prowlers, with righthander Duane Rafteseth slated to pitch, will play at Oslo on Wednesday afternoon, with the game time at 4:15 p. m. On Friday, May 15th, in a 4:15 game, the Oslo team will play a return game against the Prowlers on the Fair Grounds diamond. On Monday afternoon, at 2:30 p. m. the Prowlers will play Fertile at Fertile in an inter-district game.

Last Thursday's opener found the Prowlers slamming out fourteen hits, with Jack Hoppe getting a pair of triples and a single in four trips to the plate and Joey Poole touching the Alvarado hurler for a single and a double in three tries.

Lefty Aasland, pitching for the locals, gave up but one hit, and that was a fly ball by Olson in the 1st inning that was misjudged and fell safely for a scratch hit. Aasland collected six strikeouts, hit two batsman, and gave up a pair of walks during the seven-inning game.

The line score:

		R	H	E
Thief River Falls	200 [illegible] 0	14	14	2
Alvarado	000 000 0	0	1	3

Coach Jones Will Take Track Squad to G. Forks Friday

Prowlers Conceded Only "Dark-horse" Chance in Defending District Title

Coach Quentin Jones will take his Prowler track squad to Grand Forks on Friday where, in North Dakota University's Memorial Stadium, the local thin-clads will attempt to defend the district title they won last year. Last year, winning five first place awards and scoring 75 points, the Prowlers gained a 20-point lead over the runner-up Crookston Pirates.

This year, though, coach Jones does not have point-getters on his squad that he boasted last season, and he states that the locals cannot be rated any higher than a "dark horse" contender. The Prowler track mentor believes that East Grand Forks, with strength in the field events, and Plummer, with a pair of fine competitors in Neil Craft and Glen Hanson, will monopolize the first place awards.

The first and second place winners in each event will be eligible to compete in the eighth regional track and field tournament that will be held at Bemidji on May 22nd.

PASSENGER AND CAR FERRY OPERATING AT BAUDETTE

The passenger and automobile ferry between Baudette and Rainy River, Ontario, is again in operation, it was announced this week by Frank Watson of Baudette, proprietor. It operates daily from 8:30 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Hetland's Blue Ribbon Trout

Louie Hetland, fishing with Einar Swanson, hooked and landed a 19-pound lake trout on Saturday morning while fishing a minnow off Indian Rock at the east end of Crow lake. That's the largest trout that has been reported out of Crow lake by a local angler.

The lake trout fisherman, that is those that were on the Canadian lakes on Friday and Saturday, reported having fair to good luck. The Tommy Fuller-Leo Travnicek party came into town early on Sunday with the possession limit of trout. The Mattson - Tunberg - Knight group rolled into town on Sunday evening and they had twenty-one trout on ice. The latter group, and they have witnesses to verify the catch, had a 9¼ pound trophy trout on a stringer, but the fish sprung one of the snaps and escaped. Which made Luke Knight, who caught the trout, and the rest of the boys very unhappy. That was lesson number one. Lesson number two was never to rely on Kenny Borsheim to provide the gasoline for the gas stoves and lamps, for Kenny will bring a red can filled with kerosene.

This weekend will find the walleyed fishermen on their opening day exodus, with Morris Point, Wheeler's Point, Long Point, Zippel Bay, Rocky Point, and Springsteel Island on Lake of the Woods; Wakkish and Shotley brook on upper Red Lake; Blackduck lake; Winnibigoshish lake; and Cass lake being the chief attractions. From all indications, and judging by the lowered water levels, the pike fishing should be good. Resort owners predict that, given a break in the weather, that a record-breaking number of anglers will be on the water on Saturday and Sunday.

A Long Season

A sports season that carries through from October until the first week in May must be termed a long season. And that's the length of the hockey season in Canada, for it was only on Wednesday night, May 6th, that the finals of Canada's junior and senior hockey divisions were completed.

The classy Barrie, Ontario Flyers, won the Memorial Cup, the emblem of Canada's junior hockey title, by defeating the St. Boniface Canadians, 6 to 1, on Wednesday night, closing out the best-of-seven series by winning four games and losing one.

In the senior hockey division, which was won by the Fort Frances team last year, the Kitchener-Waterloo club, by a four games to one margin, defeated the Pinticton V's.

The junior hockey finals were played at Winnipeg and Brandon, while the senior hockey finals were held in the east. Incidentally, Vic Lindquist and Lorne Lyndon, a pair of officials who are well-known to Northwest Hockey league fans, refereed the senior hockey finals, and, according to news reports, the pair had a "rough" time, requiring police protection on a couple of occasions.

Roger to Annapolis

The probabilities are that Roger Clyde Williamson, the high-scoring center on 1951-52 Prowler basketball team, and last season a member of the North Dakota U varsity basketball squad, will receive an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Roger has just returned from Chicago where he was subjected to numerous examinations and tests. Except for a physical condition, which will be remedied by surgery, Roger believes that he came through the examinations with acceptable grades.

Calling All Elks

J. K. Stadum, Bob DuChamp, and Roland Stretch Erickson announces that the Elks Club will conduct a walleyed pike hook-and-line fishing contest. The contest, which will be open to all paid-up members of the club, will begin on May 16th and continue until August 31st, with the prize awards being presented on a monthly basis. Fishing tackle will be given to the various winners, and the grand champion will be awarded a plaque.

Fred Mittelstadt of Fred's Mobil Station has been designated as the official scalemaster. The committee states that Fred is being supplied with instruments that will enable him to determine whether or not the pike being entered in the contest have been "loaded" with sinkers or pebbles. The contest is to be determined by weight and not by size, and that's the reason the precautionary measures.

Rags Eldevik, who is a self-designated heavyweight walleyed pike fisherman, has issued a challange to any brother Elk to engage in a fish-for-fish contest. The fact is, Rags is willing to wager that he will outcatch, by weight, any two Elk anglers. As for numbers, Rags doesn't claim to be in contention, for he isn't a sauger or perch fisherman.

Northern Minnie Loop Play to Open Sunday Afternoon

Several Prowler Ball Players Have Signed up with St. Hilaire Team

The Northern Minnesota baseball league, one of the oldest circuits in this territory, will open its 1953 schedule on Sunday. Six teams — Erskine, St. Hilaire, Plummer, Fosston, Clearbrook, and Gonvick — comprise the league, and opening round games will find Erskine at Gonvick, Clearbrook at Plummer, and St. Hilaire at Fosston.

The St. Hilaire Saints, the team that represented the Northern Minny league in the regional Class B tournamnt last year, has been installed as a title favorite. The Saints will rely on the right-handed slants of veteran Woody Almquist for their regular hurling duties, but manager Nicky Drees has signed lefty LeRoy Aasland of the Prowlers for relief duties.

Several other Prowlers baseball players have signed with the Saints, with Mike Hajostek being slated for an outfield position, and Larry Gilbertson being an infield candidate.

The Plummer Red Sox, too, except for their battery of Jesse DuChamp and LeRoy Westerlund, will have a number of youngsters in their lineup.

Many Contribute to Orthopedic Clinic's Success Saturday

Lincoln high school was a scene of much activity Saturday. In addition to 113 children, there were mothers, fathers, nurses, welfare workers and at least 50 volunteer helpers on hand for an orthopedic field clinic.

At the clinic boys and girls from five counties—Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake, Roseau and Kittson—were examined by orthopedic surgeons and a pediatrician.

The doctors made recommendations where necessary for surgery or medical care in a hospital or for home treatment and exercises which will be helpful in correcting crippling disabilities. Disease and accidents have caused these crippling conditions in some children, and others are conditions dating from birth. The crippled children services are making every effort to see that care is given to all cases.

Arthur I. Peterson was counsellor for the state division for vocational rehabilitation.

Volunteer workers from the Woman's club, sponsor of the clinic, and the many volunteers from Lincoln high school welcomed and registered the children, helped them find their way to the right places at the right time, and served lunch to parents and children who remained during the lunch hour.

Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen and Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson were chairman and co-chairman.

Registrars were Mrs. C. W. Vorachek, Mrs. Alvin Christofferson, Dorothy Melby and Arla Gulbranson. Record Librarian was Mrs. Roy Oen.

Registered nurses in pediatrics included Mrs. Otis Wold, Mrs. M. G. Johnson, Mrs. Randall Noper and Mrs. Clarence Stromberg. Orthopedic receptionist was Mrs Harold Elofson.

Girls' dressing room was supervised by Betty Lou Magner and June Bergquist while the boys' dressing room was attended by Loyd Melby and Floyd Johnson of the teacher training department.

The little patients were entertained by Arlene Gustafson, Ardell Tangquist, Lois Krohn and Juliet Wickland of the teacher training department.

Mrs. John Wold and two of the girls from her nursing class, Maxine Nelson and Bonita Bratten, gave assistance in the orthopedic department.

Much of the success of setting up the clinic was due to Max Marciniak, Neary Louze, Floyd Borgen, Peter Larson and S. A. Honebrink.

Physical education teachers Kathryn Hornbacher and Joyce Locks served in physical therapy, as did also Mrs. J. Wiley, president of the woman's club.

"U" to Recognize Honor Students on Cap and Gown Day

Annual Event Scheduled on Minneapolis Campus for Thursday, May 21

Some 2,500 students graduating from the University of Minnesota this June will put on their academic costume for the first time Thursday, May 21, to participate in traditional Cap and Gown Day ceremonies.

Main feature of the day is the annual honors convocation at 11:30 a. m. in Northrop Memorial auditorium at which University President J. L. Morrill recognizes honor students. The program will start shortly after 11 a. m. when senior students will join the faculty in an academic procession up the mall from Coffman Memorial Union to the auditorium.

From special seats, about 65 members of the class of 1903 will "review" the seniors as they march by.

Elvin C. Stakman, professor and chief of plant pathology and botany, will deliver the main address at the convocation. His talk is titled "Minnesota, Hail to Thee." Stakman will retire in June after 44 years on the faculty.

Afterwards, assisted by Professor E. W. Ziebarth, chairman of the speech department, President Morrill will recognize the University's top-ranking students. The senior class will be introduced by Darlene N. Ludtke of Blue Earth, class president.

Edmund G. Williamson, dean of students, will preside at the Cap and Gown Day program. The ceremonies begin a series of special events which precede commencement June 13.

As in the past, Cap and Gown Day coincides with the annual University alumni reunion May 21-22. This year the alumni association is celebrating its golden anniversary.

1953 Heart Fund Tops State Quota

The 1953 Heart Fund went over its Minnesota quota of $185,000. Final reports show $187,870 subscribed for 101.5 per cent of the state goal.

Active campaigning was conducted in February by 700 members of the Minnesota Association of Life Underwriters, and 2,800 other volunteers, for the Minnesota Heart association.

"Public consciousness of the heart menace and the need for heart research and community service was a big factor in success of the campaign," declared 1953 State Chairman Robert L. Utne.

VOTE FOR AN ADEQUATE HOSPITAL

Members of the Northwestern Hospital Association who ventured out in Monday night's wintry weather to attend the annual meeting of their organization went on record approving the program of expansion presented by the trustees. That clears one hurdle. Next in the home-stretch course of this race against time is the special election in which citizens of Thief River Falls will be asked to approve a bond issue that will make immediately available the $200,000 previously authorized as a contribution to the hospital project.

On the result of this election rests the answer as to whether or not we will be able to qualify for the federal grant of $419,716.35 that has been ear-marked for hospital construction in our community. Before July 1 we must be able to satisfy government authorities that we have the cash to meet our local share of the cost. The federal grant is on a matching basis.

If the city's contribution, already authorized by the voters, is not now made immediately available, we probably will lose the federal grant—and once lost it is likely to be permanently lost.

There seems to be no organized opposition to the bond issue proposal. The necessity for it seems to be generally recognized. And because the issue is not hotly contested there is the possibility of a light vote and the danger of overconfidence that has defeated many a deserving cause. We must not let this happen Friday.

We desperately need the hospital facilities that now are within our reach. We need them from the purely selfish standpoint of our own individual health requirements. We need them as a necessary part of our community development.

Citizens of Thief River Falls, go to the polls Friday and, in the best interest of the community, vote "yes."

DEFLATION IS DANGEROUS TOO

President Eisenhower's administration came into power pledged to curb inflation. Now, only a few months after taking over, it faces a problem of curbing deflation. There still are inflationary factors to be reckoned with but it now appears that there no longer is danger of a runaway inflation. On the contrary there is some danger of the pendulum swinging too far the other way once it has started its back stroke.

"The immediate problem is the decline in farm prices, down 17% from the peak reached in March of 1951. Business Week points out that in the past year "the farm index has dropped 10 points and now stands a full 7 points below parity." The fact that the government already owns enormous quantities of surplus commodities, acquired over a period of years to bolster prices, adds to the present difficulties.

It is generally agreed that deflation now could be just as destructive as inflation—that the desirable thing is to maintain a stable economy at approximately present levels to avoid disastrous consequences. To maintain comparative stability in a period of adjustment from a war time to a peace time economy will not be easy and it is to be hoped of course that such an adjustment is ahead of us.

This problem of farm surpluses is not going to solve itself or become easier of solution as we go along. It may be that agriculture will have to do more of its own controlling in the years that lie ahead. This was the late John Brandt's idea of how it should be done. He had little faith in politicians and feared that the producers, a minority group, would come out second best whenever their interests clashed politically with the interests of the consumers, a strong majority group.

Brandt advocated producer organizations authorized to control the marketing of their own commodities and absorbing their own losses incurred in disposing of the market-breaking surpluses. On a limited scale some producers' organizations, fruit growers for instance, have achieved considerable success in helping themselves.

The farmer's main strength now is in the general realization that we can't have a healthy national economy with a sick agriculture. An effective price support program in some form must be maintained. Perhaps, along the line of John Brandt's thinking, such a program would be strengthened if the costs were assessed back to those who benefit, and to that there probably would be little objection.

LOTS OF GOVERNMENT

A census bureau report out of Washington Saturday gave Minnesota the doubtful honor of having more units of government than any other state, large or small. We have 87 counties in Minnesota and in each county, on the average, there are 104 local governmental units. The national average per county is 38.

In Minnesota we are long on school districts. Although we have made some progress in consolidating our school districts we still have 6,227 of them operating as independent governmental units. Illinois ten years ago had 12,000 districts and has cut this number to a present total of less than 3,500. We are making progress, but slowly. Incidentally the northern half of the state has a far better record in this respect than southern Minnesota.

LONG OVER DUE

Many postoffices that produce less than $1,500 a year in revenue will soon be closed and there will be much consolidation of short rural routes in an effort to reduce the cost of carrying the mail, according to a story that came out of Washington this week. There are 353 such post offices in Minnesota, the report states, and many rural routes that need to be lengthened.

Such a reorganization of our mail service is long past due. It is another inevitable result, good or bad, of the automobile taking the place of the horse and buggy as a vehicle for speedy delivery. A hundred miles today is a shorter distance than 30 miles was a few years ago.

Because of political considerations governments are always slow in adopting changes that result in reduced payrolls. Only the necessity that goes along with being hard up brings about such economies. Being hard pressed for cash and credit has its compensations.

Report to the People

By Governor
C. Elmer
Anderson

White House Conference

An unusual opportunity has come to me since my last report to you. I was called to Washington in company with the other Governors, you may have noted, and took part in a most interesting meeting with President Eisenhower and some of his leading officials.

Much of the information given us was secret and for security reasons cannot be reported. But I can indicate the character of the meeting, and this, I think, will be of some interest to you. Some idea of the importance attached to the meeting may be had from the fact that Governors of 43 states and five territories attended.

The President said that he wished to share some information which the government has obtained with the Governors and outline the "plans we are making for national security." He and some of his leading administrators presented the difficulties that confront the nation both in foreign relations and in domestic affairs. Plans being developed to meet these problems were discussed, and we were given a chance to ask questions and state our views.

The meeting was obviously a well-intentioned effort not only to give us needed information but to promote a clearer understanding of inter-governmental relationships, with the intent that there may be developed in time a suitable definition of the areas each level of government should occupy. I think that some real progress was made in promoting cooperation and feel that we may count on further gains.

Confidence

The Governors were greatly impressed with President Eisenhower's sincerity. I could sense a feeling of confidence on the part of all in his ability and resourcefulness, much akin to the feeling on the part of the people generally, that somehow he will meet the dangers that confront the nation. With the tough world situation that confronts us, it is a great source of strength to have a leader in whom so many have confidence.

The People's House

We attended a reception in the beautiful East Room and had luncheon in the impressive State Dining Room, with Healy's portrait of Lincoln looking down upon us in great solemnity. President Eisenhower himself took us on a brief tour of some of the other rooms.

All the Governors took an understandable pride in the newly remodeled and redecorated White House. Here, assuredly, is the first home in America. It became long ago, not just the home of the President, but the symbol of a great nation that should ever stand for liberty, freedom and opportunity. Many called it the People's House. Huge throngs have come to see it through the years.

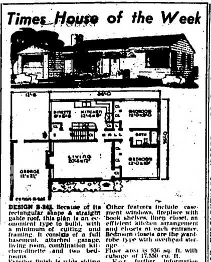
Times House of the Week



DESIGN B-245. Because of its rectangular shape & straight gable roof, this plan is an economical type to build, with a minimum of cutting and framing. It consists of a full basement, attached garage, living room, combination kitchen-dinette and two bedrooms.

Exterior finish is wide siding with asphalt shingles. Plans provide for a brick planting area.

Other features include casement windows, fireplace with book shelves, linen closet, an efficient kitchen arrangement and closets at each entrance. Bedroom closets are the wardrobe type with overhead storage.

Floor area is 936 sq. ft. with cubage of 17,550 cu. ft.

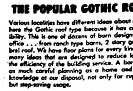
Definition: REMODEL — something you start in the kitchen and wind up on the lower forty.

Central Lumber's budget plan for rural customers has some features that differ from salaried people. Payments may be varied to fit crop income and the total amount that may be used for remodel, repairs and new farm buildings is $3000. No down payment... up to three years to pay... includes both material and labor.



THE POPULAR GOTHIC ROOF BARN

Various localities have different ideas about barns. We submit here the Gothic roof type because it has capacity and flexibility. This is one of dozens of barn designs we have in our office . . . from ranch type barns, 2 story gable to the Gambrel roof. We have floor plans for every kind of farming and many ideas that are designed to reduce labor and add to the efficiency of the building service. A barn requires almost as much careful planning as a home and we have expert knowledge at our disposal, not only for rugged construction but step-saving usage.

AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NORTHWESTERN HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION MONDAY NIGHT THE MEMBERSHIP APPROVED THE PLAN FOR EXPANDING OUR HOSPITAL FACILITIES.

It is now up to the Citizens of Thief River Falls to decide by their votes, at the Special Election Friday, whether or not this plan can be made a reality.

In a special election called for that purpose, the citizens of Thief River Falls have already authorized a contribution to the Hospital in the amount of $200,000, to be paid out of the profits of the Municipal Dispensary. Authority was granted for the issuance of certificates of indebtedness for this purpose.

Now, when we find ourselves confronted with an urgent need to meet the requirements of the Federal Government in matching a grant, the city's certificates of indebtedness are inadequate as security for a low interest rate loan. That is why the question must be submitted to the voters of the city again.

We urge you to vote Friday in favor of a bond issue, authorizing the city to borrow $200,000 and make this contribution to the hospital immediately available.

Without this contribution it will be impossible to proceed with the plans. We must be able, before July 1, to prove to the government that we have the money to match the grant that has been ear-marked for our hospital expansion project.

Without the Federal Grant of $419,716.35 it will not be possible to follow thru with our present plans. If we do not avail ourselves of this grant now it probably will be lost forever.

We believe that with this contribution by the city of Thief River Falls we will be able to meet all the remaining requirements with comparative ease. We must not fail now.

A "YES" VOTE AT FRIDAY'S ELECTION IS A VOTE FOR ADEQUATE HEALTH AND HOSPITAL FACILITIES FOR OUR COMMUNITY

Respectfully submitted to the Citizens of Thief River Falls by the Minnesota Anglers Set for Opening 1953 Pike Season May 16

Minnesota's army of anglers, estimated at more than 1,500,000 (the greatest of any state) was poised today for the opening of the 1953 inland water fishing season Saturday, May 16.

At midnight Friday the more avid wielders of the canepole, rod and reel will wet their lines in search of northern pike or pickerel, muskellunge, walleye pike, saugers or sand pike, crappies, sunfish, rock bass, catfish, white bass, and bullheads.

The largemouth and smallmouth bass clansmen will have to wait until June 20 for their grand opening. The trout and lake trout season, of course, opened May 2.

Only change in the inland water limits over last year is in the trout (except lake trout) department. This year the angler can take 10 daily and have 10 in possession instead of the 15-15 setup in 1952.

An important change in the fishing regulations, which is now in effect, permits use of two lines, each containing not more than one hook, in fishing for sunfish or bluegills, crappies, rock bass and white bass, rough fish, and whitefish. This law supplants the old "one-line, two hook" regulation on the taking of these fish.

Following are the dates and limits for inland-water fishing:

Walleye and Saugers (either or both in aggregate) May 16 through February 15; 8 daily, 8 possession.

Northern Pike or Pickerel—May 16 through February 16; 3 daily, 3 possession.

Muskellunge—May 16 through February 16; 2 daily, 2 possession.

Crappies—May 16 through February 15; 15 daily, 30 possession.

Bass—Largemouth and smallmouth (either or both in aggregate) June 20 through November 30; 6 daily, 6 possession.

Trout (except lake trout) May 2 through September 15; 10 daily, 10 possession.

Lake Trout—May 2 through September 25; 5 daily, 5 possession.

Sunfish or Bluegills—May 16 through February 16; 30 daily, 30 possession.

Rock Bass and White Bass (either or both in aggregate) May 16 through February 16; 15 daily, 30 possession.

Catfish—May 16 through February 15; 10 daily, 15 possession.

Bullheads—May 16 through February 16; 50 daily, 50 possession.

There are no limits on carp, dogfish, redhorse, sheepshead, suckers, ellpout, garfish, perch, whitefish, tullibees, buffalowfish. Season runs from May 16 through February 15.

State Asks Bids on 132 Miles of Trunk Highways

Major Project Includes Double-lane Paving from St. Paul to White Bear

Bids on improvements to more than 132 miles of trunk highways, to cost an estimated $5,725,000, will be received by State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann May 29. In addition, bids will be received on three bridges, a cattle underpass, a traffic underpass and two sets of traffic signals.

The biggest project in the group of 20, located in 19 counties, calls for the concrete paving of the divided lane portion of T. H. 61 from Wheelock Parkway in St. Paul to Eighth street in White Bear Lake. Included in this project is the construction of pier footings for a future highway separation at the new junction of Trunk Highways 61 and 36.

Another project, allied to the above, calls for grading almost four miles of T. H. 36 and the construction of an underpass under the Northern Pacific railway one mile east of T. H. 61.

Paving of one of the last remaining unpaved portions of T. H. 14, and 11 mile section between Lake Benton and the east line of Lincoln county, is also included in the very sizeable group of improvements.

A total of 34 miles of trunk highways will be improved with high-type plant-mixed bituminous surfacing, while another 30 miles will be given road-mixed bituminous surfacing.

Beef and Milk Now in Liberal Supply

'U' Consumer Marketing Agent Reports for May

Beef and milk are literally spilling onto the market this month as milk production increases and farmers sell beef animals from the record number they have been feeding.

Beef will continue to be reasonably priced in May, reports Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota.

Milk production, which has been heavy so far this year, will increase even more in the weeks ahead. Milk production hits the high point of the year in June, and in May it is well on the way toward that peak. Cheese supplies were record large the first of April and production continues heavy.

Raisins are another food the U. S. Department of Agriculture is featuring as very plentiful in May. Stocks of them are so large that the department is cooperating in a nationwide campaign to encourage consumers to buy more raisins.

The only other fruits the department expects to be generally plentiful are rhubarb and processed orange and grapefruit products.

May markets will be filled to overflowing with early summer vegetables. There should be more tomatoes, potatoes, onions, lettuce and cabbage than a year ago. Asparagus, radishes, green onions and spinach will be marketed from local growing areas. Stocks of tomato juice are still large and the juice is a bargain at many food counters.

Plentiful protein foods, besides beef, include broilers and fryers, turkeys and frozen fish, especially cod fillets. Lard, salad oils and vegetable shortening are still abundant, Mrs. Loomis says.

Relief Units Get 90,000,000 lb. of Powdered Milk

Through CROP and the million donors to the Christian Rural Overseas Program, the Church World Service share in 90 million pounds powdered milk, released by the Commodity Credit Corporation in Washington, D. C., May 5 from government surplus stocks, will be shipped to Asia and Europe beginning late this month.

By act of Congress, this milk, accumulated by the CCC over a period of years in the Government's price support program, was made available to voluntary foreign relief agencies.

The relief agencies will take over the milk free at points of storage in Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Church World Service share will be divided between hunger areas in Asia and Europe, with 60 per cent going to the Orient and 40 per cent to Germany, Greece, Austria, Yugoslavia, Italy, Trieste, France and Belgium.

Church World Service representatives, cooperating with mission groups, in India, Korea, Palestine, Pakistan, Okinawa and Hongkong, will distribute the food there to refugees, people in drought ridden districts, underprivileged children and inmates of orphanages. Church channels will handle distribution in Europe.

TRIPLETS WEIGH 150 POUNDS

Vesta, Minn.—Ayrshire triplets, that is! Just recently, an Ayrshire cow on the John Riediger and Son farm three miles north of Vesta, gave birth to triplets weighing from 45 to 50 pounds each. Almost as unusual as the birth is the fact that all three are doing well and expected to live, according to Dr. M. P. Maher, Vesta veterinarian. In the only four or five cases the doctor has seen at least one of the triplets failed to survive. John Riediger commented that they are the first triplet calves he has seen in 53 years of farming.

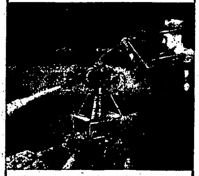
Why water an iron mine?



A HIGH PRESSURE STREAM OF WATER sends the dirt flying as Kenneth Vuori "scrams" iron ore in a mine near Hibbing—rooting out the last pieces from hard-to-get-at crevices. Minnesota's iron mining industry, which is providing millions of tons of ore a year for civilian and defense industries, must mine every bit of usable ore. With reserves of good ore decreasing, the iron mining industry is doing everything it can to expand low-grade ore and taconite production. If successful, America will have an iron ore supply for generations to come—with increasing prosperity for Minnesota. A fair deal for Minnesota's iron mining industry means a good deal for you.

"THIS isn't my picture, but it represents me. I'm your local Packard dealer and I've got two things to say that'll probably interest you a good deal.

"First, folks tell me from all over that this new Packard CLIPPER is the buy of the year! You can't fool Americans about an automobile. When they give a car the boost they've given the Clipper—it's in!

"I'm lucky to have a few Clippers and I'd appreciate it if you'd come by and take a look, or a ride—or both. You'll find a lot of automobile that's making news everywhere in performance and price—the only medium-priced car in America built in the fine-car tradition.

"Here's the other thing: we're celebrating Packard Invitation Month in honor of the new Packard Program—and the factory is awarding 12 new Clippers, 12 new Packards, and a Grand Award of the sensational sports car, the Packard Caribbean!—to people who participate and follow the rules. It's a fine time to come by and let us give you the story."

LOVINGLY YOURS, TINA

By Tony Grabo

TINA heaved a weary sigh and got up off the bed. She picked up the magic-skin doll that shed "real tears" with which she had been playing, and once again assumed the role of a nurse.

"There, there," Tina said in a consoling voice, as the "tears" began to flow when she tipped it. "Don't cry, dolly—everything will be all right."

She lay the doll on the bed and went to her small desk to write out a prescription—the usual procedure. 'Good for one ice cream' she wrote.

At eight, Tina was a lovely little girl. But now as she sat on the bed, a troubled look came into her large, dark eyes, that were set in an oval face which was surrounded by soft, brown hair.

Today was her mother's birthday, and she wanted desperately to buy her a present. But Tina didn't have any money.

Bobby, her brother, was only ten—he had bought one for the past two years, and again this year.

It was a bottle of perfume. You'd think she was careless the way he held it himself and carefully put two drops on the front of her dress. It was heavenly!

And when she was helping him wrap it, he made her promise to keep it a secret—as if she'd tell!

In just a little while, it would be time to eat supper. Bobby would come down from his room and place the neatly wrapped box near mother's plate. Then mother would come from the kitchen and make such a terrible fuss. She'd open it and be so pleased with the gift. But Tina would only sit quietly—there would be no present from her.

Of course, Tina would say "Happy birthday, Mother." And give her a big hug and a kiss. Still, it wouldn't be the same as giving her a nice present.

Suddenly, as Tina was dressing her doll in a nightgown—she had an idea!

The sound of her mother setting the table downstairs, sent her into a flurry of action. And a moment or two later when she called for Bobby and her, she was ready.

Bobby was already seated when she came into the dining room. Tina could see his mouth sag with surprise as she placed a small, bright-ribboned box on the table near his.

He was about to say something when Tina's mother came in. Somehow, as always, she knew about Bobby's present, but her eyes grew wide when she looked down and saw one from Tina, too.

Tina clutched her small hands together under the table and held her breath as she watched her mother open the bright-ribboned package first.

It seemed like a long time to Tina before her mother opened the gift. Her fingers didn't seem to be able to untie the knot and the bow she had tied, and every once in a while, she looked at Tina with a puzzled expression.

Tina's gaze was only on her mother's face.

First, there was a warm smile, and a happy look came into her eyes. It made Tina feel good.

Suddenly, the smile faded and Tina saw the tears flooding her mother's eyes as she came quickly toward her. Her lips quivered slightly as she looked at Tina—for just a second—before clasping her to her bosom.

Tina looked hard at the slips of paper that fell from her mother's hand, but couldn't see anything that should have made her cry.

'Good for one ice cream'. Nothing wrong with that. It always fixed her dolly up!

'Good for one dish washing,' said the second one. No, that couldn't be it.

She looked at the last slip of paper. 'Good for three hugs and three kisses', it read.

She began to wonder if it had been such a good idea after all. Then her mother raised her head, and Tina saw the look on her face; the radiant smile.

Yes, she thought, it was a very good idea.

ONE LESS HAM THIS MONTH

Renville, Minn.—A Senate investigating committee may have to be appointed if this trend continues. A pig was born near here a week or so ago that was normal in every respect except one. It was born with only three legs. One hind leg was missing. This thought-provoking event took place on the Harry Steinhilber farm. If this sort of thing keeps happening, the price of ham will certainly increase. Should this be blamed on the new administration?

Increase Milk Sales to End Butter Crisis, L. O'L. Chief Advises

Dairymen should turn their attention to the sale of milk and there will be no butter crisis.

That is the opinion of Frank D. Stone, general manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., who noted that about 25 per cent of the nation's milk production goes into butter.

With milk production at record high levels, butter production soars beyond consumer demands, Stone notes. As a result the government has carried out its price support program recently and purchased as much as two million pounds of butter a day.

If whole milk consumption were increased by one-eighth, says Stone, the amount of milk available for butter would be cut to 18 per cent and it would clear the markets at the support price.

Per capita consumption of milk today is less than two glasses per day. To develop the recommended increase it would be necessary to get only one person in each family of four to drink one more glass per day.

The need for milk was cited by Stone as a basis for his suggestion. Americans gained about 16 per cent of their energy from dairy foods, he said. Consumption of milk, from which our people get more than one-fourth of their protein requirements, has increased 18 per cent over prewar years and should increase further.

This is in line with other increases of dairy products: Cheese purchases are at all-time high, ice cream consumption is double that of 1920, use of dry milk has soared.

Pricewise, dairy foods have chalked up a favorable record, too. While the all foods price index rose to 232, the index for whole milk home delivered, advanced to only 198. This leads to the conclusion that the most food and nutrition for your money today comes from milk.

President Eisenhower, in proclaiming June as Dairy Month the other day, noted that "There is a manifest need for the industry to find larger markets."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson told dairymen that they must work out a plan before the year is up to stand on their own feet and not lean on government crutches.

1,600 Accidental Deaths in State

1952 Report Released by State Health Department

Accidents caused six percent of all deaths occurring in the State last year.

According to the section of vital statistics, state department of health, accidents were the fourth leading cause of death following heart disease, cancer, and intracranial vascular lesions in that order.

More than 1600 Minnesotans lost their lives in accidents of all kinds with home accidents claiming 583 of the lives and motor vehicle accidents accounting for 561. Each year more than 150 persons are lost in water accidents, the state health department reports. Approximately 37 percent of the lives are lost in boating accidents, 53 percent in swimming accidents and the remainder in drownings taking place in the home and the yard.

Although warm weather has just started, a number of drownings have already occurred this year. Prevention of boating accidents includes the use of soundly constructed boats, the use of lights when boating after dark, and the avoidance of overloading. Unnecessary moving about in a boat is dangerous to all the occupants.

New Variety of Cheese Developed at Minnesota 'U'

Co-operation between dairy scientists at the Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin has resulted in a new kind of cheese.

The new cheese, named "Nuworld," is expected to become available to the general public some time this summer.

Nuworld, a white cheese, has a flavor somewhat similar to that of Blue Cheese, which was developed by dairy scientists at the University of Minnesota in the early thirties. Nuworld has a light cream color and a softer and more buttery body than blue cheese.

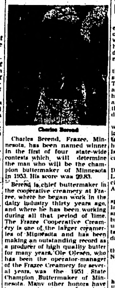
It can be used in cheese cookery, in salads and as a dessert. In manufacturing, it can be used in process cheese blends to give them a sharp, aged cheese flavor without the color of Blue Cheese.

The history of the new cheese goes back to June 1949, when a white mutation of the blue cheese mold was developed by Dr. Stanley Knight, University of Wisconsin bacteriologist.

Responsible for Minnesota's part in developing the new cheese have been W. B. Combs, professor, J. J. Jezeski, associate professor, and Howard A. Morris, assistant professor, in the University's dairy department.

Frazee Man Is Winner of Spring Butter Contest

Robert Qual of Grygla High Man in Districts 3 and 4 with 99.25 Score



Charles Berend

Charles Berend, Frazee, Minnesota, has been named winner in the first of four state-wide contests which will determine the man who will be the champion buttermaker of Minnesota in 1953. His score was 99.83.

Berend is chief buttermaker in the cooperative creamery at Frazee, where he began work in the dairy industry thirty years ago, and where he has been working during all that period of time. The Frazee Cooperative Creamery is one of the larger creameries of Minnesota and has been making an outstanding record as a producer of high quality butter for many years. Ole Olesen, who has been the operator-manager of the Frazee Creamery for several years, was the 1951 State Champion Buttermaker of Minnesota. Many other honors have been won by the creamery and its employees in the making of fine dairy products.

All men who make butter in the state are eligible to compete for the honor of being the champion buttermaker of the year, which honor is won by the man having the highest average score in the four state-wide contests which are conducted annually by the State Department of Agriculture, Dairy and Food; the State Fair; and the Minnesota Creamery Operators' and Managers' Association.

The annual state-wide contests are conducted to stimulate production of high quality butter in Minnesota, to create interest and competition among the buttermakers, and to give publicity to butter in order that the consuming public may be made aware of the fine food values of butter as a part of the diet.

Second place winner in this early contest was Robert G. Bartz, Palisade, with a score of 99.81. Third place winner was Robert E. Anderson, Almelund, with a score of 99.67.

In the junior classification, Clifford Skime, Roseau, was high man, with a score of 99.67, while Lloyd O. Reierson, Clarissa, placed second, with 99.17.

District winners, and their scores included 3 and 4, Robert M. Qual, Grygla, 99.25.

Resort Owner at Northwest Angle Dies of Exposure

A Northwest Angle resort operator was found dead Monday on a Lake of the Woods island where boat trouble had forced him to land a party of visitors during a snowstorm Sunday night.

Leonard Newby, about 50, left the five-member party to try to summon aid and never returned. The visitors were rescued at 8 a. m. Monday. Searchers found his body about 3:30 p. m. half a mile from where he had left them. A doctor said he had died of exposure.

Newby picked up his visitors who had been flown to Oak Island; near the Ontario-Minnesota border, late Sunday and headed in his launch for Center Island, where his resort is located.

Members of the party were Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Dale, Red Lake Falls, their daughter, Marcia, about 15, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hanson of Oak Island.

Other members of the party spent the night on Cyclone Island in 28-degree weather with snow falling steadily. They broke into a building but were unable to start a fire. They were taken back to Oak Island Monday morning.

It was Dr. Dale, who joined the searchers, who found that Newby had died of exposure.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD
Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Home Workshops

Some parents feel bad because they haven't been able to buy many toys for their young children. Making toys is an idea that just has not occurred to them. After watching children play, parents would not be discouraged. Children like tin cans, spools, blocks of wood, and other discarded material. With a little imagination, a small supply of nails, screws, paint and sandpaper will change raw materials into objects of delight.

Besides making toys for children, parents might encourage the young folks to be their own carpenters. This kind of activity helps children to develop skill in using their small muscles; in establishing good work habits, in utilizing the power of imagination and really fosters the talent that is in them. Children like to see things change under their very hands, and although the object produced does not match a machine-made plaything, the joy is in the doing.

Parents can suggest ways to use materials. Doll shows with homemade stage and furniture are great fun. Scrapbooks will preserve ideas that are worth saving as well as being the beginning of collections of all sorts. Young children like to string things: Macaroni, dried seeds, popcorn, spools, buttons make interesting chains for ornaments or decorations.

In using things such as tin cans and add scraps of wood, parents should be careful to see that there are no sharp or rough edges. Paints should not contain lead which is poisonous if the child should get some into his mouth. Easily destroyed materials have little value, since the child's labors are so soon undone.

A sand or gravel pit is guaranteed enjoyment at many age levels. An older child can be a creative as he likes by building elaborate structures and lay-outs, or a young child my relax as he repeatedly pours the sand from one can to another. Water play, too, pays dividends even though nothing new has been added to fences, porches, chairs and tables so painstakingly "Painted."

We can keep our children busy and happy. They, in turn, will experiment with their own ideas. The outcome should be educational in attitudes toward work, appreciation of the efforts of others and a developed sense of cooperation.

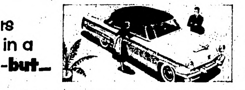
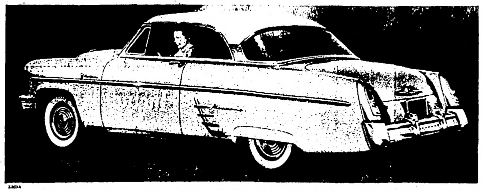
Most cars look good in a showroom—but...



Symbolizing the Progress of Ford Motor Company's 50th Anniversary—"50 Years Forward on the American Road"



MAKE UP YOUR MIND ON THE ROAD!

It's hard to tell how a car really looks in a showroom. And you can't tell anything about performance.

That's why we urge you to make up your mind on the road . . . where you can see and compare Mercury with other cars. We know of no test Mercury can't pass with flying colors.

For this is the longest, lowest, widest looking Mercury ever built (the result of exclusive Unified Design). And it's the greatest performer in our history (proved V-8 performance at its thrifty, lively best; proved because Mercury has never used anything but V-8 engines).

So just ask us for the key and you'll be off on your private test run.

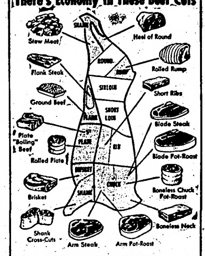
There's Economy in These Beef Cuts



Surveys show that the average homemaker makes use of less than 10 per cent of the scores of available meat cuts. Since price per pound is affected by this demand for a comparatively few cuts, it is evident that she is overlooking many cuts that would help to stretch her meat dollar.

Because meat is the center of the meal and is important in the food budget, it is of distinct advantage to be familiar with as many cuts as possible. The above chart presents a graphic picture of less-demanded beef cuts and their origin. The shaded areas, representing 60 per cent of the carcass, are sources of these lesser-known cuts. Unshaded areas provide the cuts in most popular demand.

In addition to their price advantage, the less-demanded cuts afford increased variety in the menu, and are as rich in nutritive value as the more demanded cuts.

CONGRESSIONAL Quiz

1. Q—Who is the new Republican National Chairman?
A—Leonard W. Hall of New York, a former U.S. Representative, is the new GOP National Chairman. He succeeded C. Wesley Roberts, who resigned March 27. Roberts was elected National Chairman Jan. 17 after Arthur E. Summerfield was nominated for the Postmaster General post he now holds. Summerfield became National Chairman after the GOP nominated Dwight D. Eisenhower in July, 1952. Summerfield's predecessor, Guy G. Gabrielson, had supported Sen. Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio) for the Presidential nomination.

2. Q—How many special assistants does President Eisenhower have?
A—The President's immediate staff includes 11 principal assistants, the same number as were under former President Truman. Eisenhower's main assistants are Sherman Adams, Robert Cutler, Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, Dr. Gabriel Hauge, Emmet J. Hughes, C. D. Jackson, Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, James C. Hagerty, Bernard Shanley, Thomas E. Stephens and Roger Steffan, according to a White House spokesman.

3. Q—Can a foreign-born person become a Member of the U. S. Congress?
A—Yes, but a person must be a citizen of the U.S. for at least seven years to qualify as a Member of the House and nine years to be eligible for election to the Senate.

4. Q—The Senate seems to be meeting more frequently recently and holding longer sessions. Why?
A—The new Senate usually met three times a week until April 7. Then it began meeting daily as Majority Leader Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio) called for a drive to complete action on the controversial "tidelands" issue—the topic most debated, on the Senate floor, this year.

5. Q—How many measures have been introduced in Congress this year?
A—There were 6,876 measures of all kinds, public and private, introduced in the 83rd Congress through April 13—1,813 in the Senate and 5,063 in the House. These include Senate and House bills, resolutions, joint resolution and concurrent resolutions. Only 21 public laws were enacted through April 13.

Let us show you how good baled hay can be

The best way to judge hay quality is to examine it in the barn this time of year. Here are some things you will notice about rolled bales:

1 The hay is bright and green — just like it was baled.
2 Leaves are sealed inside the bale — almost no leaf loss during handling.
3 Bales that have been rained on are still good — they shed the showers.
4 Rolled bales handle without waste — won't buckle, break or fall apart.
5 Rolled bales are easy to feed — rolled out, cut open or fed whole.

Let us show you why hay in rolled bales is winning blue ribbons for quality at leading shows. Your livestock needs the best.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The Republicans' big offensive against the re-election of Senator Hubert H. Humphrey is now officially under way.

Twin Cities newspapers are going all-out in an effort to build up either Governor C. Elmer Anderson or Congressman Walter H. Judd as Humphrey's Republican opponent, and the immediate objective is to get one or the other to declare himself by July 1.

This should make for an interesting period, because the decision is not an easy one for either man to make and the situation is fraught with many perplexing questions for the Republican high command.

Can GOP Beat Humphrey?

The most perplexing question of all is, of course, can even the strongest man that the Republicans can put in the field defeat Humphrey. An incumbent governor or a congressman with 12 years seniority will not be persuaded to make the race unless the evidence is reasonably good that he can win.

In 1948 Humphrey defeated the Republican incumbent, Joseph H. Ball, by a vote of 729,494 to 485,801, for a margin of 243,693. Granted that six years in office may have lost some supporters for Humphrey, it is also true that the period has gained him some new backers. Cancelling that quarter-of-a-million vote margin is, therefore, no easy task.

Also, Humphrey will have the advantage of a mid-term election year in which—if this election runs true to historical form—the party in power (that is the Republicans) can expect some reversal in the strength it showed in the Presidential year. Add to this the fact that Humphrey is unquestionably one of the most effective and indefatigable candidates the state—or nation—has ever seen.

Of National Significance

Republicans, both state and national, want desperately to knock Humphrey out, if they possibly can. His effective work as a spokesman for the liberal Democratic wing of the Party is a constant source of trouble for the GOP. He has repeatedly out-debated leading Republicans both on the floor of the Senate and over the radio and on TV.

His part in the long debate over off-shore oil—which he describes as "the biggest steal in American history"—has won him the sworn enmity of oil and other big business interests. Humphrey reports that he has been warned that hundreds of thousands of dollars will be sent into the state in an effort to defeat him.

National liberal organizations, including labor, farm, and co-operative groups, will be out to support Humphrey, and it is not unlikely that his candidacy will become a sort of nation-wide symbol of the clash between the Republican Party and the liberal Northern wing of the Democratic Party. Humphrey is fearful that he will be handicapped by lack of sufficient funds with which to match the Republican warchest, and he is, therefore, moving early to get his campaign under way.

DFL Counter-Offensive?

For many days now the metropolitan press has been pounding the anti-Humphrey theme, while the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party has been watchfully silent. DFL leaders are divided as to whether Anderson or Judd would be the stronger opponent, and, in any case, they feel that '54 could be the DFL's biggest year since the fusion.

With Humphrey heading the ticket, the organizational leaders are confident the Party could win the Governorship, provided reasonably effective candidates are developed for a slate of statewide officers. One can expect the next several weeks to see the launching of a DFL counter-offensive, with the DFL primary objective being the capturing of the Governorship.

GOP To Meet May 23

State Chairman P. Kenneth Peterson has called a meeting of state Republican officers and district chairmen and chairwomen for May 23 in Minneapolis at which time detailed plans for the "drafting" of a candidate to oppose Humphrey will be discussed. On the same day the Minnesota Young Republican League will hold a convention. Both meetings are timed to organize the pressure behind either Judd or Anderson, or, in case both men refuse to run, behind another candidate, in order to allow a long period of buildup before November, 1954.

Eugenie to Return

Eugenie Anderson, the United States Ambassador to Denmark, is due to return to her home in Red Wing before long. Her return is arousing some speculation concerning whether she will be willing to become a candidate for state or Congressional office. She was strongly urged to run against Senator Edward J. Thye in the 1952 election, but refused. She has indicated that she does not want to seek an elective office, although she has long been unhappy over the voting record of August Andresen, the Republican who represents her First District.

Slated for UNESCO

Another Minnesotan is slated to get a top federal appointment. Mrs. Elizabeth Heffelfinger, Republican national committeewoman, is reported to be in line for appointment as one of a three-member delegation to represent the United States at the UNESCO meeting in Paris in July.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

THE VETERAN ASKS:

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration Offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: I wrote a letter to VA and stated that I wanted to apply for disability compensation payments. Is that letter all I'll need in the way of an application?

A: No. VA will send you a formal application, which you must fill out and return. If you send it back to VA within a year from the time you received it, VA will consider as the effective date of your application the date that it received your original letter.

Q: As a disabled veteran, I received an automobile, under VA's program of paying up to $1,600 of the cost. Will VA also pay for any repairs that I might need?

A: No. Under the law, no payment may be made for repairs, maintenance or replacement of your automobile.

Q: I'm taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill. What does VA consider as full-time training?

A: Full-time training for job trainees consists of the number of hours which make up the standard work week of your establishment. The minimum, however, is 36 hours a week, except in cases where bona fide collective bargaining between employers and employees has established a standard work week of fewer hours.

Q: I'm going to school under the Korean GI Bill, and my wife just had a baby. What must I do in order to get an increased education allowance from VA?

A: You must apply for the increase. If VA receives your application within 45 days, the effective date of the increased allowance will be the date of the birth of your child. Otherwise, the effective date will be the date VA receives your application. In either case, you must submit satisfactory evidence of the birth of the child within a year of the time you asked for the increased allowance.

Council Holds Busy Sessio[illegible] Tuesday Ni[illegible]

Engineer Stewart[illegible] Report on Exter[illegible] Sewers in North[illegible]

The city council at a lengthy session Tuesday evening disposed of numerous matters, deferred action on others until an adjourned session next Tuesday, and referred several problems to committees for further study.

City Engineer Douglas Stewart submitted a report in connection with the proposed extension of sewer and water mains to serve a large area recently annexed to the city on its north border. The report indicated that the western part of the area in Fairfax addition could be served by gravity sewers, but that the rest of the area would require installation of another sewer lift.

The report estimated the cost of installing sanitary sewers in the entire area at $58,500, with water mains costing an additional $39,000, or a total of $107,500. Stewart said the cost could be reduced substantially by eliminating a portion of the more sparsely settled districts from the project.

No breakdown in costs is as yet available to show the estimated charges that would be made against individual property holders. Stewart indicated that before proceeding with the project it will be necessary first to define the limits of sewer districts. The entire matter was referred to the council tax and assessment committee for study.

No objectors appearing at a hearing called for the purpose, the council ordered work done on several bituminous treatment projects, including sections of Kendall av., Zeh st., Atlantic av. from Second to Third st.; and Second st. from Atlantic av. to Horace av. Three more petitions for similar work were read, and a hearing was scheduled for the June 16 meeting.

Stewart also reported on a proposed sewer installation on Kendall av. S. from Michael to Greenwood sts., estimating the cost of the work at a total of $4,300, with an additional $5,400 required for water main installation. A hearing on the matter was set for June 16.

Legion Poppy Day Set for Saturday

Auxiliary to Sell Them Also on Friday Evening

Poppy Day will be observed in Thief River Falls and throughout most of the nation on Friday evening, May 22, and Saturday, May 23, a week before Memorial Day, it was announced today by Mrs. Norman Peterson, president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

On that day everyone will be asked to wear a memorial poppy in honor of the dead of the two World Wars and the Korean conflict.

The poppies, made by disabled veterans, are replicas of the wild poppies that grow in Flanders Field, and will be distributed by volunteers from the Auxiliary.

Contributions received in exchange for the poppy will be used for the Auxiliary's work among disabled veterans and for needy children of veterans largely supported by these contributions.

Poppy posters made by pupils in the local schools are on display in the store windows this week, the prize-winning posters being in the Ben Franklin Store window.

Canadians "Invade" City Past Week-end

Baptist Pastor

REV. ELMER L. BRENNEISE

Who early in June will take over the pastorate of the First Baptist church in Thief River Falls following his graduation June 1 from the seminary course of Bethel college and seminary in St. Paul. Before completing his seminary course he served the Eagle Point Baptist church in Marshall county for more than a year, and during the past year he has been engaged in youth work at White Bear Lake. He will succeed Rev. Wesley Lindblom, who resigned last February to accept a pastorate in South Dakota.

A near-record influx of Canadian people, taking advantage of their Empire Day holiday Monday, taxed Thief River Falls facilities to the limit over the weekend.

J. M. Roche, secretary of the Civic and Commerce association, estimated that more than 100 cars came from across the border, bringing over 500 visitors to the city.

Local hotels and tourist cabins were quickly filled to capacity, and Roche's office found sleeping accomodations for approximately 150 in private homes, in addition to which about 35 stayed at the hotel in Red Lake Falls.

The B. P. O. Does helped provide Sunday dinner for the visitors by serving nearly 200 persons in the Elks club rooms during the afternoon. The Canadians also made use of the facilities of local parks, and liberally patronized stores in the city.

A similar friendly invasion is expected over the Memorial Day weekend, with Tuesday, June 2, being observed as Coronation Day in Canada.

Outlook Is for More Than 200 Calves to Be Entered in 1953 Show

President Stuart McLeod of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association reports that plans are virtually complete for the fourth annual Northwest Dairy Day Tuesday, June 9, in Thief River Falls.

Last year there were over 200 entries and it is expected that this year will exceed that figure as all early reports being turned in by county agents in the eleven participating counties indicate that there are more entries in every section. The following counties had entries last year: Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Red Lake, Pennington, Mahnomen, Norman, Polk, Clearwater and Beltrami. In each of these counties, 4-H and FFA boys and girls are busy preparing their animals for the show which has today become the largest dairy show of its kind.

Russell Erickson of Badger, who was last year's grade champion winner, will be awarded a purebred Holstein calf. This calf has been selected for Northwest Dairy Day by W. S. Moscrip of Lake Elmo, Minn., one of the nation's top Holstein breeders, who has nationwide fame as an outstanding dairy judge. This year's award calf comes from the Minnesota state prison farm herd at Stillwater and is an animal any dairyman would be proud to own. The award calf is known as Bayport Admiral Hedie and will make excellent foundation stock for a purebred herd.

The Dairy Day committee has secured the services of Ben Salmela of the Grand Rapids experiment station, Ralph Wayne of the University extension service and John Stewart, field man for the Holstein Friesian association as judges for the event. Salmela and Wayne were judges last year, while Mr. Stewart is a new member of the judging team and comes highly recommended as being one of the best in his field. With these three judges giving the entries a thorough inspection, every one of the contestants must be in top condition to win. Each year shows a distinct improvement in both care of animal and showmanship and this year will undoubtedly have the highest caliber of all, said McLeod.

Each county which has partic-

Bridgemans Sponsor Majorettes Unit as Half-pint Drum Corps

MISS MARLENE JENSEN

Reigning Northwest Dairy Princess since her coronation in Thief River Falls on Dairy Day last June, who will be a guest of the Civic and Commerce association dinner meeting Thursday evening at 6:30 in the Elks club rooms. She will tell of her experiences in St. Paul Monday, when she joined with Governor C. Elmer Anderson in proclaiming June as Dairy Month.

Announcement was made this week by Mrs. David Carlson, director of the Majorette Drum & Bugle Corps, that arrangements have been completed whereby Bridgeman's Creameries of Thief River Falls and Crookston will sponsor the unit effective immediately.

The unit has been renamed Bridgeman's "Half Pints" drum and bugle corps. Mrs. Carlson states, "from time to time we have worked with Bill LaFave, manager of the local Bridgeman company, and he has always willingly aided in whatever respect possible, so it seemed natural to turn to Bridgemans when we decided to secure a sponsor."

Several months ago the Parental group, composed of corps members' parents, voted unanimously to secure a sponsor for the unit. At the April meeting of the Parental group the parents voted in favor of releasing the corps entirely to director and sponsor, but to continue the parental group as a social organization and to sponsor a rummage sale in May with proceeds to go to the corps to pay deficit bills.

Officers of the Parental group are: President, Mrs. Bernard Wold; vice president, Mrs. Palmer Johnson; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Milton Hanson.

Under the new sponsorship, Mrs. Carlson will continue as director and corps manager with Mrs. Bernard Wold and Mrs. Andrew Kisch appointed to assist her as corps advisors. The corps will continue to operate as an independent unit which again this year numbers 80, altho 68 high point members only will be used in touring.

The group is receiving new lime-green blouses in addition to two new bass drums and unit banner.

Age limits for corps membership is 10 thru 19 years with membership open to any girl in the area. Present members are from Thief River Falls, Goodridge, Mavie, St. Hilaire and Winger.

A total of 1,138 votes was cast, with 902 voting Yes and 236 No. The unofficial tabulation is as follows:

The vote in that election was less decisive, being 1,035 Yes and 765 No.

In a formal statement elsewhere in this issue of The Times, the hospital board expresses its appreciation to local citizens for their favorable action on the bond issue.

A delegation from the hospital board Tuesday evening told the council it will be necessary before July 1 to advise the state department of health, which is administering the allotment of Hill-Burton federal grants, that the proceeds of the $200,000 bond issue are available. The council informed the delegation that a date for the sale of the bonds may be fixed next Tuesday at a conference here with T. G. Evenson, Minneapolis bond consultant.

The board members also stated that it will be necessary to move the city power lines and cable at present crossing a portion of the hospital property in order to avoid interfering with the proposed addition. Arrangements were made for a meeting of board members with the council's electric light committee.

Council Conducts Lengthy Session Tuesday Evening

Police Chief Ken Judy reported that Mrs. Helen Erickson, while employed in her husband's tavern, The Whip on LaBree av. N., had permitted intoxicating liquor to be brought on to the premises and had been fined May 6 in municipal court. Acting favorably on the chief's recommendation, supported by Mayor Harry E. Simons, the council voted to suspend the beer license of The Whip for a ten-day period, starting at once.

The council deferred until next Tuesday action on a proposal by the Pennington county board to exchange the present site of the court house for a portion of the west side park property, where the board has indicated it would like to build the new court house.

Mayor Simons' reappointment to the recreation board of Bill LaFave and Ole Engelstad was confirmed. Also approved was a request from the safety council that a speed limit of ten miles per hour be established in parks in Thief River Falls, and that the necessary signs be installed.

Largest of seven building permit applications approved in the aggregate amount of $30,000 were issued to Iver Nelson & Sons for a house to be built at 223 Maple av. N. at a cost of $20,000, and for one to be erected by Walter Monroe at 120 Merriam av. N. to cost $8,000.

Three proposed ordinances were given their second reading at the session. One regulates the hours of on-sale liquor places, the second regulates the installation of television antennae and the third regulates salesmen calling at private homes to sell goods or solicit orders.

The other project calls for grading of 6.1 miles on State Aid Road 2 from Greenwood cemetery to the junction with SAR 1 east of St. Hilaire, requiring 84,000 cubic yards of excavation.

Bids will be opened June 10 in the office of County Auditor Levi Johnson in Warren on grading, soil stabilized gravel base and gravel surfacing of 10.9 miles between the intersection of CAR 24 and CAR 27 northeast of Warren and the junction with SAR 4 one mile south of Old Mill state park. Dental Cards Due by Tuesday, May 26

School Nurse Issues Reminder to Parents

The deadline for the return of the pink dental cards is Tuesday, May 26. If your child has had his dental work completed and has not returned his pink card to the school, will you please do so at once, said Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse.

The pink card is not the important part of our dental health program, she said, but is the only way we can measure what actually has been done. Every child should have a dental check-up twice a year, but in our program we ask that each child indicate by the pink card that he has at least had one check each year.

The fact that our dental health is very bad in Thief River, she said, is proved by our dental card return in past years. Last year in Minnesota there were 720 schools or rooms that had 100% card returns — and none of them were from Thief River Falls. Thief River Falls has had no room with 100% rating for many years.

Pruning

Spring - flowering shrubs should be pruned as soon as they finish flowering. This group of shrubs includes the garland and Vanhoutte spirea, mock orange, honeysuckle, lilac, Deutzia, dogwood and the flowering plum.

• • •

In pruning, try to retain the natural form of the shrub. Cut out a few of the oldest stems clear to the ground. Long branches that may project over a sidewalk or out over the lawn may be cut back to a side branch or a bud. This type of pruning encourages new growth for the base and keeps the shrubs young and attractive.

• • •

Certain evergreens should be pruned now. The mugho pine should be pruned just as new growth is starting. When the buds are elongating, they can be broken off or cut back. This will thicken the growth and keep the plant compact. Irregular growth on young pine and spruce trees can be corrected by cutting back some of the branches that have grown too much. This would also be a good time to check these trees for double leaders. Cut off all but one such leader to prevent a double or triple top.

• • •

Red cedars should be sheared to keep them compact. Cut back the side branches with a sharp knife or a pair of hedge shears. It may be necessary to repeat this type of pruning again later in the season, since this plant makes new growth throughout the season. The arborvitae or white cedar should be pruneu in the same way.

LAST

Turkey Poults of the season

WE ARE GOING TO SACRIFICE ALL OF THE STARTED POULTS WE HAVE ON HAND AT LESS THAN REGULAR DAY OLD PRICES — WHILE THEY LAST!

4,000 three week old pure Norminn Broad Breasted Bronze straight run @ 79c ea.

3000 two week old pure Norminn Broad Breasted Bronze straight run @ 73c each.

We have only two hatches of Broad Breasted Bronze poults left unsold the last half of May and two hatches left in early June. These will be sold at 73c for the Norcals and 72c for the Norminns. Last hatch comes off June 15th.

There will be 15 to 20% less heavy turkeys hatched in the U. S. this year than last.

Storage is 15 to 20 million pounds below last year.

Heavy toms are bringing 50c a lb. New York and will go higher as storage is cleaned up.

Most hatcheries quit setting 2 to 4 weeks ago so poults are going to be sold out soon. If you're going to raise turkeys this year, buy them now when the prices are still low. They may go higher when poults get scarce.

Lions Hear Soil Conservationist

Wm. Russel of St. Paul Office Addresses Club

Wm. Russell of the St. Paul office of the Minnesota soil conservation service, was the guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe.

Introduced by Don Lawrence of the Thief River Falls office, Russell discussed the wise use of land so that it will yield well and keep on producing indefinitely.

He said that the last two world wars resulted in part from the shortage of fertile soil, and he added that Russia has taken over large areas in Manchuria and East Germany capable of producing food surpluses and apparently has designs on Burma.

Russell also mentioned the fact that Thief River Falls is now headquarters for the soil conservation service in Northern Minnesota.

Sweet Clover Weevils

According to reports received at the office the last few days the sweet clover weevil is doing a lot of damage this year. Sweet clover weevils are grey or brownish-grey insects about one quarter of an inch long. The adults overwinter in trash and surface soil. They mate and lay eggs early in the spring which hatch about July 15. This summer generation of weevils may be as destructive, or more destructive, than the overwintering adults.

Sweet clover weevils make characteristic crescent-shaped notches in leaves upon which they feed. The weevils are often difficult to see because of their color and because they commonly fall to the ground when they are disturbed. Even though the weevils may be difficult to see, their injury is easily seen. One can decide whether or not the weevils are present in his field by looking for these characteristic notches in the plant leaves.

Following are the recommended methods of control based on studies by the Department of Entomology in the Crookston area in 1952.

Any of the following materials applied at the rates indicated and timed according to the recommendations given below, should prevent destruction of new seedings by the weevils. Either dusts or sprays may be used.

1. Aldrin, one to two pounds active ingredient per acre.
2. Heptachlor, one to two pounds active ingredient per acre.
3. DDT, at least two pounds active ingredient per acre. There is evidence to indicate that application of a higher rate of DDT may be desirable.
4. Toxaphene, two pounds active ingredient per acre.

Present evidence indicates that insecticides should be applied if the characteristic notches made by the weevils are found in the plant leaves. For best results, the materials should be applied when the seedlings are in the two-leaf stage. A second treatment may be necessary the latter part of June or during July to control the summer generation of weevils. Some fields in the Crookston area had 150 of these weevils per square foot in 1952. Some new seedings of alfalfa and sweet clover that had good stands the latter part of June, was completely destroyed later by weevils that emerged in July.

At present costs and at the rates recommended, DDT is the most economical material suggested, but, on the basis of our present evidence, aldrin and heptachlor are more effective in controlling the weevil.

Dairy Day Coming

It is only a few days now until the 4th annual Dairy Day will be here in Thief River Falls. 4-H members in dairy all over the county are busy working with their calves to get them prepared for the show. Beginning early is important in preparing livestock for the show ring. At Dairy Day the calves are judged partially on how they are fitted and how well they are shown. Those who started training and working with their calves early will have an advantage over the others. Outside of our state fair this is the largest 4-H dairy show that I have seen in Minnesota and for those of you who haven't I think you ought to reserve June 9 for Dairy Day this year. It is really something to see.

To receive it, write or call the office and we will put you on the mailing list.

Prune Trees and Shrubs

Pruning shade trees and shrubs would improve the appearance of many home yards. This is a real simple job but it should be done yearly to prevent misshapen plants. The best time for shade trees and summer flowering shrubs is in early April. Sring flowering shrubs should not be pruned until after they finish blooming this spring. A couple of items to remember: First, always retain the natural form of the trees and in pruning large branches be sure to undercut to prevent the bark from tearing along the trunk.

South St. Paul Livestock Market Report—Monday

Slaughter Cattle and Calves

Volume of cattle marketings here as well as at other leading terminals fell substantially below a week ago. Most of the local supplies consisted of slaughter steers and heifers, with steers out-numbering heifers by long odds. Quality of the steer crop was very attractive, including a larger percentage of average to high-Choice grades than in several weeks. Cows accounted for about one-fourth of the supplies, while stocker and feeder classes made up a skimpy 10 percent. Demand was brisk for all slaughter catle right from the opening and in an active market prices ranged steady for 50c higher than last week's close. Most sales were strong to 50c up. In the steer and yearling division, the full half dollar upturn seemed to center on Good and Choice grades, but even the lower grades were carried upward in the active market. Vealers sold steady with Friday's general trade. Replacement classes held about steady, but demand was none too brisk as some Choice stockers were still unsold at a late hour.

STEERS AND HEIFERS: There were loads of mostly Prime 1,283-lb. steers and Choice to Prime 1,258 lb. weights at $23.00, the day's top. A load of mostly Prime 1,335 lb. weights cashed at $22.50 and several loads average to high-Choice steers ranging in weight from 940 lbs. to 1,182 lbs. also sold at $22.50. Bulk Good and Choice steers and yearlings cleared at $19.50-22.00 and there were probably about two-dozen loads of steers or more at the $22.00 figure. A two-load shipment of average-Choice 1,167 lb. steers made $22.25. Some Choice 807 lb. heifers cashed at $21.50, most Good and Choice heifers selling at $19.00-21.00, Commercial steers and heifers cleared at $16.00-18.00 while Utility grade brought $14.00-16.00, Canner and Cuter steer and heifers cleared at $12.00-13.50.

COWS: Some high-Commercial young lightweight cows sold at $15.50, bulk Utility and Commercial grades going at $13.00-15.00. Canners and Cuters cleared generally at $10.50-12.50.

BULLS: A spread of $14.00-15.50 took Cutter and Utility bulls while Commercial and Good grades moved within a narrow range of $13.50-14.00. Canner bulls were taken at $12.00-13.50.

Prowler Track Team Retains Dist. 31 Title

With Wayne Kotaska scoring firsts in the pole vault and high jump events, and with Mike Hajostek getting a second place in the 440-yard run, Oliver Swanson gaining second place points in the half-mile and the high hurdles, and Bob Helgeland tossing the discus for a second place, Coach Quentin Jones' Lincoln high school track team made a successful, and surprising, defense of their 31st district track and field title, edging out East Grand Forks, 63¼ to 52¼, in the tournament held at Grand Forks on Friday.

Cold and threatening weather again interfered with the Red River Valley league games scheduled for Sunday, with only two of the day's four-game schedule being played.

The Alvarado Farmers, on Hubert Torkelson's homerun over the centerfield fence with a man on base in the first of the 9th inning, edged out the Red Lake Falls Lakers, 9 to 8, in a game played at Red Lake Falls on Sunday. The Lakers at one time held an 8 to 2 lead in the game, but the Farmers took advantage of the lack of control of young Ronnie LaChance, who took over the Lakers' hurling duties from veteran Bill Hallamack when Red Lake Falls moved into a substantial lead, to start a rally, and win on Torkelson's four-base swat.

The Crookston Pirates played their first league game on Sunday, and handed the Nielsville club a 19 to 3 walloping.

Agassiz Scouts to Sponsor Ball Game in G. Forks June 12

Proceeds to Be Used to Develop Training and Camping Programs

Boy Scouts of the Lake Agassiz Council will sponsor an Appreciation Night baseball game between the Grand Forks Chiefs and the St. Cloud Rox, Friday, June 12, it was announced today by Floyd Christianson, chairman of the project.

Proceeds of the game will be used to promote an increased training program for scout leaders and to improve the camping program of the council.

Boy Scouts will sell tickets in Greater Grand Forks and surrounding towns. Three prizes will be awarded to the three scouts selling the greatest number of tickets, says Christianson. First prize is a bicycle with all the "extras," second prize is a scout airmattress, and third prize is a baseball bat.

In addition each scouting unit will receive 10 per cent in cash of tickets sold, or in the case of scout troops and Explorer posts, they may elect to accept 20 per cent credit toward their summer camp reservations.

Appreciation Night tickets will sell for $1 each. In case of rain the tickets will be good for the June 13 game, Christianson said.

Two Big Golfing Events

The local golf club is moving into the tournament season on Sunday, May 24th, when it will sponsor a Spring Shortstop tourney. Tee-off time will be at 8:30 A. M., and merchandise prizes will be awarded to the flight winners, runners-up, and consolation winners. Entries for the shortstop will be accepted until 9:00 P. M. on Saturday night, and they may be made by phone, calling 983, that's the club house number, or by calling Bob Harmon or Vic Jung.

And the other attractive event on the golf club's early-season program is the National Golf Day competition scheduled for Saturday, May 23rd. For an entry fee of $1.00 (non-members must pay green fees), a golfer will be eligible to play eighteen holes of medal play, and his score will be matched, with handicap being used, against that of National Open champion, Julius Boros.

Incidentally, there is considerable interest being generated over the two golf leagues that are scheduled to begin play on June 3rd. Present plans call for a series of pre-season exhibition matches, with the teams from the National league meeting the American league teams. It's common knowledge, and a foregone conclusion, that the American league is the more powerful circuit, having such number one players as Bob Harmon, Ward Nichols, Frank Tunberg, Kern Olson, Lloyd Bennes, Kenny Nelson, Stan Larson, and Phil LeGault.

The Year's Surprise

When Frank Mead, in the final event on the program, gained a fourth place in the broad jump, the Prowlers added the two points that gave Coach Quent Jones' squad a total of 53¼ points and one-point edge over the favored runner-up East Grand Forks Green Wave in the 31st district track and field meet held at North Dakota U's Memorial Stadium on Friday.

The Prowler track coach put in long and arduous hours in order to record that surprising and satisfying team victory and make a successful defense of the track title that was won by a lop-sided point total last year. Jones expressed immense satisfaction over the manner in which his youngsters (and the bulk of his squad is composed of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors) came through under pressure. You will recall that Prowlers were able to score but 2 1.5 points in the Sioux Relays held at Grand Forks a month or so ago. That the locals were able to score 53¼ points, and win the district title, was a surprise, and it was a job well done.

Harry's Publication

Harry Newby, the former St. Olaf College all-state football and track star, and later a coach here for one season, and now county auditor for Carlton county, is the publisher of a "Sports" publication that is due to present its first issue this week. Harry states that the paper will be issued every week, and will be devoted to sports, on a state-wide scale, featuring articles, pictures, cartoons, etc.

Nibbles

Judging by an informal poll of the local anglers, and from personal observation, it is agreed that the walleyed-pike fishing season, which opened on Saturday, had its slowest opening day in memory.

Such walleyed "hot spots" as Springsteel Island, Rocky Point, and Long Point, all on Lake of the Woods, produced "blanks." Experienced fishermen claimed that the storm that had blown down over the lake on Thursday and Friday, and which had rolled and disturbed the water, can be blamed for the lack of action by the fish on Saturday and Sunday. Waskish, too, was troubled by rolled water, and the result was that the fishing was very slow. There were several limit catches made by anglers who had the patience to sit and still-fish at the mouth of the Tamarac river.

While much of the walleyed-pike water appeared to be without fish life of any kind, there were three places where fishermen were able to make some catches. Morris Point, on Lake of the Woods, came through with numerous limits, and the largest walleye reported, an eight and half pounder caught by George Bale, came from there. Shotley brook, on upper Red Lake, produced limit catches, particularly on Saturday, and in fact there were a number of anglers who made over-the-limit catches and were nabbed by the game wardens as they came in to the dock; and the Blackduck river, from all reports, had the most anxious walleyes of all. The difficulty with the latter place was in getting to the river, so that you could float your boat.

The consensus of the guides is that the combination of rolly water and the cold weather of the previous week was the factor that "spoiled" the opener. It was reported that the walleyes haven't completed their spawning runs yet, and that a real "high" in pike activity won't be due for a week or ten days.

Personally, we opened the season by fishing for three hours at Long Point without getting a nibble, and then we cranked up the five-horse and made a fourteen-mile boat ride to Morris Point, and there, three of us, were able to lure twelve walleyes into the boat.

North 6 Baseball Loop Starts Play

The North Six Baseball league, just recently formed, and comprising teams from Gully, Trail, Grygla, Goodridge, Clover, and Weme, will move into its second week of play on Sunday, May 24th, with Trail playing at Grygla, Clover at Gully, and Weme at Goodridge.

On May 31st, the schedule will have Grygla at Clover, Goodridge at Gully, and Trail at Weme. All league games are scheduled to begin at 2:00 p.m.

Prowler Ball Team Scores Two Victories

Defeat Oslo 17 to 12 Here Last Friday and Fertile 23 to 2 Monday

Coach Ralph Skjod's baseball Prowlers fashioned out a pair of convincing victories in the two games played during the week, defeating Oslo, 17 to 12, here on Friday afternoon, and trouncing Fertile, 23 to 2, at Fertile on Monday afternoon.

On Wednesday, the Prowlers will travel to Oslo to play the game that was originally billed for last Wednesday. On Friday afternoon, at 4:15 p. m., Coach Charley Picken's Alvarado club will play a return game here; and on Tuesday evening, under the lights on Crookston's Highland Park, the Prowlers will meet Coach Lloyd Fezler's Pirates in an important district conference tilt.

Last year the Pirates provided the Prowlers with their greatest threat in the district tourney, and Coach Fezler, with Bobby Caouette and Loren Hegland available for pitching duties, will again provide the locals with first-rate opposition.

Last Friday afternoon's game, played here under cold and windy weather conditions, found the Prowlers moving ahead to a 16 to 4 lead at the end of the 5th inning. With numerous reserves in the Prowler lineup in the 6th inning, Oslo rallied to roll eight runs across the plate, but that spurt was snuffed out in 7th, and, with the locals adding a run, the Prowlers hung up a 17 to 12 win.

On Monday afternoon, playing at Fertile, lefty Leroy Aasland, pitching the first three innings, Joe Poole, hurling the 4th and 5th frames, and Lee Bakke, right-handing the 6th and 7th innings, held Fertile hitless as Coach Skjod's squad recorded a 23 to 2 triumph.

While the three Prowler hurlers were chucking no-hit ball, the Prowler stickers were hammering the Fertile pitchers for 17 hits. Joe Poole had a three for six day, while Larry Gilbertson and Aasland each collected a pair of safeties in three trips to the plate.

Gets Big One at 81

The old-timers refuse to take a back seat for youth when it comes to catching big fish. For example, a 13-pound 14-ounce Northern pike is pictured above with Jens Jensen, 81-year-old fisherman living at 623 St. Paul av. So., who caught it Saturday morning, May 16, the opening day of the angling season, while fishing in Thief River from the golf course bridge. He was using minnows for bait.

Fosston at Clearbrook

The Northern Minny league opened its 1953 season on Sunday afternoon, and the St. Hilaire Saints, Plummer Red Sox, and Erskine Merchants, racked up victories.

The Saints, with veteran right hander Woody Almquist tangling in duel with Fosston's Sonny Johnson, defeated Fosston at Fosston in the day's "top" game, winning by a 3 to 1 score. Three of the Prowlers baseball squad are members of the Saints—Mike Hajostek, Larry Gilbertson, and Cal Vraa—and the boys performed creditably. Larry rapped out three hits and tallied a pair of runs.

The Plummer Red Sox, behind the steady pitching of Jesse DuChamp, defeated Clearbrook, 8 to 5, at Plummer; and Erskine bested Gonvick and Ray Oliver to win a 15 to 6 decision.

State social welfare expenditures in 1951 amounted to 63,826,661.

Governor Endorses June as Dairy Month

June Dairy Month has received official endorsement by Governor C. Elmer Anderson, signaling the approach of a host of special events during June paying tribute to Minnesota's dairy farmer.

It also brought attention to dairying's importance in Minnesota's basic economy with the latest facts and figures on production and income.

Governor Anderson issued his June Dairy Month endorsement at a kickoff luncheon in St. Paul sponsored by the St. Paul Association of Commerce and the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce.

Participating in the program were Fred Jones, Chicago, June Dairy Month national chairman; Ben Zakariasen, acting state chairman; and Charles Berend, champion buttermaker from Frazee, Minnesota.

Marlene Jensen, Northwest Dairy Princess from Ada, presented Governor Anderson with an armful of Minnesota dairy products.

Others on the program were William Moscrip, chairman of the Minnesota Dairy Industries Committee and Floyd Thompson, manager of Minnesota Creamery Operators and Managers Association.

Dairy regions throughout the state will observe June Dairy Month with local celebrations of dairy princess contests, calf shows, parades, sports events and a variety of other features.

Thief River Falls will stage its Northwest Dairy Day on June 9. A Dairy night at Lexington Park in St. Paul and at the St. Paul Saints — Indianapolis Indians baseball game June 13 is expected to draw fans from throughout the state. Numerous prizes of dairy products will be awarded during the game.

That dairying is of prime importance to every citizen of Minnesota, whether directly or indirectly, is told fully in facts and figures just released in the report, "Minnesota's Cattle and Dairy Industry," compiled by the Minnesota State-Federal Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, the state capitol.

Last year in Minnesota, for instance, an average of 1,309,000 milk cows produced over eight billion pounds of milk.

More butter is produced in Minnesota than in any other state and nonfat dry milk production is second only to that of Wisconsin.

Old Mill Park to Open on May 30th

Many Trees Planted in Park in Recent Weeks

Old Mill State park, playground for thousands of Northwestern Minnesota residents, will officially open on Memorial Day, May 30, E. A. Jewell, park superintendent, announced last week.

Much work is being done in the park in preparation for the opening. Recent rains will do much to assure a supply of fresh water for the park pool which will be filled in time for the opening.

During recent weeks, 3,000 trees have been planted with Boy Scouts from the Holt troop assisting Mr. Jewell with the project. Most of the trees planted are Norway pine, jack pine, and spruce. Many of the Norways were planted near the entrance while a heavy planting was made in the southeast corner, said Mr. Jewell. Upwards of 15,000 trees will be planted in future years, according to present plans.

Tips on Freezers Given by Co. Agent

Should Be Well Filled, Mittenes Points out

Empty space in the home freezer is no economy, says County Agent Ray Mitteness.

At this season, food supplies in freezers often run low, but the freezer uses just as much electricity on the vacant spaces as on frozen food that could be occupying them. Therefore, keeping the freezer full is one rule for thrift and convenience.

When food supplies are low, it's a good time to defrost and wash the freezer, take inventory and repack, placing the oldest foods on top to use up first. Then freezer vacancies could be filled with meat or with baked goods to save cooking time during the busy season ahead.

Homemakers often ask if the freezing of food doesn't run up electric costs considerably. According to Dr. Earl McCracken, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who does research on freezing units, the motor does run a little more to freeze than to hold frozen food. But Dr. McCracken's figures on operating costs show that more than 90 per cent of the electricity used annually by a freezer is to hold foods at zero degrees F., and less than 10 per cent is for freezing. The savings in freezing home-produced foods, or foods that can be purchased at low cost, more than offset the cost of current used for the freezing.

Another economy point freezer owners should understand is that the more food that "goes through" the freezer, the less the operating cost per pound. It's using, not saving, food in the freezer that pays. Families who arrange to "live out" of their freezers as much as possible and thus have a rapid turnover of frozen food make the most economical use of this appliance.

Garden Valley Co. Maps Betterment of Phone System

St. Hilaire Plant to Be Rehabilitated and Dial Phones Installed

At a letting held at Erskine last Thursday, the directors of the Garden Valley Telephone company accepted the bid of the Zontelli Construction company of Ironton, Minnesota for the construction of pole line in the Beltrami, Gully, St. Hilaire and Fertile exchanges at a cost of $239,000. The work to be done under this contract calls for the complete rehabilitation of the rural plant in these exchanges.

At a previous meeting of the board, bids for automatic switchboards were accepted and Stromberg-Carlson Company of Rochester, New York was awarded the contract for building and installing these in twenty exchanges of the company at a cost of approximately $500,000. Delivery of the first board is set for July, and this installation will go into the Beltrami exchange, to be followed by the installation of boards at intervals of a month or six weeks in other exchanges with Gully, St. Hilaire and Fertile following Beltrami.

Very shortly bids for the construction of buildings to house dial equipment will be advertised and it is expected that a number of new buildings will be erected this summer.

While rural pole line, buildings and switchboards are being built by the various contractors, the Garden Valley Company will lay thousands of feet of underground cable in the different towns and do the installing of the new telephones with its own personnel.

WELCOME CANADIANS

Canadians had themselves a holiday Monday and there were not enough accommodations to provide for the many who visited "south of the border" over the weekend. Manitoba cars outnumbered Minnesota cars on the streets of Thief River Falls Sunday morning. And they were very welcome visitors.

As time goes on we will see more of our Canadian neighbors down here and they will see more of us up there. As the great empire north of us develops—it is the fastest growing country in the world today—there will be more trade through the channels of commerce that pass our door.

And there should be no barriers to that trade. Any barriers to a free exchange of goods and services between our countries would be just as detrimental to progress as barriers against trade between states. The advantages of a free exchange of goods and services far outweigh the disadvantages.

We are two governments but more and more we are becoming one people. As we work together we give each other strength.

GRATIFYING VOTE

Thief River Falls citizens kept faith with the people of the large area served by the city when they voted Friday to put the full faith and credit of the city behind a bond issue that will make possible the building of adequate hospital facilities. There always are valid reasons for voting against going into debt. Because of lack of harmony there has been an understandable lack of enthusiasm over the hospital expansion program. These considerations make the one-sided result of the election especially gratifying. That result could be achieved only with the realization that it is now or never with this program. Out of this result could come the kind of unity that is necessary to the successful operation of a community hospital. We now are practically assured of a million dollar development in community health service. By a united effort we may hope for continued growth as a medical center.

TRUCE SOON POSSIBLE

"A Korean truce by the end of June is now a real possibility," thinks Business Week in its May 16 issue. That word "possibility" gives its user a lot of leeway but it is encouraging nevertheless to be told that "—the two sides are closer than they have ever been."

In spite of the deadlocks in truce negotiations and the statements on both sides that there will be no further yielding, concessions are being made. Those who now see brighter prospects for peace base their hopes on the fact that both sides are giving ground. They also point to several recent developments that indicate the Reds have had their fill of fighting in Korea too and, for the time being at least, actually desire peace.

The unexplained Red withdrawal in Laos is one of the "possible" favorable signs. The recent release of an American correspondent imprisoned for alleged spying is looked upon as another "friendly" act.

Referring to Churchill's recent suggestion for a top level pow-wow with Russia's new leaders, Business Week is certain the Prime Minister was confident of a Korean truce when he made his statement and that sharing this view were the heads of several other European free nations.

And so while our Senator Joe McCarthy and Britain's Labor party leader, Clement Attlee, plunge us into new wars from day to day, we can get comfort out of the cheerful report that the less noisy but more diplomatic officials who carry the responsibility of making decisions are making some progress toward securing a satisfactory solution.

In another month summer will be here officially, which means that it is still early in the growing season and we are off to a good start. The pay-off is at the end of the season. They don't hand out rewards at the beginning of a contest. But with a good start the chances are always better for a favorable finish.

One of these days there is going to be an enthusiastic drive for funds to build a ball park—lighted for night baseball and with an outfield fence to knock home runs over. And our guess is that such a drive would meet with much enthusiastic support. The records of other communities indicate that this is one type of project that is comparatively easy to finance.

President Ike thinks that the first step toward tax reduction is reduced spending. This departure from the spend and borrow formula of a couple of decades must sound like a strange philosophy to a lot of our young people. There was a time however, many, many, years ago, when it was thought proper to live within your means and pay your bills.

Sunrise and sunset come pretty close together up here in our country. During the winter months they are separated by only a few hours of daylight. Now, and for several months, just a few hours of twilight keep them apart. It is a perfect arrangement, giving us long hours of sunshine during the growing season and encouraging us to stay in bed during the months when fuel is an item of expense. Another thing we don't dislike about living up here where the summer sun shines through the north windows is the absence of storms. Violent electric storms and damaging winds are rare. Southern newspapers please copy.

We never seem to get caught up with our building needs. This year it's a hospital and a court house along with a long list of routine improvements such as roads, streets, ditches and sewer and water system extensions. We clear a site for a new athletic field to make room for a new school on the old field. And when we complete the construction that is necessary now there will be a long list of other "musts" to argue about—we hope. When we quit building then we will have quit growing.

ORRIN TURNQUIST
EXTENSION HORTICULTURISTS
UNIVERSITY FARM, ST. PAUL 1, MINN.

Warm-Season Crops

Most of the vegetable crops can be planted in the garden as soon as the soil is prepared in the spring. The seed of some vegetables, however, have difficulty germinating when the soil is still cold. These crops include sweet corn, beans, cucumbers, melon, squash and pumpkin. Generally they should not be planted until after mid-May.

• • •

• • •

All flowers on the vine crops will not produce fruit. The flowers with swellings similar to small fruits at the base of the petals are the only ones that can produce fruit. Before fruiting can result it is necessary for bees to transfer pollen to these flowers from the other types of flowers with no swellings. Encourage the bees in your garden. Avoid spraying or dusting plants when the bees are active during the early part of the day.

• • •

Plant your corn in several short, adjacent rows rather than in one or two long continuous ones to provide for better pollination and, as a result, better developed ears of corn. Golden Freezer and Butter Nugget varieties have been found excellent for fresh use or freezing.

• • •

Sow succession plantings of beans at weekly intervals to assure a continuous harvest. Try Wade and Topcrop varieties for high yields of good-quality green beans.

• • •

Cucumbers or melons can be planted between rows of peas, lettuce or other early crops to conserve space. After harvest of the early crops, the space can be taken over by the later-maturing vine crops.

• • •

Don't plant tomatoes, egg plant and peppers out in the garden until after Memorial Day. These tender crops are very sensitive to low temperatures.

OUR LAND

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

Air Tours Planned—Two conservation air tours for this coming summer are now in the planning stages, M. A. Thorfinnson, extension soil conservationist at the University of Minnesota, reports that the first will be held at Fergus Falls July 17, staged by the West Otter Tail soil conservation district. The second, at Detroit Lakes July 21, will be staged by the Becker county soil conservation district. Local chambers of commerce are cooperating, and help is being given in planning and conducting the tours by the state department of aeronautics, Minnesota Flying Farmers, soil conservation service, extension service and state soil conservation committee.

Consider Sudan—When dry summer weather affects other pastures, sudan grass furnishes fresh, green feed for hogs. According to E. F. Ferrin, animal husbandry chief at the University of Minnesota, about twice as many growing pigs per acre can be kept on sudan grass during July and August as on other pastures. If moisture is sufficient to keep standard pasture crops in good condition, remember that sudan makes good hay, providing it is cut before it becomes woody.

Yields Up, Soil Better—Henry Grovdahl, Rochester, a co-operator with the Dodge county soil conservation district, has found that soil conserving practices have paid off in higher yields and richer soil. Average yields for both corn and small grains have increased about 20 bushels an acre since he started conservation farming. Grovdahl says. He now averages 70 to 75 bushels of oats per acre and last year one field of corn made 80 bushels.

Detention Facilities

I am glad to report that early steps are in prospect which will help very much to clear up a problem which long has been needing attention in this state. I refer to the need for separate detention quarters for juveniles.

County and municipal authorities as a rule have made no provision for separate quarters for detention of youthful offenders. As a general practice, boys and girls taken into custody are confined in the regular jail quarters. Youngsters arrested for their first offense are thrown into contact with hardened criminals by this practice and subjected to influences that prove extremely detrimental.

Though impressed with the need for special quarters for juveniles, many of the county boards have hesitated to provide them because of the difficulties of financing the cost and some question as to the power of the boards to pay for separate quarters for juveniles. Members of the Committee on Law Enforcement and Detention of our Governor's Advisory Council on Children and Youth, discussing the matter recently, insisted that action now is imperative. To find what could be done under existing laws, I asked Attorney General Burnquist for an opinion.

The Attorney General has ruled that the county boards have authority to provide facilities for detention of juveniles separate from adults. Further, said the Attorney General, the law states that "No minor under 16 years shall be kept in the same room with other prisoners" and "the Youth Conservation Act forbids imprisonment of the youthful offenders in a jail disapproved by the Youth Conservation Commission."

I think that with this opinion the way now has been cleared for the needed improvement of our detention facilities. I am asking our Youth Conservation Commission, our Advisory Council on Children and Youth and other interested groups to make a further study of this problem and work out plans for a proper detention program for juveniles and forward the suggestions to officials and citizens who must deal with this need. I think that all counties now will want to take early action.

Liquor Use by Minors

Sheriffs of the state are counting on a new law enacted in the recent Legislative session to help curb the use of liquor and beer by minors. The law provides that it shall be illegal for any person under 21 to have liquor or beer in possession. Violation of the act is a misdemeanor. Young people in many communities have been getting liquor and beer and driving out to dance halls and other resorts in rural communities where provision for law enforcement often is inadequate. The act has given the sheriffs a new weapon in dealing with this problem.

Newspapers report that the city council of International Falls has taken a new course to curb drinking by minors. It has decided to refuse renewals of off-sale 3.2 beer licenses of restaurants, grocers and filling stations.

It is good to see the growing concern being taken over sales of liquor and beer to minors. Every step that will provide added protection for our youth should receive general encouragement.

OLIVER RECORD HELPS U. S. STEEL WIN AWARD

At the recent meeting of the National Safety Council the top award of honor was presented to United States Steel Corporation. The remarkable safety record of U. S. Steel's Minnesota subsidiary, Oliver Iron Mining Company, helped materially in the record which once again won top national honors.

Pouring Liquid Iron

WHITE HOT IRON FLOWS like water from this ladle in a Virginia, Minnesota, foundry. Wearing safety glasses to protect their eyes, Werner Samuelson and Wayne Pelt are pouring castings to be used by an iron mining company in a big ore washing plant. This is a highly specialized business in the Range country. Iron mining is responsible for the growth of hundreds of such independent firms which employ thousands of Minnesotans in non-mining jobs. In fact, every 1,000 mining employees really account for the support of some 7,000 Minnesotans. And the ore industry's value to the state will become even greater if it is given the same treatment as other Minnesota industries receive.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

PTA Gets Stung by a "Bee"

The local PTA is feeling sheepish today. Seems they complained the youngsters weren't learning enough. Said they couldn't even spell. So the kids challenged them to a spelling bee.

"I was captain of the PTA'ers," "Doc" Brown told me. "Both teams made the first round just fine. But on the second round Speedy Taylor went down on 'efficiency.' Then his boy Chip, who happened to be next on the school team, rattled it right off. From then on it was murder!"

So now "Doc" says that the whole PTA is thinking of signing up for night school!

From where I sit, it always pays to look and think before you leap to conclusions. Take those folks who would deny us a temperate glass of beer without a moment's thought. They wouldn't want me to interfere with their personal preferences for, say, buttermilk. It's a good idea to think twice before you "spell out" rules for your neighbor.

Under one simple budget payment you can do all of these things. You only have to look at the thousands of unpainted shacks in many of our southern states to appreciate how important paint can be. Unpainted buildings will go to pieces in a short time unless paint protects them. Boards check, water penetrates and then you face added expense. Do the job right and it is done for a long time. IT SOMETIMES HAPPENS THAT WAY

Many years ago a Winnebago resident, now 68, was struck on the head by a broken pole and severely injured. Now, like sheep, he submits to only one "shearing" a year, in the spring, creating quite a local occasion.—A Wabasso man attracted national attention by building an 8x10x12 house or shrine of bottles.—A "lost and found" department in Minneapolis recently loaned a pair of unclaimed glasses to a lady until she found her own.—Encountered in recent travels was a "Dead End" street leading, of all places, to a cemetery!

Let us show you how good baled hay can be

The best way to judge hay quality is to examine it in the barn this time of year. Here are some things you will notice about rolled bales:

1 The hay is bright and green — just like it was baled!
2 Leaves are sealed inside the bale — almost no leaf loss during handling.
3 Bales that have been rained on are still good — they shed the showers.
4 Rolled bales handle without waste — won't buckle, break or fall apart.
5 Rolled bales are easy to feed — rolled out, cut open, or fed whole.

Let us show you why hay in rolled bales is winning blue ribbons for quality at leading shows. Your livestock needs the best.

State Park Visitors Must Buy $1 Permits

Visitors to Minnesota's state parks will henceforth lend a helping hand toward rejuvenation and improvement of these lands of leisure as a result of a law passed by the 1953 legislature.

Under the law, no motor vehicle may be permitted to enter any state park unless it has affixed to its windshield a "sticker" permit. The stickers, which will be made available shortly to the public will sell for $1.00 and entitle the car and occupants to entrance to any of the state parks during the year of issuance.

Receipts from sale of permits are appropriated solely for the operation & maintenance of the parks. This will provide for badly needed repairs and improvements and for a thorough rehabilitation of run-down park buildings and facilities. Members of the legislature conceived this plan for raising revenue, in the belief that state park visitors would be glad to contribute towards better maintenance of state parks for public use.

The permits will be made available through county auditors and local agents, the same as hunting and fishing licenses, as well as through certain Division of State Parks personnel to be designated.

Conservation Commissioner Chester S. Wilson has appealed to all county auditors, chambers of commerce, sportsmen's clubs and other civic groups to cooperate in making the permits available to park visitors and promoting sale of same.

"The cause is a worthy one," Commissioner Wilson declared. "We believe that the plan will receive general approval when park visitors learn that the modest charge for stickers will admit them to all state parks in the state for the entire calendar year, and will provide better park facilities for their enjoyment."

Valley Women to Hold Annual Camp at N. W. School

150 Women Expected to Participate in Event at Crookston June 8 to 11

The twenty-eighth annual Women's Camp at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, will be held June 8 through 11. Advance registrations for the 1953 camp, according to Superintendent T. M. McCall, indicate that 150 women from the Red River Valley counties of Minnesota and North Dakota will be in attendance.

Miss Retta Bede, head of the Home Economics Department and camp leader at the school, announces that the three-day camp is a homemaker's vacation. Outstanding speakers and demonstrators will appear on the program daily with periods for handicraft, recreation, and entertainment.

Miss Dorothy Holland, nationally-known foods demonstrator from the Kraft Foods Company of Chicago, will demonstrate cheese food dishes. Other subjects to be presented include refinishing of furniture, a "fix-it" forum, current health problems, and handicraft. Handicraft offered by authorities in their fields include rug making, lamp shade making, and woodcraft. Feature and educational films will be shown during the week. Swimming in the indoor pool, always a popular form of recreation, will again be under the supervision of a competent instructor.

Officers of the 1953 Women's Camp organization are: Mrs. Walter Nyquist, Moorhead—president; Mrs. Robert Rutherford, Euclid—vice-president; Mrs. Otto Haarstad, Newfolden—secretary; Mrs. Grace Cook, Middle River—treasurer; and Mrs. Adolph Brule, Crookston—sergeant-at-arms.

Women who are interested in attending the camp should write to the Northwest School, Crookston, Minnesota, for advance room reservation.

Drivers Urged to Set Safety Mark on Memorial Day

Every Minnesota motorist can make the observance of Memorial Day this year a truly "memorable" occasion by doing his part to prevent accidents during this great holiday, said Arthur V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council, in making his plea to motorists to drive carefully during the first of the three summer holidays. He called upon everyone to help make the Memorial Day holiday a death-free day and thus establish a new record in the state's traffic safety achievement.

"The closest we have ever come to reaching this enviable goal," he said, "was in 1951 when only one fatality was reported during the two-day Memorial day period. We are again fortunate this year in having the holiday fall on a Saturday, which should very greatly reduce the traffic congestion which inevitably accompanies longer holiday weekends."

With even the two-day holiday, however, it will mean that main trunk highways will be crowded with fishermen, holiday travelers and other motorists attempting to enjoy the first holiday of the summer season. Proper consideration of everyone for the rights of others will enable Minnesota to enjoy this Memorial Day without deaths or serious accidents.

St. Olaf Choir to Sing in Norway in Summer of 1955

At the invitation of Nordmann's Forbundet, the St. Olaf College Lutheran choir of Northfield will make a concert tour of Norway in the summer of 1955. At present 20 concerts are planned in Norway, and it is anticipated that concerts will also be given in the other Scandinavian countries, England, and Germany.

Arrangements for the tour were made during a visit last week at St. Olaf College by Arne Kildal, executive secretary of the Nordmann's Forbundet, the International League of Norsemen.

This will be the third tour of the St. Olaf choir in Norway. In 1913 and 1930 the choir sang there under the direction of its founder, Dr. F. Melius Christiansen. The forthcoming tour will be under the direction of the founder's son and present director, Dr. Olaf C. Christiansen.

Bemidji College Acquires Forest

To Be Used by College as Outdoor Laboratory

By action of Chester S. Wilson, commissioner of conservation, in approving the certificate, and G. Howard Spaeth, commissioner of taxation, in transferring title to the area, the Bemidji state teachers college becomes the owner of the first college forest under the 1949 law.

The forest is 240 acres in size, located nine miles northeast of Bemidji. The college has been using the area since 1948 when the Beltrami board of county commissioners gave authority. During the five years 41,500 trees have been planted on 16 acres and 8 acres remain to be planted.

A stand of timber includes 12 acres of sawlog timber, and 48 acres of various sized trees. A lake and swamp covers 70 acres.

The area will be used as an outdoor laboratory for use of college students to study and work on conservation problems. The present plans include a nature study trail, a study of the effects of chemicals for brush control and effects of deer browse. Firebreaks are to be constructed throughout the area, and section lines and corners will be reestablished.

Under the 1949 law any income from the sale of timber or use of land can be used by the college board for any lawful purpose the board may decide.

The next time you find yourself alongside a new Cadillac at the traffic light—take a good look at the gentleman behind the wheel.
The odds are overwhelming that you'll see a man relaxed and at ease.
For serenity is part and parcel of the great experience of driving a 1953 Cadillac. In fact, owners frequently take to the highway just for the relaxation the car provides.
And well they might. For here, beyond all question, is one of the surest therapeutics for the tension of work-a-day life!
Just sitting there in the driver's seat is enough to put a man at ease. The cushions are deep and luxurious and restful . . . the wheel is perfectly positioned for the driver's hands . . . and beauty and comfort and spaciousness are in every direction.
And driving a Cadillac is as restful as sitting in a Cadillac.
That great, powerful engine responds as if by magic . . . carrying the car in and out of traffic almost as quickly and as easily as the driver makes his decision to do so. Steering is feather-light and effortless . . . and braking calls only for the slightest pressure from the daintiest foot.
Of course, if the driver has chosen a Cadillac Air Conditioner* for his car, he refreshes as he relaxes. With a simple adjustment of a single lever, he can lower the car's interior to any normal temperature he desires—even in the warmest weather.
● ● ● ●
Wouldn't it be wonderful to find such satisfaction in your own motoring? Of course it would—and that's why we suggest that you come in for a personal demonstration.
We'll gladly put you behind the wheel—for the most relaxing hour you ever spent on the highway.
*Optional at extra cost

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare,
University of Minnesota

Is There No Room for Us?

More consideration should be given to the idea that undisturbed playtime is important for children. If extra space in homes is assigned to guest rooms, closets, breakfast nooks, powder room or built-in bar rather than to a playroom or play area, then a family has robbed itself. Children need space to entertain their friends as well as to utilize the contents of a toy box. Planning for play activities within the home is as necessary as any other family arrangement.

Young children need space where they can roll cars without scratching furniture, soiling carpets, or damaging upholstery. Space for building an airport, farm, train or city without interfering with family traffic should be provided. Do not, however, solve the problem by fixing up the basement and expecting the youngsters to remain there all day! Proper supervision, which really is interested acceptance of their activities (with the ready helping hand when it comes to paint, clay, wood-and-nails, or water play) guarantees mutual satisfaction.

Unsupervised activities lead to scolding and household destructiveness which leave the child and his ideas unfulfilled.

The furniture of the home is so designed that children may feel out of place. The do's and don'ts attached to its use are discouraging. A few low hooks for wraps and clothing, low shelves for books and toys will give children a greater feeling of belongingness.

Give children opportunities to share in the activities and responsibilities of family living. Encourage self-reliance by showing a child where he can get housekeeping materials around the home. Cloths, brushes, pans, baskets, boxes, string, paper, pencils, etc., should be family supplies, easily located and returned. Children will learn to help us check our shopping needs once this homemaking experience has been introduced. Soon, he will consider himself a family member.

Crepe paper poppies made by disabled veterans of the three wars will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers from the auxiliary.

She knew only one word—and that was wrong

The woman with the frightened eyes sat across from Father Flannery desperately trying to tell her story in sign language.

She was a DP, escaped from behind the Iron Curtain. Now in a midwest city, she was seeking her only living relative—a daughter attending a Texas university on a scholarship.

Bad luck had carried her hundreds of miles the wrong way—for all she knew of America was a street address and one English word, the name of a city which in her clouded accent sounded like "Houston".

To Long Distance Operator Joan Gray, Father Flannery explained the problem. Sorry, she reported, there was no such street address in Houston. Dismayed, the priest was about to put the phone down. But Joan Gray was thinking fast . . .

"Suppose we try Austin," she suggested, "the names sound somewhat alike." And Austin it was! Soon a joyous mother was reunited with her daughter.

The story above is true, but names have been changed to protect the privacy of the people in it. Resourceful Joan Gray might be an operator in your town — for this is but one example of the helpful spirit of the men and women behind your telephone service.

To attract and hold good people like Joan Gray, to train them well and provide them with good equipment, your telephone company must have reasonable rates for service. We must stay financially sound to continue to bring valuable telephone service to everyone who needs it . . . to continue to make your telephone worth more than it costs.

Do you know a true telephone story like this? Send it to Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., Omaha, Nebraska.

Sharon Bugge's Essay Wins Week's Trip to Itasca Park

Following is the prize-winning essay on the theme, "Keep Minnesota Green," written by Sharon Bugge, 14, student in Lincoln junior high school, which was one of 20 district winners in a conservation essay contest sponsored by the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs. Sharon will receive as a reward a week's outing at Douglas Lodge in Itasca state park. Her essay follows:

Keep Minnesota Green

Trees, with all their awe-inspiring beauty and grandeur, have always been to me the stately sentinels of nature. Their top most branches towering skyward seem constantly on guard. Yet these proud beauties stand so helplessly before their dreaded foe, fire!

Forests do have other foes—wasteful cutting, insects, and diseases—but fire is the most disastrous, considering all it affects. Many Minnesotans know from experience the disastrous effects of forest fires. The Cloquet and Hinckley fires took not only their toll in timber, but also in human lives.

The most tragic fact about forest fires is that ninety-nine percent of them are man-made. Careless smokers, campers, hunters, and trash burners cause many a ruinous conflagration. It seems odd that one glowing ash can become a raging torrent of flame, but since it can we should be all the more careful.

Innocent grass fires often become forest fires. If grass must be burned it should be done on a day when the sun is not too hot or the wind too strong, and should have pletny of supervision. Grass fires are often needless and harmful. Not only do they cause forest fires, but they also kill the lower roots of the grass permanently and leave the land bare to erosion.

Erosion is often one of the disastrous aftermaths of a forest fire. When a slope is burned bare it becomes the victim of merciless water and wind. Upon this slope gullies may form, which will eat themselves over the slope into the level land below. The precious topsoil that is washed or blown away may end up in a river, where it is called silt. Silt is of no use to mankind. On the contrary, it becomes a detriment to him, building up river beds and causing floods which often take human lives. It fills harbors so that millions of dollars are spent each year for dredging them, or sometimes silt will plug a fine dam and reservoir and render it useless.

Forest fires also take their toll of wildlife each year. During a fire surrounding a river or lake the fish are usually cooked alive or smothered by ashes. Fires also rob birds of their homes and food and kill many other animals.

Vast destruction of timber influences our economic stability and occupational status. It is surprising to note how many of our daily needs come from forests—houses, food, transportation, fuel, paper, wood chemistry products, and countless others. This makes a large business with many outcropping branches. Thousands of people work in forest industries, and many will be jobless if this waste continues.

Our water table is falling lower and lower each year. This is partly due to forest fires, for with fewer forests the runoff water is increased and less in allowed to sink into the soil.

Chances are that most taxpayers have never started a forest fire, but they are paying for them. Higher lumber prices, costly floods, increased erosion costs, and the lower water table are all results of diminishing forests. As was stated before, a burned over area is an ideal place for erosion to begin. This can be prevented by reforestation. Usually erosion begins before the area has a chance to seed itself naturally, so man's duty is to start new roots immediately to hold the soil in place. This not only controls erosion but gives us more timber.

When America was settled, three hundred years ago, we had more than 215,000,000 acres of uncut forest. This supply has dwindled to less than 100,000,000 acres. Fire has done its share of this destruction.

What can we do to stop this shameful waste? First of all, we can always be careful with fire in the woods! But since too few people heed this warning we need more preventative measures. Organizations for fire prevention have been started by forest industries, government agencies, and private organizations. The "Keep America Green" program has spread throughout the whole country and has been very effective.

I have often thought that green must be God's chosen color, for He made it the color of earth's vegetation. Let us not make this color extinct. Rather let us all do our share to Keep Minnesota —and America—Green!

Hot Contest Seen at Dairy Day for Trip to Iowa Show

Exhibitor Showing Best Purebred Heifer to Get Trip to Dairy Congress

The decision of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association to award the grand champion purebred show and an expense paid trip to the Waterloo Dairy Cattle Congress, which will be held at Waterloo, Iowa, October 3rd through 10th, will be one of the highlights and the most hotly contested class of the entire show on Dairy Day, June 9.

This show is fast becoming known, not only in Minnesota but in all the adjoining states as well. Someone has tagged it "Minnesota's Little National Dairy Show." Many new events that will prove interesting to all are planned, and the day will be filled with the kind of entertainment and showmanship that is truly rural America.

Immediately after the completion of judging a new Dairy Princess will be crowned and all the girls in the Dairy Princess contest will be presented to the spectators. This is something new for the 1953 show.

PTA Congress in Minnesota Has Big Membership

The 185,445 membership of the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers as of April 10, 1953, reflects an increase of 21,301, or 12.98 per cent over the same date a year ago, when the membership was 164,144, the organization revealed in its annual membership report.

The number of local associations in the state also increased from 843 to 883 in the past year.

During the past five years, the state membership has increased from 128,130 to the present total of 185,445, and the number of associations from 710 to 883, representing a 44.73 per cent gain in membership and a 24.36 per cent increase in the number of associations.

Rotary Informed about Radio Relay by N. W. Bell Man

Gordon D. Hawkinson of Minneapolis Presents Demonstrations to Club

"High Waves of Communication" was the title of a talk presented by Gordon D. Hawkinson of the executive staff of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, Minneapolis, speaking Monday before the Rotary Club in the Elks club rooms.

Hawkinson described the radio relay system, which is the newest method of transmitting hundreds of long distance telephone calls and network television programs simultaneously from city to city by radio. During the talk he used demonstration equipment to simulate a miniature radio relay system and explained some of the characteristics of the super-short radio waves used to carry the long distance messages and television programs.

Explaining that these super-short waves, or micro-waves as they are called, behave very similarly to lightwaves, the speaker performed various experiments with them. He showed that they were blocked in their passage by a sheet of metal, but that they penetrated wood and paper readily.

In conclusion, Mr. Hawkinson told the group of a new radio relay system from Chicago to the Twin Cities. He said that this system was now under construction and would be ready for operation this summer. It will provide immediately a large number of new communication channels for long distance messages and at some future date will give Minnesota television stations additional network facilities.

2,725 LOSE DRIVING PERMITS DURING APRIL

Driving permits of 855 motorists were revoked during April, while those of another 1,800 were suspended during the month, according to a report issued today by the drivers license division of the Minnesota highway department. Both showed drastic increases over license restrictions imposed in April of last year when 537 revocations and 1,238 suspensions were recommended by the courts.

Argyle Soldier Is Presumed Dead in Korean Fighting

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lindstrom of east of Argyle have received notice that their son, Pfc Floyd A. Lindstrom, is presumed to be killed in action in Korea.

Receiving a letter from Lt. Alvin L. Arnold, it was learned that Pfc. Lindstrom was hit by machine gun fire and later by mortar fire on Jan. 21, 1953 on a patrol action in Korea. The war department lists him as missing, but Lt. Arnold states that he is positive he was killed.

Pfc Lindstrom was born Sept. 1, 1929 in Wright township. He attended rural schools and was graduated from Argyle high school.

The annual last day of school picnic will be held in Dist. 86 at the school house Wednesday May 20.

Fred Ice was awakened at 3 o'clock one night by a queer tapping sound on the north wall of his house. There would be the tapping sound and then scraping on the wall. He couldn't recognize the sound but he said he didn't believe in spooks so that it must be an animal. It went around the house and came around to the door. It was dark and as Fred had no flash light he couldn't see what it was. He opened the door a bit and shot with the 22 but the tapping continued so he decided he'd shot too high, so he shot a little lower. Here he found a skunk with a tin can over his head. The tin can had jagged edges and the poor fellow had put his head in and couldn't withdraw it.

A birthday party was given in honor of Darell Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Anderson Monday for his tenth birthday. Those who helped him celebrate were Mrs. Emmet Finley and children and Mrs. Ben Anderson and Sharon. They had both weiners and marshmallows to roast so the youngsters had a great time.

"BABES IN THE NEWS"

Lee Allen Dybsand was baptized at Sacred Heart in a 60-year-old gown, first used in 1893 by the great aunt, Mrs. Juul Brelle, who held him for the Trinity Lutheran ceremony.—Smallest baby born at St. Cloud hospital tipped the beam at just under 27 ounces—in contrast with an 11-pounder on the Range about the same time.—Not human, but "babies" in the eyes of all pet lovers, are quadruplet lambs born about the same time at Roseau, north, and Chatfield, south.

Thank You
Citizens of Thief River Falls

for your splendid response in the bond issue election Friday. The result was most encouraging and we believe that the objective of the hospital expansion program can now be attained.

In behalf of the more than 600 members of the hospital association we wish to express special appreciation to the individuals and organizations who contributed so much by their efforts toward securing so favorable a vote.

Steps are now being taken to organize for the final solicitation of funds. As the figures now stand we have a federal grant of $419,716.35 and local contributions in the amount of $425,057.10, for a total of $844,773.45. That total is still short of the estimated cost by nearly a hundred thousand dollars.

This amount that must still be raised is large but it does not frighten us because of the many assurances we have had of additional support once we are in a position to offer a specific plan and program.

We Are Elated With What Has Been Accomplished. On the Strength of the Confidence in Our Program that Has Been So Strongly Expressed in Tests of Community Opinion We Are Certain That The Program Will Succeed and that the Expanded Hospital Facilities We All Seek will Become a Reality.

CANDY FOR MARY

By Madge O. Adams

THE folks in our town don't care too much for old John Franklin. He's never done much harm, but he's never been known to do much good either. I guess people feel that way about him because of the practical jokes he sometimes pulls. Otherwise he's harmless.

He batches in the little cottage his mother left him when she died and he fills it with fishing rods and coon dogs.

I don't suppose I'd have ever thought much about John either way if Mary Davis hadn't moved into town. We all watched her pretty close, especially the women. It wasn't because she was pretty, she was too hungry looking for that. But, after all she was a female and she was single and she could have been attractive.

Mary was a widow and she had three small children. She moved into the old house on the back of our lot that rented for practically nothing. She soon had the lawn neatly clipped and the windows shining and a back breaking garden planted.

We were soon charmed by Mary's warm smile and completely won over by her honest eyes. It wasn't long before almost everybody in town was thinking about a romance for Mary.

Bill Simpkins was the most logical man. He runs the general store. He was the most eligible young bachelor in town in his day. Mothers had sat up nights trying to think of ways to snare him for their daughters. I guess that was why he had never married.

He had a big pleasant house, a kind heart and a nice income. He was the perfect man for Mary Davis. Everybody in town agreed on that point.

There was only one hitch. He didn't know she existed. And if she thought anything about him, she never let on.

But there's always somebody who can figure out those kind of things. And it usually is somebody you'd never suspect. Leastwise, this time it was. Nobody ever knew about what really happened but me. I was in the candy store in Cedar City the day Old John Franklin bought a big box of candy. I was down at the far end of the counter and he didn't see me.

At the time I didn't think so much about it. I should have, I guess. John Franklin isn't the kind to buy a big frilly box of candy for anybody—except as a practical joke.

Well, that happened on Saturday. On Monday morning I was hanging out the clothes pretty early. It surprised me a little to see Mary streaking across her front yard trying to catch Bill Simpkins before he could drive off in his car.

She was all smiles and flushes and she looked as pretty as could be right then. Of course I couldn't hear everything they said over the clothes line. But she explained the rest of it to me that afternoon when she came to borrow my steam iron to press her only good dress.

She said Bill had been so shy he had left the box of candy on her doorstep instead of giving it to her personally. She had run out to thank him that next morning. Now he had asked her to go to a movie this very night!

My guess was that he was too kind to tell her the truth and thought that by taking her out it would soften the blow if she ever discovered that somebody had played a joke on her.

Well, anyway, it wasn't long before he was taking her to the movies regularly. And the first thing we knew he'd bought a ring! Everybody in town was invited to the wedding.

I couldn't be sure about John Franklin until the day of the wedding. I kept wondering to myself, had he sent that big frilly box of candy to Mary as a practical joke or as a gentle nudge to Bill? But I had my answer when I looked into his face as Mary walked down the isle. He was the most satisfied looking man in the church!

My mother used to say: You never know what a man's really like, underneath.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

Minneapolis held a city primary election last week, but one would hardly know it by the number of people who turned out to vote.

Only 69,774 voters—the lowest number in 30 years—took the time to go to the polls. This incredibly small turnout has set politicoes to wondering what, if anything, this augurs for the 1954 elections. It could mean, some feel, that there is a loose political drift that could seriously affect next year's trends.

The small vote, representing only 25 per cent of the city's 275,996 registered voters, heavily favored all incumbents and threw almost no light on the relative strength of the two major parties.

Causes of Low Interest

There are several plausible explanations of why the interest in the primary was so low. For one thing, there were no especially exciting personalities seeking election, and aldermanic contests did not develop into the rough-and tumble affairs that many had predicted because most candidates were playing it safe by not stirring up the issues.

Some detected a sense of voters' despair over ever making an effective attack on the city's numerous problems. Hamstrung by an obsolescent city charter, forever subject to legislative interference in municipal operations, Minneapolis finds itself—in many crucial respects—unable to design a meaningful program for civic betterment.

Still others attribute the low interest to the psychological letdown following he excitement of last November's Presidential election. This group sees the voters as generally content with local conditions—despite the constant annoyance of the transit problem—and, consequently, are not interested in expressing any particular protest.

Partisan Elections?

In this context the old question is raised again as to whether the city and state would be better served if municipal elections were placed on a partisan basis instead of being non-partisan as at present.

If they were partisan, the municipal elections would give the major political parties an increased opportunity for rallying the party faithful and for developing new potential statewide leaders during the months between state and national elections.

The argument against partisan municipal elections is that local issues are different from state and national issues in that they are basically non-partisan in character. But, with both city and county elections—as well as legislative contests—non-partisan, Minnesota parties do not have a very extensive field for operations, and, in the end, they do not serve as very effective agencies for the development of political leaders or for the sharpening of crucial issues.

Election Law Revision

This column has frequently pointed to the need for a complete and thorough overhauling of our state election laws. We have cumbersomely long ballots at both the state and local levels. We have a confusing mixture of partisan and non-partisan positions. Our primary system extends an open invitation to all manner of unqualified persons to seek offices without any kind of organized support.

Then, too, there is the farcial provision concerning campaign expense in the corrupt practices act. A candidate for governor, for example, is limited by state law to spending not more than $7,000 in his campaign. Of course, there is spent in his behalf anywhere from $25,000 to $100,000 in a typical campaign, and all manner of disguises and misrepresentations are used to pretend that the candidate has stayed within the law.

One expert has called this operation "an open invitation to perjury." The revision of our election laws is a growing need and ought to command the careful study and scrutiny of the next legislative session.

Wants "Best Foe"

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, taking note of the Republican efforts to find a candidate to oppose him next year, said last week that he hoped the GOP would run its "Best candidate" against him, in order to provide for the best jointing of the issues and the most illuminating campaign.

Only new development in the Republicans' campaign last week was the report that aides of President Eisenhower were urging Congressman Walter H. Judd to announce himself for the candidacy. But Judd has made no comment other than to say he is needed in the House, which is not taken as closing out the possibility of his making the race for Senate.

GOP Scuttlebutt

Making the grapevine are reports that the liberal Republican group in the state legislature is planning a major break with their more conservative colleagues, presumably preparing for a break in the 1954 legislative campaigns. Such a development would take the form of a fight over Majority Leader Roy E. Dunn and would seek to put legislative control in the hands of the younger and more liberal contingent among the Republicans. Behind this talk is a deeper cleavage between the Party's two wings, but harmony for campaign purposes has always been achieved in the past.

Memorial Day Services Set for Elks Park

Procession at 10:45 to Precede Exercises Slated for 11 o'clock

Commercial activities will come to a halt in Thief River Falls and thruout the nation on Memorial Day Saturday, May 30, when citizens will pause to pay tribute to service men who gave their lives for their country.

In this city a procession will form at the municipal Auditorium at 10:45 a. m., and will proceed north on Main av. to Third st. and then east to the Elks park, where memorial services are scheduled to start at 11 o'clock. The speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Hubert N. Dukes, minister of the Federated church at Grand Forks.

Gordon H. Nohre, commander of Ecklund-Holmstrom post of the American Legion, will preside over the exercises, which will open with a selection by the Legion municipal band, followed by the invocation by the Rev. J. O. Jacobsen and a vocal solo by Miss Marilyn Johnson.

After Mr. Dukes' address, Arthur A. Johnson will offer a tribute to the Unknown Soldier, and symbolic wreaths will be placed by Mrs. Ernest LaCoe of the VFW auxiliary and Mrs. John Lang of the Legion auxiliary. A salute to the colors will be offered by members of Company F of the National Guard.

The band will play the Star Spangled Banner, followed by a solo, America the Beautiful, sung by Duane Rafteseth, the benediction by Rev. Jacobsen, taps sounded by Linda Wold and the echo by Gene Bratsch.

Included in the line of march of Saturday's parade will be the same units as in past years, including the Marine Corps league color guard, the Legion municipal band, Gold Star mothers, members of the American Legion and VFW posts and their auxiliary units and the Boy and Girl Scouts.

The exercises are sponsored jointly by the local posts of the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Marine Corps league. In the event of unfavorable weather, the program will be conducted in the municipal Auditorium.

Packed Auditorium Hears M. W. Thatcher Endorse Full Parity

Th[illegible]um was packed to cap[illegible]y evening with wel[illegible]0 Farmers Union ad[illegible]embled to hear an ad[illegible] W. Thatcher, gen[illegible] of the Farmers U[illegible] Terminal associa[illegible]eran leader in agri[illegible]airs.

[illegible]ram opened with a concert by the Lincoln [illegible]ol band, directed by [illegible] Harmon. Carl R. Anderson, chairman of the Pennington county Farmers Union, called on Mayor Harry E. Simons to extend a welcome to the gathering.

Russell Schwandt, secretary of the Minnesota Farmers Union, introduced Edwin Christianson of Gully, president of the state organization, who spoke briefly.

Mr. Thatcher, who spoke for an hour and a half, declared that farm prices are made in Washington, and that there is no longer any question concerning the need for support prices on farm commodities. The only question, he said, is at what level to support prices, and he is in favor of 100 per cent.

The speaker suggested that grain surpluses resulting from guaranteed high prices could be disposed of by donating them to the needy nations of the world, which he said would help halt Communism.

Thatcher criticized Secretary of Agriculture Benson for advocating flexible price supports, as well as the national administration for turning tidelands oil back to the states.

He also criticized the practice of permitting imports of grain from Canada with its resultant depressing effect on U. S. markets.

Following the program, lunch was served in the Civic and Commerce rooms.

Judges Named for Princess Contest June 9

More Than 30 4-H Girls from 11 Counties in Area Will Be in Competition

Throughout Northwestern Minnesota, contests are being held or have been held to determine the entries for the Northwest Dairy Day crown of Dairy Princess to be decided on Dairy Day in Thief River Falls June 9. Frank Riley, princess chairman, announces that his committee has secured the services of John Howard, University of North Dakota band director, Grand Forks; Pearl Hutton, Land O'Lakes home economist, Minneapolis, and Tres Goetting, advertising executive, Minneapolis, to act as judges for the contest.

The honor of being crowned Dairy Day Princess not only entitles the winner to rule for one year, but the princess also acts as a good-will ambassador for Northwest Dairy Day. During the year, she attends such functions as the Minnesota state fair, the Red River Valley Winter Shows and also numerous county fairs. In addition to an all-expense trip to the state fair, the Dairy Princess is given a beautiful set of luggage as a gift from the committee.

The 33 competing candidates, including three from each of 11 Northwest counties, will be entertained at a noon luncheon at the Legion club in Thief River Falls where the judging will take place. Also included in the parade will be dairy floats and a number of bands.

In addition to the princess contest is the all-important dairy calf show with over 200 entries expected from eleven Northwest counties for this 4th annual Dairy Day. Seven different dairy breeds are represented and the best grade animal is judged the winner with its owner receiving as his award a purebred dairy calf. Prizes are also awarded to the best purebred animal in the show, for showmanship championship and to the various breed champions. In addition to this, every participant in the dairy calf show is awarded a show halter, jacket, grooming kit, or dairy scale, depending on the number of years of competition.

Another outstanding event scheduled for Dairy Day is the annual banquet to be served to approximately 400 exhibitors, princess contestants, county agents, and creamery operators in St. Bernard's dining hall June 9 at 6 p. m. Mother & Son Get Verdicts Against City

Mrs. Ruth Anderson and Son Awarded $10,800 in Snowplow Mishap in '52

After deliberating from 3 p. m. until 10:45 last Wednesday, a petit jury in Pennington county district court returned a verdict awarding James Ronal Anderson $7,000 damages in a suit brought by Floyd W. Dalzell as his guardian against the city of Thief River Falls and Clifford Engebretson.

In a companion case, the jury awarded damages of $3,800 to the boy's mother, Mrs. Ruth Anderson, against the same defendants. The plaintiffs had sued for a total of about $19,000.

No decision has yet been reached as to whether the verdict will be appealed or other legal action resorted to by the defendants, it was announced.

The action was brought as the outgrowth of leg injuries sustained by the Anderson child when he got caught in a sidewalk snowplow operated by Engebretson for the city January 22, 1952. He was seven years old at the time of the accident. Nearly a dozen witnesses were called upon to testify in the case.

Jurors were dismissed following disposition of the Anderson cases, other actions calling for jury consideration having been either settled out of court, continued over the term or to be tried without a jury.

Settled or to be settled out of court were the cases of Andrew Torgerson vs. Henry J. Hanson and Clifford S. Olson; State of Minnesota vs. Selmer Erickson et al. and Oscar Manderud et al.; and Madeline Radville vs. Melvin Wirak.

Continued over the term were the cases of Donald M. Thomas vs. C. M. Adkins and Northwestern Hospital assn.; and two cases involving Marilyn J. Olsen and her father, Russell E. Olsen, vs. John Rakowski et al.

The case of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Co. vs. Sterling Thom was set as a court case, and the action of J. C. Koelin vs. Henry C. Wyman was dismissed.

At the afternoon session a memorial service was conducted by the Rev. Eva Peet.

Mrs. Fred Van de Walker, of St. Paul, state president, delivered the main address. She discussed Christian citizenship, stating that voters who cast their ballots for legislators who "play ball" with the liquor interests are to blame for bad legislation.

A Pearl speech contest was held and the medal was awarded to Barbara Larson of Wannaska for her selection, Mrs. Van de Walker making the presentation.

This year for the first time, the exercises will be conducted in the spacious high school gymnasium, which has a considerably larger capacity than the Lincoln auditorium.

Speaker for the occasion will be F. E. Heinemann, director of graded elementary and secondary schools with the state department of education. Short talks also will be given by Yvonne Newland, valedictorian, and Mary Ann Borchert and Barbara Bjorkman, co-salutatorians.

The program will open with the processional march played by the Lincoln high school band, directed by Robert S. Harmon, and two selections will be given by the high school chorus, directed by Frank Summerside.

Following Mr. Heinemann's address, Kalmer Ostby, principal, will present the class to Lloyd M. Bennes, president of the board of education, who will confer the diplomas. Supt. W. G. Claffy, who will preside, will confer certificates to graduates of the teacher training department, as well as scholarships. The program will close with the recessional march.

Members of the graduating class appeared in cap and gown for the first time Sunday evening at baccalaureate services in the school auditorium, a near capacity audience being present in spite of rainy weather.

The Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, who delivered the sermon to the class, told his hearers that those who have the treasure of faith in God need not fear the future. He said [illegible] treasures beyond the imagination, but that it includes the bad as well as the good.

He discussed the philosophy of automatic progress that was popular in the early part of this century, and he warned the graduating class of the fallacy of the theory, pointing out that the future will not take care of their problems automatically. They must, he said, use the right key, which is faith in Christ.

The program opened with the processional march played by Miss Janet Nelson, pianist, following which the high school chorus rendered two selections. The singing by the audience of two hymns, the benediction and the recessional march completed the program.

2nd Diphtheria Shots Are Now Due for Pre-schoolers

Should be Brought to Family Doctor at Once, School Nurse States

Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, today reminded parents of pre-school children that it is now time for the children to receive their second diphtheria-tetanus-whooping cough shots.

She said that among the 192 children who registered at the recent pre-school health roundup there were 50 who had never previously been immunized, and these will require the series of three shots. The first was given at Northrop school April 25, and the second shot is now due.

Mrs. Race asked that parents make appointments with their own doctors immediately, and that they remember the date of the third shot, which is due four weeks after the second one.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

THE VETERAN ASKS:

(This service is based on questions asked at Veterans Administration Offices in the State. Answers are supplied by VA.)

Q: Is it still possible for a disabled World War II veteran to start training under Public Law 16?

A: Yes. However, under the law, he may only take training that can be completed by July 25, 1956, the termination date of the World War II Public Law 16 training program.

Q: I am planning to take graduate college training under the Korean GI Bill. What does VA consider as full-time training at that level?

A: At the graduate level, there are no minimum number of hours that are required. Instead, VA will accept the word of a responsible official of your school who certifies that you are pursuing your training on a full-time basis, in residence.

Q: I am entitled to three years of training under the Korean GI Bill, and I'd like to train on-the-job. The program I've chosen is not an apprenticeship. Are there any time limits set by the law on job training?

A: Yes. Under the law, the job you are training for must require a period of training of not less than three months and not more than two years. These limits do not apply to apprenticeships.

Mother earth and we her children participate in six separate and distinct movements in space—besides all those started for various purposes here on the surface.

We are incline to laugh at alchemy and other ancient foibles, but as recently as 1822 the United States Congress was petitioned to support thorough exploration of what was believed then to be the inhabited interior of the earth.

It is believed that a process of flushing, with water or gas, will produce many billions of gallons of oil from presently abandoned wells.

CONGRESSIONAL QUIZ

Q—Is Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, new Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the first woman to hold a cabinet post?

A—No, she is the second. Miss Frances Perkins was Secretary of Labor under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Q—What has been proposed for the government-owned rubber plants?

A—President Eisenhower recommended to Congress April 14, that the $550 million rubber plants under government ownership be sold to private industry. He said the disposal must be in line with three objectives: The facilities should return to the government "their full fair value;" they should be disposed of in a manner that would insure the public and fabricators "the benefits of fair competition;" and they should be sold "on such terms as will guarantee their ready availability . . . in time of emergency."

Q—What procedure is required for amending the U. S. Constitution?

A—The Constitution itself states in Article V: "The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress . . ."

Q—Could a Constitutional amendment be proposed and ratified without a vote of Congress?

A—According to the American Law Section of the Library of Congress, this is an academic question since all amendments so far have been proposed by Congress. However, the legal specialists said even if Congress did not propose the amendment and the alternative method for proposing an amendment — by Constitutional convention — were employed, the Congress probably would have to vote on a resolution to submit the amendment proposed by Constitutional Convention to the states for ratification.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Resolution For The Season

Spring is with us again; soon it will be summer, and with the outdoor season come those glorious sunny days that stand out in our own childhood memories. As parents, are you thinking about how to help your boy and girl make the most of the outdoor freedom which will be theirs for the next few months?

Of course, there should be some time when a child just does what he feels like doing. The times of "doing nothing," of "sitting and inviting one's soul" are valuable times for the youngster; he needs to use some time just in "being," without feeling pressed always to be "doing."

Then, too, he needs some time to be doing whatever the rest of his friends are doing. Ball games, picnics, rough-housing, sitting around and talking — these too are rightful parts of the childhood years.

In days like these, though, when more and more entertainment is available for children to consume without having any real part of their own in the process, it is important for parents to help children keep alive interest in doing things through their own efforts. The ready-made kite is not the same thing as the one the boy makes for himself, with a little important help perhaps from a parent to get past a difficult part of the process.

The contribution parents can make is a vital one. Children need to have encouragement and appreciation if they are to learn the joys of using their own initiative, tapping their own originality, and enjoying the fruits of their own creativity. Be sure you're making the most of your opportunities to build in your children pride and satisfaction in their achievements.

Chet Matthews, flying the Thief River Falls Flying Club Aeronca, took George Bell to Grand Forks on Thursday to catch the North Central Airlines plane for Minneapolis.

On Thursday morning Chris Kierk took Clara to Grand Forks in the Luscombe, where she also boarded the North Central Airlines plane for Minneapolis. She flew via Northwest Airlines from Minneapolis to Chicago, and from there she flew on the Constellation to Greenville, Mississippi, where she is visiting at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs William Lewis, and making the acquaintance of her new grandson. She left Grand Forks at seven a. m., and was in Greenville at eight p. m.

Chris flew the Luscombe to Bemidji on Monday, taking Erwin Larson from Blackduck, who is employed by the J. W. Craig Company on the runway project, there to attend a funeral.

The runway surfacing is progressing nicely and, according to those in the know, should be completed within a week or two if weather conditions remain favorable.

Mrs. Art Burke, Jr., who is taking Clara's place in the Coffee Bar in her absence, announces that the cafe will be open on Memorial Day and dinner will be served starting at noon.

Physical Therapy Area Planned for Hospital Addition

Will Be of Much Benefit to Polio and Arthritis Sufferers, Says Peterson

One of the new service units planned for the Northwestern Hospital addition is a physical therapy area, said Harold W. Peterson, administrator. This is a facility that should be of great benefit to persons who have suffered from any form of infantile paralysis, arthritis, bone and muscle injuries, he said.

The plans for the physical therapy area will include a small waiting room, an examination room, two treatment and massage tables, a hydrotherapy area equipped with a whirlpool bath and paraffin arm bath, and an exercise room. The exercise room will be equipped with a 5 by 7 foot 4-inch thick exercise mat, folding parallel bars, shoulder wheels, head sling apparatus, a wrist and arm exerciser, dumb bells, a bar bell assembly for arm and shoulder exercises, stall bars and triplex pulley weights. In addition, this unit will be equipped with diathermy units, a galvanic unit for electrical treatments, infra-red lamps and ultra-violet lamps of both the general and local types.

This facility will be very comparable to the one now existent in St. Michael's Hospital in Grand Forks, said Peterson. It is believed that when people of this area once see the equipment that will be furnished and the uses to which it can be put for the purposes of rehabilitation of the physically handicapped, that there will be an increasing development of physical therapy in Thief River Falls, since it will no longer be necessary for people to pay the additional expense of going to other communities for these treatments.

Farm Products Buy More Machinery Than In 1939

Farm commodities are worth more now in terms of machinery for the farm than they were in 1939 according to a survey made by Allis-Chalmers. The tractors and other equipment are greatly improved over 14 years ago, with greater work capacity engineered into them.

Charts shown are based on average prices during the first week of March, 1939 and 1953, using United States Department of Agriculture reported averages, and factory prices of machinery. Tractors, plows, and small combines are used for comparison as being typical machinery examples found most everywhere.

County and City Get Awards for Traffic Safety Record in '52

An interesting program at the Civic and Commerce association dinner meeting last Thursday evening in the Elks club rooms included the presentation of traffic safety awards for 1952 to Pennington county and the city of Thief River Falls, and the appearance of a special guest, attractive Marlene Jensen of Ada, Northwest Dairy Princess.

The nearly 90 members present at the meeting also heard a report by Stuart McLeod on plans for the 1953 Dairy Day, here June 9, and participated in a discussion of plans for better accommodating Canadian visitors in this city.

Presented by Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, chairman of the Pennington county safety council, A. W. Luecke, executive secretary of the Minnesota safety council, presented to Odin Hanson, chairman of the county board, a handsome plaque in recognition of the excellent traffic safety record made by Pennington county in 1952, winning first honors in its population class.

Luecke also presented two plaques to Mayor Harry E. Simons, one because of the city of Thief River Falls ending 1952 with no pedestrian fatalities, and the other a national award for traffic safety in its population class. This city is now well along in its fifth consecutive year without a traffic fatality, according to records in the office of Police Chief Ken Judy.

Stuart McLeod, chairman of Northwest Dairy Day, commended the officials of the state and 120 local business places for their financial support of the event. He said that 4-H club members thruout the area are now busily engaged in preparing their calves for exhibition, and added that all entries must be in by June 1.

Marlene Jensen, who was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen of Ada, and who was attired in a pretty evening gown and wore her crown, was presented by McLeod and spoke briefly, saying that her reign during the past year has been a wonderful experience. She has made numerous public appearances, including at the state fair last August, and with Governor C. Elmer Anderson last week when she helped proclaim June Dairy Month.

In the C. & C. business session, Wallace Tunberg reported for the aeronautics committee that plans are being developed for the dedication of the municipal airport with a two-day program July 25 and 26, with a Flying Farmers get-together set for the 25th and the dedication program the following day. He said the committee hopes to have a B26 bomber and a helicopter on display.

Mayor Simons reported that efforts are being made to obtain the release of federal funds previously allocated for airport lights here and later frozen, and he expressed the hope that the money may be made available shortly so that bids can be called for this summer.

The matter of making better arrangements for accommodating Canadian visitors when they visit this city in large numbers on national holidays, as was the case May 20-22, was brought up for discussion, and a variety of suggestions was made.

President L. A. Ihle, who conducted the program, was instructed to appoint a committee to make plans for entertainment and other facilities for Canadians on the occasion of the next week-end holiday to be enjoyed by citizens of that country. The group will work in cooperation with the tourist committee headed by Ward Nichols.

Pioneer Memorial Home at Erskine Plans '53 Meeting

Fourth Annual Meeting to Be Held at Erskine Friday Evening, June 5

The Pioneer Memorial Home Association, Erskine, will hold its fourth annual meeting at the home on Friday evening, June 5, at 8 o'clock. All members of the association are urged to attend. Those who have donated five dollars, or more during the past year are considered members.

The home can look back upon a very successful year. From a very modest beginning in 1948 it has grown to its present impressive size, with modern state-approved equipment. At present there are 62 guests filling the home to capacity.

All the members of the association are urged to attend the above meeting said Nels Lindau, secretary. The public is cordially invited to visit and inspect this institution and support it by their gifts and good will. Refreshments will be served after the above meeting.

Annual Meeting of Garden Valley Phone Co. June 2

Stockholders of the Garden Valley Telephone Company will conduct their annual meeting at the city hall at Erskine, at 1:30 p. m. on Tuesday, June 2. The meeting is being held for the purpose of electing three directors to fill the vacancies which normally occur each year and to hear reports on the affairs of the company.

The directors whose terms expire this year are Herbert Larson of Fertile, J. K. Halverson of McIntosh and Walter E. Day of Bagley. As the board is organized at present, Mr. Day is the president and Mr. Halverson the treasurer of the company.

With the big reconstruction program that is ahead of the company, the board of directors urges that stockholders attend in large numbers not only to become informed as to matters concerning the future of the company but to express their views as well.

Tent Caterpillars

It seems that the tent caterpillar situation is not as bad as was earlier expected. I have checked several places where there was a heavy infestation last year and have been able to find only a few egg masses or bunches of newly hatched worms. The cold wet weather the past couple of weeks has slowed their development considerably. If a check of your grove shows an infestation heavy enough to justify spraying you should do so immediately. This week should be ideal for good control in Pennington county.

Air craft spraying may be obtained at the Thief River Falls airport. You can also do a fairly satisfactory job with a regular field weed sprayer by equipping this with a gun type nozzle attachment and using high pressure. Small trees and your farm yard area can be sprayed this way. This same equipment works very well for livestock and barn spraying. Recommended solution is two quarts of 25% DDT emulsion to 100 gallons of water.

Pocket Gophers

Are pocket gophers doing a lot of damage in your alfalfa field? If so, I would like to suggest that you try poison to get rid of them. They can also be controlled by trapping or fumigation but stomach poison is most effective and can be obtained with the least labor and expense. The recommended bait formula consists of 1/8 ounce of sodium bicarbonate, 1/8 ounce of powdered strychnia alkoloid, and 1/80 ounce saccaharin. This should be sprinkled lightly over pieces of potatoes or carrots ½ in square, 1 and ½ to three inches long. Two or three pieces of this bait should be placed in each hole near two or three mounds at the new end of the runway. After placing the bait the mounds should be scraped level. The main runway can be discovered by using a small rod and probing near the square side of the mound. Some precautions to take: First, do not use too much poison as this will cause the gophers to throw it up so it will not kill them. A few crystals on each piece of bait is all that is necessary. Second, in placing the poison make sure that no light gets into the runway or the gopher will plug the hole and remember the poison mixture is dangerous.

Warroad Mother Saves 5 Children in Burning Home

Braving a cloud of dense smoke, a Warroad farm mother May 19 rescued her five small children shortly before flames levelled the house.

Mrs. Floyd Milender was helping her husband do chores in the barn when she saw smoke coming from an upstairs window of the house. Racing up the already fume-filled stairway she carried the children, ranging in age from three weeks to 4½ years, to safety.

Her husband, aided by neighbors, managed to carry out much of the family's furniture and household goods. Milender said the loss was only partially covered by insurance. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

The Milender family temporarily is living in a trailer house loaned by a neighbor.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT—MONDAY

Slaughter Cattle and Calves

Most slaughter cattle sold weak to lower here today. Declines in extremes on steers measured 50c from last week's close, this downturn usually being suffered by kinds scaling above 1,150 lbs. Lightweight slaughter steers and all yearling steers and heifers were steady to weak. Liberal waterfills today, however, tended to soften the decline and this was also true on cows where losses of mostly 50c from last week's close were uncovered. Bulls were fairly active and fully steady and vealers showed no change. It was largely a steer and heifer run, fully 70 percent of supplies consisting of those two classes. Quality did not quite measure up to a week ago, there being a larger percentage of Good grade, but quite a few steers and heifers ranged up to the middle of the Choice grade. Cows accounted for about 25 percent of the crop, while stockers and feeders made up a scant 5 percent. Demand for replacement cattle was rather listless at about steady prices.

STEERS AND HEIFERS: Two consignments Choice to mostly Prime 1,189 to 1,277 lb. slaughter steers cashed at $23.00, the day's top. There were several lots average-Choice light and medium weight steers at $22.50, while bulk Good and Choice steers and yearlings moved at $19.50-$22.00. A load of Choice to Prime 1,409 lb. steers brought $21.50 and a short load of Choice to Prime 1,301 lb. offerings brought $22.25. There were several large consignments of Good grade steers ranging in weight from 1,100 lbs. to 1,250 lbs. at $19.50. High-Choice 751 lb. heifers cashed at $22.00 and several loads average-Choice mixed yearling steers and heifers cleared at $22.00 also. Bulk Good and Choice heifers sold at $19.00-$21.00 and a range of $16.50-18.00 took commercial steers and heifers. Utility grade kinds moved at $14.00-16.00.

COWS: On early rounds beef cows were subjected to considerable pressure, but it was not long until all grades suffered full 50c downturns. Utility and Commercial cows bulked at $12.50-14.50, a few young light-weight cows reaching $15.00 early in the day. Canners and Cutters cleared at $10.00-12.00.

Why gas dollars go so far in the FORD SIX

No Six-cylinder engine in any car at any price reduces gas-wasting engine friction so effectively as Ford's high-compression Mileage Maker Six! The main reason for this is that the pistons travel a shorter distance for every mile you travel. This means that less of the gas you buy goes to overcome piston friction (the major cause of engine friction). Ford Mileage Maker Six economy was proved conclusively in the recent Mobilgas Economy Run. A Mileage Maker Six, with Overdrive, won the economy Sweepstakes over all other cars regardless of size or weight. This is the first time in the history of this event a low-priced car has won!

Prowler Baseball Team Notches up 2 More Victories

Defeat Oslo Team 12-6 and Alvarado 5 to 0; Crookston Here Monday

Coach Ralph Skjod's baseball Prowlers increased their winning streak to five games during the week by recording a pair of victories over Marshall county clubs. Except for a game with Crookston here on Monday afternoon, June 1st, at 4:15 p. m., the locals will be idle until the district tournament, which is scheduled for the Crookston park the week of June 8th. The Prowler coach is attempting to fill a pair of open dates that remain on the locals' schedule, realizing that the Prowlers require some top-notch competition.

Playing at Oslo last Wednesday afternoon, the Prowlers, giving up three runs in the 1st inning and another three-run cluster in the 2nd inning, trailed by a 6 to 4 score. The locals, taking advantage of several Oslo misplays, and driving Oslo's Larson off the mound, racked up five runs in the 4th inning. Sid Vraa, the Prowlers' righthander, hurled shutout ball after the 2nd frame.

In one of the best high school games that has been played on the Fair Grounds diamond, the Prowlers, by a 5 to 0 score, defeated coach Charley Pickens' Alvarado here Friday afternoon. Oliver Danielson, a right-handed batter, led off for Alvarado to open the game and he sliced a single into right field, and that blow proved to be the only hit that Alvarado was able to collect off the southpaw slants of the Prowlers' Leroy Aasland. The Prowler lefty whiffed eleven batters.

Alvarado's righthanded Ekman, with a good fast ball, was also stingy with hits, giving the locals but four safeties. In the 4th inning, Cal Vraa belted one of Ekman's pitches over the left field fence for a homerun.

The line scores:

		R	H	E
T. R. Falls	311 501 2	12	10	3
Oslo	330 000 0	6	3	7

Batteries—R. Vraa and Hoppe; Larson, Hanson and Quern.

T. R. Falls	101 120 x	5	4	2

Batteries—Ekman and Malm; Aasland and Hoppe.

They Beat Julius

Seventeen local golfers each paid the one dollar entry to participate in the National Golf Day competition, matching their scores, with handicap, against that of national open champion Julius Boros. Vic Jung, Bob Harman, Gene Bratsch, and Phil LeGault all bettered the 37-33 score that Boros marked up while playing over Pennsylvania's Oakmont course, and they will be awarded an "I Beat Boros" medal.

We'll go along with Jung's scores of 38-38, which, with a 7 handicap, gave him a 69; and with Bob Harmon's 41-42, less a 14 handicap, for a 69; and Gene Bratsch's pair of 43's, which, with a handicap of 22, gave the Prowler golf team member a net of 64. But it's probable that there will be recount on Phil LeGault's 66, which was gained by shooting a 44 and a 39, less a handicap of 17. Phil's 44 score is normal for the lefthander, but his 39, which was carded under conditions more difficult than when he scored the 44, is open to suspicion. We'll find out about that 39 score when we begin to use that figure for handicaps in our bingo-bango games with Phil.

We see by the paper that 9,972 golfers, including a six-year old boy and a pair of one-armed golfers, beat Boros in the Golf Day competition, so it's believable that a well-muscled southpaw like Phil could do the same. We'll wager he'll have that medal of his enlarged to pie-plate size.

For the Record

We've learned that Lyle Westrum, of the baseball playing Westrums of Clearbrook, has been optioned by the Birmingham Barons of the Class AA Southern Association to the Binghamton club of the Class A Eastern League. Both teams, though, are members of the New York Yankees organization.

While the rains washed away the accomplishments of Thieves vs. Viking game after three innings of play at Viking on Sunday, we should record that Swede Lund and Jack Hoppe, in the 2nd inning, hoisted home runs over the right field fence. Both of the home runs, off the righthanded pitching of Paul Erickson, were solidly hit. It's worth the mention, too, to relate that in the 1st inning, Viking's Neal Knutson, a fine ball player, made a clean steal of home.

Jerry Zavoral and Jack Pederson came into town on Sunday with a string of back-breaking northern pike. We put a scale on the largest of the fish, and the pike pulled the needle down to the eighteen and a half pound mark. Jerry, with an agreeing nod from Jack, maintained that the northerns were caught in the Blackduck river.

They're a Ball Team

The suspicion is gaining foundation that coach Ralph Skjod has a Prowler baseball team. The Prowlers, with fine fielding, strong hitting, and first class pitching, are, to date, undefeated in conference play and favored to win the district 31 title in the tournament that will be played at Crookston in ten days.

It's not strange that the Prowlers are producing capable baseball for most of the boys are playing in the Red River Valley and Northern Minny leagues. Jack Hoppe, Sid Vraa, Joey Poole, Duane Rafteseth, and LeRoy Aasland are members of the Thieves in the Valley loop; and Mike Hajostek, Larry Gilbertson, Hank Hallstrom, and Cal Vraa are playing with Nicky Drees' St. Hilaire Saints in the Northern Minny. And, of course, these boys received some valuable experience while playing with Irv Wilson's Bums of the Pennington County league the past two years.

The Prowlers will be playing the Crookston high school Pirates here on Monday afternoon, June 1st, and local ball fans should make it a date to be at the Fair Grounds at 4:15 p. m. when the game gets under way.

North Six and Pennington Schedule

The North Six baseball league schedule for Sunday, May 31st, will find Grygla at Clover, Goodridge at Gully, and Trail at Weme.

The five-team Pennington County league, with Radium, Smiley, Carpenters, Rocksbury, and Viking having teams, will have Radium playing at Viking and Smiley playing at Rocksbury on its Sunday schedule.
